Yank Yacht Wins

NEWPORT, R.I. (AP)—Constellation, the U.S. defender in the America's Cup yacht competition, defeated Sovereign, the British challenger, by an overwhelming margin today in the first race of the current competition.

Constellation got off to a thrilling start.

Robert Bavier Jr. of Darien, Conn., helmsman of the Constellation, outpointed his rivals at the start and drove the defender between the Sovereign and the committee boat for what one veteran said was the "most exciting start in the modern history of the cup."

The two 12-metre yachts crossed the starting line at the America's Cup buoy in Rhode Island Sound off Newport at about 12:34 p.m. EDT. Constellation edged into a favorable position to the windward of her rival as they manoeuvred in gentle swells coming up to the line and took a slight lead at the start.

Weather conditions were excellent, with a southwest breeze of about 10 knots and a gentle swell on the water.

Bavier got the Constellation off in a far superior windward position over the blue-hulled Sovereign with Peter Scott at the helm.

BEHIND GUN

The two craft were about 20 seconds behind the opening gun in getting over the starting line.

The spectator fleet was only around 200 compared to more than 2,000 here two years ago when the U.S. won the Cup for the 19th time as America's Weatherly beat Australia's Gretel.

Bavier slid his boat a full length ahead and four lengths to the favorable windward position within five minutes of the start of the six-leg, 24-mile course.

They race a triangular course first, then three parallel courses with the last heading into the wind which was blowing from the west southwest.

Result of the first race was considered a good indication whether Britain has a chance of winning the cup for the first time in 113 years. The series is the best four-out-of-seven races.

Pr. George To Get PGE Headquarters

WHITE HORSE, Y.T. (CP)—Premier Bennett said Monday operational headquarters for the British Columbia government-owned Pacific Great Eastern Railway will be moved to Prince George from Vancouver.

The premier told reporters the move is part of a program to streamline the operation of the railway.

Mr. Bennett also said that the railway is conducting economic studies into possible extension of the line 300 miles to Fort Nelson from Fort St. John.

Mr. Bennett said the moving of the operational headquarters, scheduled for next fall, is at the recommendation of J. S. Broadbent, general manager of the PGE.

He said Prince George, where a new station is to be built at the railway's industrial park, is the centre of the PGE's operation. By moving operation control there the railway's efficiency would be improved.

Executive offices would remain in Vancouver.

Flag 'Truce' Broken By Skirmishes on TV

By KEN KELLY

OTTAWA (CP) — Broadcasts by Prime Minister Pearson and Opposition Leader Diefenbaker appear to have brought the flag issue to a new boiling point.

On the eve of appointment of a Commons committee to find a compromise flag design, Opposition Leader Diefenbaker implied in a CBC broadcast that the maple leaf symbol—the chief feature of the government's proposed flag design—has no place on a distinctive flag.

At the same time, he sharply criticized Prime Minister Pearson for saying on a CBC broadcast Sunday that Canada will have a flag by Christmas based on the maple leaf symbol.

T. C. Douglas, New Democratic leader, in the House today urged a moratorium on predictions as to what the flag committee will recommend on the design for a new flag.

The flag committee, which may be named today, was agreed upon among party leaders to end the long Commons wrangle over the government's proposed design of three red maple leaves on a white ground with a vertical blue bar at each edge.

Mr. Diefenbaker reiterated the position he has stated for the Progressive Conservatives—the 15-member flag committee must reach virtual unanimity, at least 13 members, on the design.

He also renewed earlier appeals for a plebiscite but added the suggestion that all Canadians 18 years and over be permitted to vote in it.

'FLAG BY CHRISTMAS'

Mr. Diefenbaker said that Mr. Pearson, after promising a free and unfettered Commons committee, told his Sunday audience he wanted "a flag on which there will be a maple leaf, and I am going to get that flag by Christmas."

"Now I have no objection to a maple leaf," Mr. Diefenbaker said. "I don't criticize it as a symbol of the country—but can you tell me any country in the world that ever put a symbol on its flag. Do we have a British lion on the Union Jack? Do

Overpasses Cleared For VIP Cavalcade

VANCOUVER (CP) — Prime Minister Pearson and President Johnson will whisk at 60 miles an hour between here and Blaine, Wash., Wednesday.

Officials said today that during that time all traffic will be cleared from the Deas Island throughway between here and the border.

At the same time about 20 overpasses and pedestrian walks across the throughway will be kept clear by some of the 200 RCMP on duty with undisclosed numbers of other security agents during the brief stop of the president in Canada.

Prime Minister Pearson will spend about 24 hours in the Vancouver area following the international ceremonies marking completion of the Columbia River Treaty.

Liberal party headquarters said that following the airport and Peace Arch ceremonies, Mr. Pearson will bid goodbye to President Johnson at Vancouver International Airport, possibly about 4 p.m.

After that, he will take part in a ceremony in which a federal government cheque for $273,000,000 will be turned over to Premier Bennett of B.C.

The following day he will hold a 10 a.m. press conference in Hotel Vancouver, then will be free until 12:15 p.m. when he will speak to the Men's Canadian Club in the hotel.

NEW BILL WILL ALLOW CUTS IN PASSENGER RAIL SERVICE

OTTAWA (CP) — Passenger train service across Canada could be curtailed drastically during the next five years under a bill introduced in the Commons Monday night.

Far-reaching amendments to the Railway Act would empower the railways to drop all their money-losing passenger runs in a gradual five-year process.

The federal treasury would compensate the CNR and CPR in the meantime with subsidies totalling a maximum of $186,000,000 to cover deficits incurred in passenger operations.

Smaller subsidies would be extended to other railways under federal jurisdiction.

The only exception to the abandonment rule would apply to commuter trains in the large cities. These would have to be continued whether they make money or not.

Where adequate highway systems exist, the board of transport commissioners would be empowered to approve the immediate cancellation of passenger trains that consistently lose money.

Passenger services for isolated communities would be continued for a maximum of five years, depending on the requirements of the local residents. The transport board would hold public hearings to determine the earliest possible cut-off date.

Railways would be given greater freedom in setting passenger fares on remaining runs. The board would be authorized to disallow or suspend any fare if considered "unjust and unreasonable."

Close Vote Expected In Britain

LONDON (Reuters) — The British general election will take place Oct. 15, it was announced today.

The announcement was made shortly after Prime Minister Sir Alec Douglas-Home flew back to London from Scotland where he had an audience with Queen Elizabeth and asked her to dissolve the present Parliament.

The Conservative prime minister, who made the announcement, picked the date observers had been forecasting for several months.

The present Parliament—first in peace-time to run its full life since a five-year limit was imposed in 1911—will be dissolved by Queen Elizabeth Sept. 25 in preparation for the election.

The long-waited official announcement of election day came amid wide expectation of a close verdict with possibly only a small majority for either the ruling Conservatives or the Opposition Labor party.

The announcement from 10 Downing Street, the prime minister's residence, said the new Parliament will be opened Nov. 3.

Members of the new Parliament will be sworn in Oct. 27.

Conservatives, who have ruled Britain continuously for 13 years, are aiming for an all-time parliamentary record by winning a fourth consecutive five-year term of power.

CRITICAL FOR LABOR

The outcome will be critical for the Labor party, whose political future could be in jeopardy if it is again decisively beaten.

The Labor party, led by Harold Wilson, has to wipe out a present Conservative majority of 84 in the 630-seat House of Commons. The Conservative majority has been built up in each of the three elections since the 1951 Churchill government ousted the second post-war Labor government.

If Labor is beaten next month, it will mean the party will have been out of power for possibly 18 years before its next chance of forming a government.

Such a further long spell in opposition could produce grave internal strains in the Labor party and even threaten its survival in its present form.

At present three separate nation-wide polls show an un-

'Power Without Limit'

MOSCOW (UPI)—Premier Khrushchev today announced the Soviet Union has developed a "monstrous new terrible weapon."

Khrushchev made the announcement while addressing visiting Japanese lawmakers.

He also said any Peking attempt to change the Sino-Soviet border would lead to war.

Khrushchev told the Japanese Soviet scientists showed him the new weapon Monday.

The permier did not describe the "monstrous" weapon in the two-hour Kremlin meeting. "We do not want to use such terrible weapons and we shall continue to press for peaceful coexistence and economic development which are the sole hope for mankind," he said.

Khrushchev said the new weapon was unveiled at a secret military research station.

"I have never seen anything like it," he said. "It is a means of the destruction and extermination of humanity."

"It is the most powerful, strongest of existing weapons. It is power without limit," the Soviet premier said.

Khrushchev looked at the 15 Japanese whose nation has known nuclear attack and said, "this terrible means of extermination, I don't want to use it."

And then he swept into a rare personal denunciation of Peking leader Mao Tze-Tung.

"WAR-MONGERING"

He called Mao's claim of chunks of Soviet Asia "provocative, anti-Soviet, anti-Communist and war-mongering."

He compared Mao's territorial demands to Adolf Hitler's call for "lebensraum" (living space).

Khrushchev referred to Mao's "regrettable" statement to a group of Japanese socialists recently in which Mao reportedly accused the Russians of holding more than a million and a half square kilometres of lands once conquered by the Chinese emperors.

"Our borders are sacred and inviolable and any attempt to change them by force means war," Khrushchev said.

Court Asked To Legalize Birth Control

WASHINGTON (AP)—The U.S. Supreme Court was asked today to declare unconstitutional Connecticut's 85-year-old birth control law, which prohibits use of contraceptives and makes it illegal to give advice about their use.

The statute was attacked in an appeal by Dr. C. Lee Buxton, medical director of the Planned Parenthood League of Connecticut, and Mrs. Richard W. Griswold, executive director of the league, from their conviction on charges of giving advice on the use of contraceptives. The league has fought for repeal of the state law for more than 40 years.

Vatican Signs New Accord With Hungary

VATICAN CITY (AP) — The Vatican and Communist Hungary signed an accord today giving the Vatican at least partial administrative authority over the church in that country for the first time in 15 years.

It paved the way also for the eventual transfer of Joseph Cardinal Mindszenty to Rome.

Within minutes after the announcement, the Vatican press office said Pope Paul VI had named five new bishops and confirmed one bishop selected by Pope John XXIII but never approved by Hungary.

Vatican officials said the timing indicated the appointment of the new bishops was part of the accord, and that Budapest had approved their nomination.

The Vatican has had no administrative direction over the church in Hungary since the conviction of Cardinal Mindszenty on charges of treason 15 years ago.

STILL A REFUGEE

But the status of the cardinal was left unsettled in the new accord, and Vatican sources stressed that he remained in refuge in the U.S. legation in Budapest. He took refuge there during the abortive Hungarian revolt in 1956.

The partial accord was regarded as a major step forward in relations between the church and Hungary, and could affect relations between the church and other communist countries, as well as between Washington and Budapest.

The fate of the 72-year-old cardinal has figured in negotiations between the church and the communist regime, and also in talks between Washington and Budapest.

The trial of the cardinal in 1949 was a sensational one. He made a confession, but during his few days of freedom in 1956 he told an interviewer he had been tortured before the trial.

A fiercely proud man, the cardinal has shown no intention of obtaining freedom at the expense of either his dignity, or that of the Roman Catholic Church.

Roman Catholic officials have long been anxious to resume appointments of bishops in vacant Hungarian sees and win more direct control over Catholic affairs there.

Damage to the San Vicente naval station and the neighboring village was estimated at $500,000. A sailor drowned while trying to secure a landing craft, and 2,000 villagers were reported in need of food and clothing.

CITY HOUSEWIFE READY TO FIGHT

'Hypocritical Law' Must Go

A Belmont Park housewife said today she is thinking of borrowing money to visit Ottawa to protest the illegality of birth control in Canada.

Mrs. Sheila Barone, 197 Egerton, said Section 150 of the Criminal Code is "kind of stupid."

She also thought it a good idea "for an ordinary, everyday person to get elected who will stand up and fight" the law.

But she wasn't sure what success she might have after a private member's bill to legalize birth control was "talked out" of the House of Commons last Friday.

HALTED AT BORDER

Mrs. Barone, a mother of three, said a doctor had told her of a Nanaimo man who imported inter-uterine devices from the United States but the last two shipments were halted at the border.

The doctor told her, she said, that he couldn't get such devices in Canada, that they are illegal and "the next one of us to go down (to the U.S.) will have to pick up a shipment."

She said these devices, which require medical supervision, are readily available in U.S. drug stores.

The Criminal Code makes it illegal to sell, give or advertise any instruction, medicine, drug or article intended for use in birth control.

As an indictable offence, the penalty is three years in prison. For a summary conviction, the penalty is a fine of not more than $500 or six months in jail, or both.

Dr. C. J. M. Willoughby, an MP, medical doctor and seconder of last Friday's motion to legalize birth control, said "if the law involved was enforced, most medical men and druggists . . . would be in jail."

Six housewives in Vancouver, protesting the "hypocritical" law, have requested city prosecutor Stewart McMorran to prosecute drug stores there.

Spokesman Mrs. Helen Jorgensen said "It is a foolish law, it should be abolished."

The prosecutor said he is considering the request.

A high legal source thought the move was "primarily a test to show how nonsensical it is" to prohibit birth control. He could not recall a prosecution for "years."

Asked why there have been so few prosecutions, he said it was because of "a general development of understanding."

Rich Highway Plum Offered by Bennett

WHITEHORSE, Y.T. (CP)—Premier W. A. C. Bennett of British Columbia Monday suggested a political union of B.C., the Yukon and Northwest Territories, the bargain to include $300,000,000 in highway development.

The concept, a variation of one or two others Mr. Bennett has outlined in the past, came before the opening session here of the Alaska-B.C.-Yukon conference.

The premier said he was not making a proposal as such, but the offer of highway development stood if the Yukon and Northwest Territories broached the merger to the federal government "of their own accord." But he told reporters the two territories would have to "speak up quickly."

"Either they are in step with B.C. or they are in step with Ottawa, which means 50 years behind the times," he said.

Union with the territories would increase B.C.'s 365,000-square-mile area to almost 1,700,000 square miles and make it Canada's largest province.

RESIDENTS MUST DECIDE

The premier said it would be up to the territories' 36,000 residents to make their wishes on the matter known.

"Remote control" administration from Ottawa had held back northern development.

The premier also called for a crash-program on paving the Alaska Highway. The job should be finished, he suggested, by 1967—the centennial of Canadian Confederation and of the purchase of Alaska by the U.S.

Phil Gaglardi, B.C.'s highways minister, said the Alaska Highway work would eat up about half the $300,000,000. The rest would go into the Cassiar-Stewart highway and links from it to other cities.

Mr. Bennett suggested a summit meeting in the Yukon or Alaska to discuss problems of northern development.

"Our greatest time is now. It is no longer time for planning, surveying and sweeping under the rug. It's time for action. This north country can never be developed by little piecemeal developments."

Fame Is Fleeting

NEW YORK (AP)—Mrs. John F. Kennedy, who moved to New York City to get the privacy she couldn't find in Washington, went boating in the middle of town Monday and caused hardly a ripple.

The president's widow, son John Jr., and daughter Caroline took out a rowboat on the lake in Manhattan's Central Park.

Mrs. Kennedy handled the oars. John sat in the stern and shouted encouragement. Caroline bounced from bow to midships.

The Kennedys went virtually unnoticed.

But Peter Rosenberg, an amateur photographer, saw the famous family and hastily unlimbered his camera. Earlier in the day he had enrolled in a school to become a professional photographer.

. . . FLAG TRUCE

we have the white rose of England on the Union Jack? Do you have the eagle on the Stars and Stripes?

"Those are symbols. A flag is something else. I am surprised that the prime minister should have said that last evening."

In his Sunday broadcast, Mr. Pearson said "we are going to have a new flag by Christmas. It's going to be a distinctive national flag and it will be based on this historic and proud emblem of Canada, the maple leaf."

His statement brought a charge by Mr. Diefenbaker in the Commons Monday that the prime minister had, in effect, tied the hands of Liberals on the flag committee, that the committee would no longer be free and unfettered in its search for a solution to the flag impasse.

CALLS CHARGE NONSENSE

Mr. Pearson made no reply but later he told reporters "that's nonsense."

"I was asked whether I thought there would be a flag by Christmas. I said indeed I did think so and I thought it would be based on the maple leaf design. That was my view: That there will be one by Christmas based on the maple leaf design."

He said the Liberal MPs going on the committee "have complete freedom."

"I'm satisfied the committee will make the right decision and I think it will be a decision based on the maple leaf emblem.

"I said what I thought would happen. But the committee will make up its own mind."

In Monday's broadcast, Mr. Diefenbaker said in support of his insistence on virtual unanimity on a flag design that "you simply cannot impose the thing that represents your nation by a majority of votes and that is particularly so when the people have never had an opportunity to say what is distinctive."

He said the Liberals in calling for a distinctive flag before the last election had not said they meant by distinctive the removal of the Union Jack.

After the election, Mr. Pearson "decided that 'distinctive' meant that the Union Jack had to be removed."

. . . U.K. ELECTION

derlying swing back to the Conservatives — a customary trend when election day nears.

Two of the three polls now credit the Conservatives with a slight lead over Labor—though the third, long-established poll puts Labor still five per cent ahead. This, however, is the lowest Labor lead this poll has given in two years.

Present state of parties in Parliament is: Conservatives and allies 353, Labor 260, Liberals 7, independents 2, vacant 8.

LIBERAL PLATFORM

The Liberal party published its campaign platform today, expressing hope that it will hold "a decisive position" in the next Parliament.

In other words, Liberal Leader Jo Grimond sees the possibility that the Tories and Labor party will fight one another to a virtual standstill, giving the Liberals the balance of power.

At present they have only seven seats in the 630-seat Commons.

The Liberals claim an influence far beyond their number due to dramatic byelection gains which caused concern to former prime minister Harold Macmillan in 1962.

But the Liberals have shown less strength in more recent byelection tests.

In international affairs, the manifesto calls for formation of a Commonwealth Service, "recruited from all the member countries, to cover the whole range of technical help needed by developing countries."

At home, "Class consciousness in the factory, on the housing estate, or in politics, must give way to a new spirit of partnership."

The partnership idea was also taken to the international plane, and here the Liberals departed from the Tories by envisaging the end of Britain's separate nuclear deterrent.

"The giant risks of the nuclear age and the explosive problems of world poverty cannot be mastered until the nations act together," the manifesto says.

Agassiz Enshrined?

AGASSIZ, B.C. (CP) — The Agassiz municipal council Monday night voted 3-2 in favor of granting a cemetery plot for the burial of Florence (Big Fanny) Storgoff.

The vote reversed an earlier declaration by Reeve James Fraser and he spoke out strongly against the decision in a 15-minute council debate.

Reeve Fraser told council:

"If these people are here long enough the cemetery will be full of them and the ratepayers will have to pay for it.

"This will become a Doukhobor shrine."

SAANICH BOARD

Parents' Protests Ignored

Saanich school board voted Monday to ignore a school boundary protest by Cordova Bay Road residents.

The board refused to rescind its decision that elementary school children living in the 4900 block of Cordova Bay Road must attend Lochside School instead of Cordova Bay School.

Protesting parents attended a board meeting Monday night armed with a petition, but got nowhere.

SENT HOME

Their children had been sent home after the third day of school at Cordova Bay with notes saying that as of the next day they were to go to Lochside School.

Parents argued that of the two routes available—Cordova Bay Road and Lochside Drive—neither is suitable.

Traffic on Cordova Bay Road is heavy, often made up of gravel and ready-mix cement trucks, and the road is winding and hilly.

Lochside will be impassable during the winter for young children walking or on bicycles, argue parents.

The new school is surrounded by dense brush, and is half a mile farther so that children must make their way a mile and a half to school.

BUSHES ARE WORRY

Parents also point out that 14 children from the Sevenoaks centre on Blenkinsop Road attend the Cordova Bay school, travelling in their own bus, although they are in the area intended to be served by Lochside School.

The dense bush along Lochside also makes parents anxious.

"There are sexual deviates in the area whose activities are well known," said Mrs. Robert Montgomery, 4957 Cordova Bay Road.

The fact that the change had to be made after school started was cited as poor planning by parents attending the meeting.

School board officials said today the order was given to relieve overcrowding at Cordova Bay School.

Banks Forfeits Appeal

MONTREAL (CP) — Hal C. Banks did not appear in court today and his appeal of a conviction and five-year prison sentence for conspiracy to beat up a rival union official was dismissed.

Joseph Nuss, Banks' lawyer, made no submission when Chief Justice Lucien Tremblay of the Quebec Appeal Court called for the case to be heard.

The Crown asked that it be dismissed.

"I suppose we should take the proper procedure and call the accused," Mr. Justice Tremblay said. "But I suppose there's not much chance he'll appear," he added with a grin.

The clerk called Banks' name on the building loudspeaker. There was no response. Then Mr. Justice Tremblay announced the case was dismissed.

SECOND CHANCE

Banks, deposed head of the Seafarers' International Union of Canada (Ind.), was also scheduled to appear later in the morning for trial on a charge of conspiring in 1960 to assault Richard Greaves of Vancouver with intent to cause bodily harm.

But when he failed to show, criminal court Judge Jean Tellier ordered a warrant for Banks' arrest.

The five-year sentence was imposed on Banks earlier this year. Bail of $25,000 pending the appeal was put by Charles B. Goldfarb of Birmingham, Mich., who said at the time he wanted to be known simply as a friend.

The court will advise the bondsman, Mr. Goldfarb, that he has 10 days in which to produce Banks or forfeit the bail.

In the Commons Monday, Opposition Leader Diefenbaker charged federal officials with "gross negligence" in allowing Banks to jump bail.

Under Opposition questioning, Justice Minister Favreau admitted that since conspiracy was not considered an extradictable offence, Banks could not be deported from the United States where he is presumed to be located.

Faverau added that despite the full co-operation of U.S. Immigration officials, Banks has not yet been located.

"How long ago did the justice department realize that Banks could not be extradicted on this charge," Diefenbaker demanded. "There is gross negligence here somewhere."

Favreau denied the charge and said federal officials had realized before the appeal hearing that if Banks was granted bail and fled to the United States he could not be brought back for trial. He pointed out that counsel for the government had objected to any kind of bail whatsoever.

Armed Forces Skeptical On Integration

OTTAWA (CP)—The Defence Department has been able to "sell" the public on integration of the armed forces command structure more convincingly than the armed forces themselves.

This seems to be the consensus not only of service personnel but of the department itself.

This is shown in part by the fact that senior officers from headquarters here are being dispatched to commands in the field to talk to servicemen about integration and how it will affect them.

Nobody expected integration would be carried out without a hitch. Canada is the first country to try to put such a plan into effect. But, informants say, some pitfalls could have been avoided.

The most common complaint heard about implementation of the new system is that the department is treating servicemen directly affected as statistics instead of as human beings.

For instance, little or no provision has been made to find new jobs for officers and men, some of whom have spent their entire adult lives in the services, who are being let out because some positions now are redundant.

Many feel that the defence, industry and defence production departments could have established a liaison committee with private industry and business to help find places for these men in civilian life.

MORALE AFFECTED

Because this has not been done, they say morale has been affected.

The mood of the armed forces appears to be not one of opposition to integration but rather one of uncertainty, and "show me that it works."

Persons who have been assigned new jobs on the integrated staff appear enthusiastic about them and are prepared to buckle down to help solve the attendant problems.

But there are many others who have not yet been told—integration went into effect officially Aug. 1—what job they will go to or even whether there will be a job for them.

As a result, some of the best officers the defence department wanted to retain have retired voluntarily.

Servicemen being compulsorily retired receive a pension and a cash bonus, the amount depending on rank and length of service.

Six-Hour Grilling

VANCOUVER (CP) — Municipal lawyer D. M. Goldie questioned B.C. Hydro and Power Authority officials nearly six hours Monday at the public utilities commission hearing into justification of proposed increases in fares.

C. A. Manson, Hydro rates and costs department manager, bore the brunt of Mr. Goldie's queries, fielding questions more than five hours.

Under questioning, Mr. Manson said the 1961 government takeover of the private B.C. Electric was to make power an instrument of public service.

Mr. Goldie, representing 10 Greater Vancouver and Victoria communities, attacked the proposed new zone system and asked if it did not discriminate against certain groups of riders.

Mr. Manson replied that if Hydro is going to get any money to wipe out deficits, it has to get it from the bulk of the riders.

The hearings continue here today and Wednesday.

Leftists Lose More Ground In Tiny State

SAN MARINO (AP)—Communist-Socialist strength dwindled still further Monday in the world's oldest and tiniest republic as the Christian Democrats and the Democratic Socialists won another solid election victory.

The election was for the 60-member grand council, the parliament for the mountain-top country of 15,000 people in northern Italy.

The Christian Democrats and the Democratic Socialists won 39 seats, compared with 36 in the last election in 1959. The Communist-Socialist alliance got 20, losing four.

One seat went to the Movement for Constitutional Libery, a new party.

The Communist-Socialist alliance ruled San Marino from the Second World War until 1957, when a realignment of political forces ousted the leftists.

Announce New Healing Substance... Shrinks Piles, Checks Itch

Exclusive healing substance proven to shrink hemorrhoids . . . and repair damaged tissue.

A renowned research institute has found a unique healing substance with the ability to shrink hemorrhoids painlessly. It relieves itching and discomfort in minutes and speeds up healing of the injured, inflamed tissues.

One hemorrhoidal case history after another reported "very striking improvement." Pain was promptly and gently relieved . . . actual reduction or retraction (shrinking) took place.

Among these case histories were a variety of hemorrhoidal conditions. Relief even occurred in cases of long standing, and most important of all, results were so thorough that this improvement was maintained over a period of many months.

This was accomplished with a new healing substance (Bio-Dyne) which quickly helps heal injured cells and stimulates growth of new tissue. Bio-Dyne is offered in ointment and suppository form called Preparation H.

In addition to actually shrinking hemorrhoids, Preparation H lubricates and makes elimination less painful. It helps prevent infection which is a principal cause of hemorrhoids.

Just ask your druggist for Preparation H Suppositories or Preparation H Ointment (with a special applicator).

Makarios Says Food Blockade Ends This Week

NICOSIA (AP)—United Nations officials said today President Makarios has agreed to lift the economic blockade of Turkish-Cypriot communities on Cyprus some time this week.

Makarios is reported to have relented under heavy pressure from Galo Plaza, UN chief representative on Cyprus, and Lt.-Gen. K. S. Thimayya, commander of the Peace Force.

UN officials have warned Makarios ever since he imposed the blockade early last month that cutting food supplies to the Turkish-Cypriots might bring armed action from Turkey.

Turkey announced last week it would break the blockade by using an naval-air convoy to ship food to the hard-pressed village of Kokkina on the northwest coast. Makarios' regime declared this would be considered an invasion.

The Turks dropped their convoy plan Monday and Makarios then said Turkey could land relief supplies for Kokkina at the port of Famagusta.

Makarios told the UN peacekeeping command that the supplies, if landed in a routine fashion at Famagusta, would be given all privileges.

WILL SEND SHIPMENT

The Turkish embassy in Nicosia said Turkey would send a shipload of food to Famagusta if the UN Peace Force would supervise the unloading and take the supplies without delay to Kokkina.

(Reuters news agency quoted a UN spokesman as saying the UN force was in no position to supervise the unloading because of the potential difficulties involved and because the Cyprus government had assumed the responsibility of sending adequate supplies for the next few days.)

Makarios had offered to feed Kokkina for four or five days, until a ship could arrive fom Turkey but Turkish - Cypriot leaders told UN officials their people would not eat food sent by Greek-Cypriots.

UN helicopters delivered two tons of emergency rations to Kokkina Sunday.

In Moscow, a cabinet minister of the Greek-Cypriot government, Andreas Araouzos, said negotiations with the Russians for military assistance would begin Friday.

They Work Too Hard But . . .

WASHINGTON (AP) — The U.S. labor department says that longshoremen at the port of Galveston, Tex., work too hard, but that they like it and don't want to change.

One of a series of department reports said Monday:

"It cannot be in the best interests of the health of the men to carry on hard physical labor at such a pace all day, much less day after day."

But the report also disclosed that the men in Galveston resist any efforts to add more men or slow the pace of work. In addition, there is no seniority system, and the union wants to keep it that way.

The reason for the situation in Galveston, the department report said, is a unique pay incentive system in loading cotton.

"Men who are able to stand the pace . . . can earn as much as $6 to $10 per hour," it said, adding:

"The gang's speed is, presumably, dictated by its desire to make as much money as possible in the least amount of time."

Develop A Powerful Memory?

A noted publisher in Chicago reports there is a simple technique for acquiring a powerful memory which can pay you real dividends in both business and social advancement and works like magic to give you added poise, necessary self-confidence and greater popularity.

According to this publisher, many people do not realize how much they could influence others simply by remembering accurately everything they see, hear, or read. Whether in business, at social functions or even in casual conversations with new acquaintances, there are ways in which you can dominate each situation by your ability to remember.

To acquaint the readers of this paper with the easy-to-follow rules for developing skill in remembering anything you choose to remember, the publishers have printed full details of their self-training method in a new book, "Adventures in Memory," which will be mailed free to anyone who requests it. No obligation. Simply send your request to: Memory Studies, 835 Diversey Parkway, Dept. 4996, Chicago, Ill. 60614. A postcard will do.

Vote Bill Seen Passing Easily

(Times Ottawa Bureau)

OTTAWA—The Redistribution Bill is now expected to move through parliament at a relatively rapid rate with the Liberal government making some "adjustments" to the measure in order to overcome objections voiced by the official opposition.

The government has made changes that it is expected will satisfy the Conservatives and remove the threat of another determined blockade of the bill by the official opposition, it was learned here today.

Consideration of the redistribution measure was resumed in committee of the whole house last night. But at the suggestion of the government the consideration of contentious clauses were suspended to enable consultations to take place.

At about the same time as the bill was under examination in the committee Opposition Leader Diefenbaker said in a television press conference that his party accepted the proposal that one of the appointments to each of the 10 provincial commissions was to be made by the prime minister and the other by the leader of the opposition.

NDP OBJECTS

But he pointed out the New Democratic Party stepped in with an amendment—accepted by the government — that the appointments not be made by the prime minister and opposition leader. That move was objected to by the Tories and helped hold up the adoption of the Redistribution Bill.

The other question that the Tories objected to was the question of tolerance between urban and rural seats. The government said the tolerance should be 20 per cent. The Conservatives argued it should be 30 per cent. Premier Jean Lesage has suggested 25 per cent.

NEW WARNING TO QUEEN SHRUGGED OFF AT PALACE

LONDON (CP) — Another warning that the Queen's life may be in danger during her forthcoming Canadian visit was published in London today but Buckingham Palace shrugged it off, saying the Queen had complete confidence in Canadian security measures.

The Daily Mirror, a mass circulating tabloid gave double-page prominence to a Montreal report by Anthony Miles who described the Quebec situation as "ugly" and "explosive."

"The spectre of a 'second Dallas' hangs threateningly over this restless, defiant French-Canadian province of Quebec," he wrote. Many responsible Canadians speak openly of their fear that the Queen might be in danger when she comes here."

The Queen, accompanied by Prince Philip, flies to Canada Oct. 5. A palace spokesman said there is no indication of any deluge of British public concern over the visit.

The Queen, he added, is moving ahead with plans for the visit which will take her to Charlottetown, Quebec and Ottawa. The Queen is acting on the advice of her Canadian ministers and is giving no consideration to any suggestion of cancelling the trip, the spokesman said.

Independence Vote

SALISBURY (Reuters) — The issue of Southern Rhodesian independence will be decided by a referendum of all registered voters and consultation with black Africans "within the tribal structure," Prime Minister Ian Smith told Parliament here today.

Smith ended his speech with the call: "Let our united aim be independence by Christmas, 1964."

Policymaker's Nightmare

WERE IT NOT FOR THE IMportance of the ultimate developments in South Viet Nam, the recent events in that country could be classed as comic opera—and not very good comic opera at that. The succession of relatively bloodless coups, particularly that of last weekend, resembles nothing so much as the marching and countermarching of actors on the stage.

But far from theatrical are the implications of the government's unsettled course. The country's continued fight against the Communist guerrillas is essential if the whole area is to be saved from ultimate control by North Viet Nam and Red China. This can only be carried on by a government determined to maintain the independence inherent in the original partition agreement.

Premier Khanh appears to be the only one who is able to command enough active support from the armed forces and enough passive support from the public to enable him to lead a government. Hence, in a very real sense, the future of southeast Asia depends on his ability to govern South Viet Nam and prosecute the war.

This is not a strong stick on which to lean. As well as can be learned from the tangled story emerging from Saigon, Premier Khanh exists only from hour to hour as the focal point of a government. It is problematical if the peasants in the hinterland know even the little that we know.

Under such circumstances the difficult position of the United States is rendered almost impossible. Already pouring hundreds of millions of dollars into the effort to prop up the country's economy and maintain its military posture, the United States is committed to defeating the Communists. Yet the government which it is aiding appears to be on the brink of extinction at any moment. The United States cannot possibly afford to have even the appearance of "king maker" or of interference in the internal politics of the nation—to do so would bring immediate charges of colonialism and imperialism from the Communists.

History probably has no exact parallel for such a situation. Yet, President Johnson must cope with it in the midst of an election campaign, when too much effort or too little effort in South Viet Nam could spell political disaster for him.

It is small wonder that some diplomatic and military observers are now turning to possible alternative solutions to the struggle. With defeat unthinkable and victory perhaps impossible, there is growing speculation on a negotiated peace. But most of these suggestions involve a neutral South Viet Nam—and the history of such "neutral" territories in southeast Asia does not inspire hope.

A Very Minor Effort

A SURVEY OF THE UNITED Nations' Commission for Asia and the Far East emphasizes the sombre outlook of the populations of non-Communist countries in the area insofar as supplying the people with the bare necessities of life is concerned.

For 250 millions of Asians, the report notes, hunger is a steady, grim companion and millions more suffer from nutritional deficiencies. Population pressure in the area as a whole is increasing four times faster than the rate of food production. Despite the industrial progress made in Japan, India, Malaysia, Taiwan and Australia, for the region as a whole "the rate of progress is generally inadequate for the needs of rapid growth, especially in view of low level income and the high rate of population growth."

Conditions are made even worse in a number of countries by the fact that export earnings based on primary commodities such as minerals, rubber, tea, lumber, jute and others are growing precarious. Areas which formerly relied on primary exports to pay for food imports find their trade earnings no longer sufficient to cover their import needs — both because of population growth and lack of markets.

This is the situation which is the real key to the problem of keeping Asia out of the orbit of communism even though it is overshadowed in the news columns and political debates by the troubles in Viet Nam, Laos, Malaysia and other places. Unless and until the free world makes progress in feeding the hungry masses of Asia, no amount of military force will be successful in halting the communist drive for domination.

It is interesting in this regard to look at Canada's contribution to foreign aid, the bulk of which goes to Asian and Far East areas. Figures for the fiscal year just ended show total Canadian expenditures under the heading of foreign aid at about $120 millions and, on the face of it, this seems a considerable amount. It is well above the annual average expenditure of $36 millions during the previous years from 1950 and is expected, furthermore, to jump to $134.6 millions in the 1964-65 fiscal year.

However, Canada's generosity in this field does not seem so great when it is seen that $50 millions of the $134.6 millions proposed is in the form of repayable loans and nearly all the balance is in the form of goods and services procurable only in Canada. This means that recipients of Canadian aid must spend the money in Canada even though what this country supplies may not be suited to their needs or may be even more expensive than what they could buy elsewhere.

It should also be noted that the approximately $85 millions which Canada is donating to foreign aid, aside from loans, represents about 0.2 per cent of this country's gross national product while UN computations hold that for any progress to be made in assisting underdeveloped countries, aid from developed coutries must be at least 1 per cent of their GNP.

Canada's level of personal income is third highest in the world — surpassed only by the United States and Sweden—yet its level of foreign aid is below that of France, Portugal, Belgium and Germany.

Canadians who are critical of the United States' Congress for cutting back on foreign aid might well consider the paucity of our efforts in the field, along with the fact that Canadians, as good businessmen, have insisted that nearly all government funds spent on foreign aid must also directly benefit the economy of their country.

Wire Taps Are Too Risky

CANADIANS AS A WHOLE, WE believe, are against wire-tapping. This is a violation of the individual's right to privacy which cannot be tolerated in general practice and is of questionable virtue even in special circumstances.

For this reason the Canadian Association of Chiefs of Police, meeting the other day in convention, should expect little support from Parliament if it applies for legislation permitting the procedure "when necessary."

Of course wire-tapping could assist police work. Moreover, most law-abiding Canadians are anxious to give to the police those facilities which make their attack on crime more effective. But wire-tapping can be so easily abused, can be made to appear the device of a police state, that authority to use it legally is a dangerous, and perhaps self-defeating, step.

Who, for instance, is to decide under what circumstances it becomes "necessary". And who is to see that once authority was given for it, the practice would not become "necessary" merely because it made police work easier?

No informed person believes that resort is never made to wire-tapping in the course of police work. But the practice is not one that should be given the respectability of approving legislation. The chances of misuse are too great, not necessarily through improper intent by the person "bugging" a line, but by progressive employment of wire tapping for purposes beyond what might originally be considered acceptable.

Other recommendations of the chiefs will stir wide interest. The proposal that the upper age limit for offenders classed as juveniles be established uniformally across the country at 16—the limit in many provinces at present—would bring all parts of the country into line for a more coherent attack on a growing problem. And the suggestion that the identities of juvenile offenders, along with their parents, be published will be supported broadly by those who have been impressed by such action taken with apparently effective results in one of the United States.

Of less concern to the public will be the protest registered by the chiefs against programs carried by the CBC—notably the Perry Mason series—which are considered detrimental to the image of the police. The answer to that problem is for the police to maintain a good image of themselves—a project that can be accomplished by action among the citizens better than by banning entertaining fiction on the television screen.

Complicated by the Sino-Soviet Quarrel

THE struggle for Asia has been totally transformed by the openly declared power rivalry between China and the Soviet Union. What for years was a straight-forward conflict between Communist and American ambition has been complicated beyond measure by the Sino-Soviet quarrel.

Then, last week the Chinese solemnly pledged their unwavering support of President Sukarno's Indonesia in the conflict with Malaysia.

The United States and Britain (in that order), the People's Daily announced last week, are trying to build up Malaysia into a military bastion against China, North Vietnam and Indonesia. "Should U.S. imperialism dare to launch aggression against Indonesia, the Chinese people will back the Indonesian people with all their might."

Target Beyond

This vow, which need not be taken very seriously (the Chinese have no means of carrying out large-scare intervention in Indonesia) is interesting as a classic example of the sort of opportunism of which the Chinese are always accusing Mr. Khrushchev. It is also directed more against the Soviet Union than the United States.

It was Russian aid to Sukarno which was picked on by the Chinese as a major example of Russian perfidy when the great quarrel was coming to a head four years ago. In one of his interventions at the famous all-Party meeting of November 1960, which has never been made public, Mr. Khrushchev said that Peking had protested officially to the Soviet Government against the provision of aid to Sukarno, and had pointed out that in 1949 he had been responsible for murdering most of the leadership of the Indonesian Communist Party.

This was correct, Mr. Khrushchev conceded, and one day Sukarno would be made to pay for this crime. Meanwhile, it was necessary to apply "an objective evaluation to the situation."

Sukarno had in fact done more for the very strong Communist Party of Indonesia, led by Mr. Aidit, than the Chinese comrades had done. And he had helped the Communist cause by fighting against the notorious compradors (merchants and entrepreneurs of largely Chinese nationality) whom Peking had been backing precisely because they were Chinese, thus acting out of narrow nationalism and making the very word Communist stink in the nostrils of Indonesian workers and peasants.

Now the Chinese themselves find it expedient, as part of the struggle for Asia, to outbid the Russians vis-a-vis Sukarno.

This is only the latest example of a whole series of actions reported in these columns over the past three years which show that beneath all their pretence of ideological purity and rectitude the Chinese are pursuing what is essentially a power struggle—in Khrushchev's words, a "cold war" against the Soviet Union.

The fraternal parties know this, too, and this is one of the reasons why so many of them are against the formalization of the split—and against Khrushchev's famous meeting. The leadership of all the more sophisticated parties know very well that both Russia and China are trying to use the world Communist movement as an instrument in their great-power rivalry—each, that is to say, is trying to capture the main body of the faithful to turn against the other. To the more dedicated among them this must seem a sort of blasphemy.

Togliatti Testament

The consciousness of this new fact was the main inspiration of Signor Togliatti's so-called "testament": he did not want the world Communist movement, above all the Italian Communist movement, to be perverted by either of the two great contestants in this way.

But, although he had heavy reproaches for Mr. Khrushchev for the way in which he had handled the quarrel and also for the way in which he had stifled all opposition inside Russia and the satellites—to the point of making it appear that such opposition did not exist — he clearly thought the Russians had a better case than the Chinese.

Togliatti, in a word, saw through the Chinese pretence that the quarrel was purely about ideology. But less sophisticated members of the Italian, and almost all the fraternal parties, have not seen so deep.

'Bad Old Times'

Russia is a comparatively open book. Her ways are all too familiar from long experience. To those Party loyalists all over the world who suffered in silence from Stalin's bullying techniques, Khrushchev's overbearing conduct towards the Chinese, and his forcing through of a new all-Party meeting in the teeth of widespread disapproval, seems very much like a whiff of the bad old times.

China, on the other hand, is far away, mysterious, and obscure. With invincible self-righteousness, the Chinese leadership has been preaching pure Leninism and exuding revolutionary fervour in a way long abandoned by Moscow. Not many of the comrades know enough about Chinese activity in Asia and elsewhere to realize that Peking is far from practising what it preaches.

Meanwhile, the general situation remains confused. Why does Khrushchev feel strong enough not merely to attack China with such single-track determination but also to allow Togliatti's criticisms from the other flank to be printed in Pravda? Does he know more than we know about the divisions within the Chinese party?

What exactly is Marshal Tito's mission, as he moves about East Europe? Is he arguing Mr. Khrushchev's case for him? And, if so, why? And how much credence should we give to Belgrade reports of Chinese troop movements on the Outer Mongolian frontier?

All we know is that there is a real war of nerves in progress; this should make us skeptical of all reports from both sides. In a war of nerves words are designed to mislead: only actions reveal.

Will Picket

Thank you for printing my letter concerning the coming to Canada of our Queen, and the showing of the play "The Establishment." May I through your columns, thank all who have written or telephoned me on this matter, and especially those who have offered to purchase tickets for me, in order to allow my suggested protest to take place within the Royal Theatre on September 21.

While I have no wish to cause trouble either inside or outside the theatre, yet it is a matter of conscience with me to make some protest. There are some who have written to say that they intend to boo and walk out if and when any remarks are made that are insulting to Her Majesty; I hope that many of the audience will have the good taste and courage to do the same. For myself, I expect to picket outside before both the first and second showing of the play. I shall do this whether any others join me or not.

Saanich Liquor Store

From the standpoint of a goodly number of Saanich residents keenly interested in the location of a new liquor store, Col. McGugan's recent antics leave much to be desired. For certainly the major question springing to mind is whether he acts independently; for some intransigent high government official, or for the public, who in effect, pay his wages.

This issue of a new liquor outlet has long been bandied about, and for much of that time we have been subjected to little more than evasions and pious platitudes. Now, finally, the Lake Hill site has been arbitrarily announced—a decision strongly at variance with the desires of those directly concerned—particularly Saanich Council. Oddly enough Col. McGugan can offer only "no comment." Is an explanation forthcoming?

Small wonder then that the antipathy of local residents toward the LCB is so thoroughly aroused. Such action can contribute only to the already odious image presented by the LCB.

Speaking quite candidly, the entire mechanics of liquor distribution in this province are sadly outdated; archaic, in need of revision. But one suspects that as long as government profits continue so lucrative, such a transition will long be relegated to limbo.

King's Choice

On a recent trip overseas, there was an Anglican clergyman on my bus tour. He has a parish just outside London. It is what is known as a Royal Living, the property belonging to the Crown. As such this reverend gentleman has enjoyed close contact with the royal family over a period of years.

I was talking to him about the current flag controversy in Canada and he told me something which I thought was very interesting. He said that King George V felt very strongly that the Commonwealth nations should have a flag of their own which did not embody the Union Jack, and that if they wished to fly the Union Jack, they could do so under their own flag.

WASHINGTON:

More Than A Legend

By JOSEPH ALSOP

IN THIS very strange election year there is much to startle the longest-memoried political buffs. But nothing on the scene this year is quite as startling as the reception Robert F. Kennedy is getting from the people of New York. The first responses to him were easy to down-grade. When he all but started a riot in Grand Central Station and was mobbed by admirers at Jones Beach, the wiseacres pointed out that the unexpected appearance of the Beatles would have produced the same results. Ready-made crowds often respond wildly to celebrities, merely because they see the legend in the flesh.

Alsop

But it was different when close to 150,000 people turned out in Buffalo to meet the new senatorial candidate at the airport and to line the streets and see his car go by and to fight for places in the big hall where he made his principal speech.

Or consider the quiet little upstate town of Glens Falls, a pleasant place with a population under 20,000. It was 1 a.m., and Kennedy was four hours behind schedule (having begun campaigning with plant-gate hand-shaking at 5:30 the previous morning) when his plane touched down at Glens Falls' airport. Yet close to a thousand people were still waiting at the airport. On the way into town families turned out in pyjamas to see him wave from his car. And over 3,000 people were on hand downtown, at 1:30 a.m., to hear him speak.

Admiration and Love

This is something new in American politics. It is not to be explained by mere curiosity. It can only be explained, in truth, by admiration and indeed by love—the same love and admiration that still brings thousands to Washington every weekend with the prime purpose of visiting President John Kennedy's grave.

Even the dead president's memory is by no means a full explanation, however. One is driven to conclude, in fact, that a great many people in New York State have been shrewd enough to perceive what has not been perceived by the liberal intellectuals who mourned the president so loudly and are now patronizing or even malicious about the president's brother.

They have perceived that the widely-repeated good-Kennedy-bad-Kennedy antithesis between John Kennedy and Robert Kennedy is a mere myth. They have somehow sensed that insofar as a younger brother can be an older brother's partner, Robert Kennedy was the partner of John Kennedy.

In this, of course, these New Yorkers are showing native shrewdness. To be sure, the brothers' partnership was not complete at the outset of John F. Kennedy's presidency. Perhaps because of the talk about nepotism the older brother did not call the younger brother into consultation on every serious matter, at every hour of the day and night, until after the first great failure.

But from the bitter aftermath of the Bay of Pigs until the tragic end, the easy, intimate, yet earnest partnership of these two brothers was the central relationship in the U.S. government.

Precisely because Robert Kennedy comes to his Senate candidacy with this unprecedented experience just behind him, it is also interesting to speculate on what kind of senator he may make—providing he defeats the able and popular Kenneth Keating, which is by no means sure.

Political Ballet

On this subject, Kennedy has taken a few of those closest to him into his confidence. To begin with, he does not much admire the currently fashionable brand of American liberalism. No doubt he would not put it just that way, but fashionable liberalism fails to command his admiration, quite obviously, simply because it resembles nothing so much as ballet dancing. It is all posturing and attitudinizing, and when the show is over nothing is left behind but empty air. Liberals make protest in the modern Senate; others make the laws.

The senators whose examples excite Robert Kennedy are the giants of a generation ago—old George Norris, who fought off half a dozen grabs for Muscle Shoals and got his imaginative way at last when the TVA bill passed the Congress; and the younger Lafollette; and salty Jim Couzens, whose monument was a great banking act; and the elder Wagner, who left so large a mark on the statute books.

These men achieved great things by great patience, great peristency and a great capacity for hard, untiring, dusty, detailed work. This is the kind of senator Kennedy wants to be, and if he can summon the patience, he clearly has the other needed qualities.

His election, then, can perhaps mark a new start, or rather the renovation of the old tradition, of constructive American progressivism. But will he be elected? Despite the crowds, no one can tell as yet.

MARKED for READING

RUSKIN AVENTURE

Ruskin wrote, lectured and talked about mountains, rivers, lakes, cathedrals and landscapes, geology and architecture, education and morals, political economy and art. And in all that he wrote, lectured and talked about there was a kind of unity, not of argument but of vision. He crossed all the subject dividing lines because he refused to see that there were such things as subject dividing lines. Because of this, to read him today is an educational adventure, an incessant extension of interest, not through widening of the stock of our information but through a deepening of our understanding.

Gerald Waring ... REPORTING

OTTAWA—With the suspension of the flag filibuster another act in the political drama of Mike and Dief has been played out.

To whom should go the plaudits?

NDP leader Tommy Douglas suggests, "to Parliament."

"I hope it (the compromise) will not be spoiled by anyone trying to take credit for it, because this proposal (to refer the flag question to a committee) came from many members of the House at different times, and that it will not be damaged by accusations that any party has made a retreat," Mr. Douglas said.

"In any public issue a measure of compromise is necessary. Some have to make more concessions than others, and I think the greater the concession the greater the credit . . . There (should) be no suggestion that any party has caved in or that anyone has beaten a retreat. Rather . . . a measure of statesmanship has been shown in reaching this agreement," he said.

Minutes later radio reporters with their ubiquitous tape recorders caught up with Tory leader Diefenbaker.

"Another Liberal retreat!" he bubbled happily into their microphones.

It's axiomatic that society as confined and controlled within the framework of the modern nation-state needs strong leadership. The term has become a shibboleth—what does it mean?

But first, perhaps, what does it not mean? It does not mean the vacillating, procrastinating, timorous and uncertain leadership that Mr. Diefenbaker gave the country in the last two or three years of his administration. Nor, at the other extreme, does it mean adherence to a policy or course of action with stubborn and inflexible rigidity, no matter what the consequences.

Rather, I believe strong leadership means firm adherence to sound principles, and the orienting of policies and tactics to conform with those principles.

At times—and I suggest we have just witnessed an example of this—it is advisable and desirable for a leader to abandon one course of action in favor of another to meet changed situations. But all without abandoning principles.

Mr. Pearson's policy is to give Canada a distinctive national flag. The principle on which the policy is based is that the country needs a national symbol acceptable to all major elements of the population as a unifying force to counteract the forces of division. His tactical objective is to bring such a flag into being this year.

★ ★ ★

His own design choice was, with cabinet concurrence, put before the House and evoked sharply-divided reaction. The Tory filibuster showed that any substantial agreement was impossible, so Mr. Pearson abandoned this course of action. He agreed to let a Commons committee have a six weeks' try at designing a more acceptable flag. In so doing he did not abandon principle or policy or objective.

All that seems to have been abandoned is Mr. Pearson's personal preference for the three maple leaf flag—and over this I shed no tear. As I wrote May 23:

"While I believe Canada should have a distinctively Canadian flag, my reaction to the Pearson design is that we should be able to do better if we put a little more time into it."

Now we—or our representatives, the 15 MPs on the committee—have the time and the challenge.

Making Bulbs Produce Roots

The making of roots is more important to success in the flowering of bulbs indoors than the type of soil used in the pots.

Hilda

If you start with healthy, full-size bulbs any soil containing some humus and sand will do.

See that the bulbs are just covered with the soil mixture which should be damped but not too wet.

The rooting of the bulbs is accomplished by keeping the pots in a cold, perfectly dark place for just about eight weeks.

One method is to bury the pots under damp soil, sand, sawdust or ashes in a coldframe, or in a trench out in the garden if the soil is not of a heavy clay type.

The covering material should be from six to 12 inches deep, according to its density.

After about seven weeks, it is fun to haul out a pot and discover roots emerging from the drainage hole and growth tips probably up an inch or so above soil.

Should the soil appear dry (this would only be if the coldframe has been covered with glass too frequently), water thoroughly and cover with the smothering material for another couple of weeks.

The pots with the most roots showing through the hole may be brought out first. They will need a cool, dark room or basement to encourage top growth.

Allow tops to color slowly with additional light, and gradually bring into a warm, sunny window to aid bud development. Moisture should never be lacking in the soil during this growing period.

Once the flowers commence opening, they will last longer if removed to a cooler, less sunny spot.

Some folks who have no outdoor facilities for rooting their bulbs try storing them in a dark cupboard, but if this method is used, be sure to choose the coldest cupboard you have. One which is on an outside wall will be cooler than an inside, and the bottom will be cooler than an upper shelf.

'Liberation Army' Plan

ALEXANDRIA, U.A.R. (UPI)—The 13-nation Arab bloc, in a major move against Israel, last week approved formation of a Palestinian "liberation army."

Informed sources said $30,800,000 was pledged to the army by the United Arab Republic, Saudi Arabia, Iraq and Kuwait.

U.A.R. President Gamal Abdel Nasser told the Arab heads of states meeting here at their second summit conference that he would place the Sinai Peninsula and the Gaza Strip at the disposal of the Palestinian Liberation Front, which will command the army.

'Ample' Opportunity Good Enough

FREDERICTON (CP)—Senator M. Wallace McCutcheon took a stab at defining what a Conservative should be during a panel discussion at the National Conference on Canadian Goals.

The place for the Conservative is with those who reject "mechanistic philosophy"—those who say man is man, Senator McCutcheon told the conference, sponsored by the Progressive Conservative Association of Canada. Morality is morality and "we can still control machines," he added during his speech Friday.

A Conservative member accepted man's fallibility and acted to see that each individual had "ample—I do not say equal—opportunity" to develop his talents. He supported the contention of George Hogan, Toronto auto dealer and secretary of the Ontario Progressive Conservative Association that the state should not do for people what they can do equally well for themselves.

He expressed surprise that during the conference none of the economists and other experts advocated getting rid of the Combines Investigation Act.

He rejected the idea of equality of opportunity in favor of ensuring "ample" opportunity. Equality had importance only in terms of equality before the law.

'Planning Cure for Most Social Ills'

WINDSOR, Ont. (CP)—The leader of one of Canada's largest unions Monday demanded a planned economy on behalf of "hundreds of thousands of Canadians mired in poverty."

William J. Smith, national president of the Canadian Brotherhood of Railway, Transport and General Workers, CLC, told the triennial convention here:

"Poverty, unemployment, inadequate education, and most of the other ills of our society, have one basic cause. They are all the direct and inevitable result of our unplanned economy . . . of a society that glorifies rugged individualism, enshrines the profit motive and discourages vitally needed cooperative action."

Mr. Smith said statistics showed there were nearly 4,000,000 Canadians living in families with annual incomes of less than $3,000, the figure selected by economists as the absolute minimum needed for a tolerably decent living standard.

"The trouble is that our federal and—with the exception of Saskatchewan under the CCF-NDP—our provincial governments do not have the desire, the will, to adopt the methods that have proved so successful on the other side of the Atlantic. Our governments are committed to the kind of unplanned, laissez-faire, individualist society which leads to waste, profiteering and mass unemployment—which creates millionaires at one end of the social scale and paupers at the other."

There was a striking difference in Scandinavia and other Western European countries with planned economies, he said. They had little or no poverty and unemployment. They had equal opportunity in education, public medicare programs, generous old age pensions and few slums.

B.C. Waters To Feed East?

PRINCE GEORGE (CP)—A grandiose plan for a giant Canadian waterway diversion to produce power, irrigation and inland water transportation all the way from B.C, to the Great Lakes was presented Monday to the Pacific Northwest Trade Association meeting here.

The plan was outlined in detail by Capilano MP Jack Davis, executive assistant to Prime Minister Pearson and a power expert for the federal government. It was a reiteration in detail of previous outlines he had given.

Mr. Davis envisaged rivers hoisting themselves over the Rockies by their own bootstraps. Power generated by the Laird River in northern B.C., for instance, could pump Laird, Alaskan and Yukon surplus waters into the Peace River power project's giant reservoir.

Peace power, in turn, he said, could add surplus Peace water to this and pump the whole volume into the North Saskatchewan. The latter river could be diverted into the South Saskatchewan and a canal, which he predicted would be navigable for as much as eight months of the year, could carry the water to the Great Lakes.

SALES TO U.S.

And it could be financed, Mr. Davis said, through massive lump sum payments from the U.S., as was done in the case of the Columbia River project.

By offering cheap transportation, he said, the proposed trans-prairie canal would overcome the most serious obstable now in the way of industrial development of Alaska, the Yukon and the northern regions of B.C. and the prairies.

Mr. Davis' proposal embodied many of the concepts of a U.S. water diversion plan, known as the Parsons plan which it is estimated would cost 100 billion dollars.

But Mr. Davis' plan put Canadian considerations first. Where the Pearson plan envisaged a diversion canal from the Pacific to the Great Lakes, Mr. Davis' plan would see it start in the northern Rockies and traverse the water-short prairies with some diverted to the U.S. middle west.

He predicted that nuclear power would be used to pump the northern B.C. surplus water over the Rockies and that it would be recovered by means of hydro installations at Niagara Falls, Ont., and the Lachine rapids near Montreal.

Brutality Probe Promised

OTTAWA (UPI)—New Democrat leader T. C. Douglas called Monday for a civil inquiry into charges of brutality during "ban-the-bomb" demonstrations at the RCAF Bomarc base at Lamacaza, Que.

Mr. Douglas told the Commons that demonstrators claimed that 100 RCAF guards charged 27 passive demonstrators outside the gates at the anti-aircraft missile base over Labor Day weekend.

They kicked a girl, dragged demonstrators by the hair and neck, and treated the demonstrators in a way that was "inexcusably brutal," he said.

Associate Defence Minister Lucien Cardin said that a report from the commanding officer of the RCAF base had denied the charges.

Prime Minister Pearson promised to look into the matter.

Decline in Toronto

The market continued to decline in Toronto today with speculative action improving.

Motors were strong in a mixed market at New York. Stocks were firm to narrowly lower at Montreal.

AT TORONTO, industrials were paced by utilities, oils and papers. In the last category, Consolidated dropped ⅝ and Great Lakes ½ while Domtar slipped ¼.

In oils, Husky and Imperial both fell ⅛ while among utilities Bell Telephone and Calgary Power both lost ¼ and B.C. Telephone ½.

Greater Winnipeg Gas, however, established a new 1964 high of 18⅝ with a rise of ⅛.

AT NEW YORK Chrysler paced the list on volume and held a gain exceeding a point. Ford was a point higher. General Motors was up a fraction.

GM and Chrysler touched new highs as did the top four steelmakers but the latter stumbled into irregularity as the session wore on. Bethlehem, heavily traded, held a gain of nearly a point. U.S. Steel erased a gain and was about unchanged.

Phelps Dodge dropped 2 points and Kennecott about a point while 9naconda cancelled most of an early gain.

AT MONTREAL CPR lost ⅝, Domtar and Bell ¼ each and Dofasco and Stelco ⅛ each.

Rothmans added a point, Industrial Acceptance and Husky Oil ¼ each and Dosco and Hudson's Bay Co. ⅛ each.

In speculative mines Glen Lake Silver lost five cents, Black Hawk four cents and Mistango River one cent.

Chemalloy added seven cents, McAdam two cents, White Star Copper one cent and Quebec Mining and Smelting, Monpre, Equity Explorations ½ cent each.

AT LONDON dull conditions developed in stock markets today ahead of the official election date announcement. Business was small and prices drifted lower in the absence of support.

Industrials recorded fairly widespread but usually small losses. Many leading issues were a few pence easier.

Stores shares were particularly dull while building, electrical motor and steel shares were often lower.

Hudson's Bay continued to improve. Small losses predominated in dollar stocks but Hollinger, Steep Rock and West Coast Transmission were firm spots in mixed Canadians. Canadian Pacific reacted after Monday's advance.

AT VANCOUVER trading was moderate. Bethlehem Copper was up at $7.45 and Copper Ridge at .76. Earlcrest climbed to .80 and Torwest to .74. Western Mines was down at $5.10 and Silver Standard at .68.

EMPLOYEES TAKE OVER VANCOUVER COMPANY

VANCOUVER (CP) — Changes under which company employees will take over ownership and management of Parsons Brown Ltd. were announced Monday by the Vancouver insurance firm.

A new company to be known as Parsons Brown & Co. Ltd. is to be incorporated to take over the retail insurance business of the old firm.

Alex D. Macauley will become president of the new company.

Closure of Britannia Studied by Company

VANCOUVER (CP) — Anaconda Co. (Canada) Ltd. says it is considering disbanding operations at its strike-bound Britannia copper mine, 40 miles northwest of Vancouver.

The company has recessed until Sept. 22 talks with the Mine, Mill and Smelter Workers Union, representing 350 workers.

Ken Smith, national president of Mine-Mill, said he is not treating the threat seriously but William Sands, deputy minister of labor for British Columbia, said he does not consider it an idle suggestion.

The men struck 34 days ago when negotiations on a new contract broke down.

The men want a 40-hour work week defined as Monday to Friday with overtime payments for weekend work. The present hours are 44 per week, although a minimum wage order recently cut the hours down to 40 before overtime is paid.

The company says most workers are already on a 40-hour week, but some on continuous operations must work longer.

The two sides are also apart on wages. The union has turned down a conciliation board report recommending 23½ cents more in two years on present rates of $1.82½ to $2.15½ cents an hour. The company has accepted the report.

LIFE GETS HARDER AND HARDER

Only Men With Endurance Sell Insurance

CALGARY (CP) — Welfare benefits, government pension plans and a changing tax structure are making the life underwriter's job more difficult, J. L. Etherington, chairman of the Life Underwriters Association of Canada, said Monday.

A committee of insurance company officials and life underwriters now is developing a new approach to drawing up life insurance programs in anticipation of the proposed Canadian Federal pension scheme, he said.

In a speech to the interprovincial conference of the Association of Superintendents of Insurance he said the coming changes would make it necessary for life underwriters "to raise their sights and become more knowledgable in programing welfare and pension benefits with life insurance."

Mr. Etherington said licencing authorities should resist pressure to licence persons in other occupations to sell life insurance.

"The association opposes the suggestion that mutual fund salesmen be licensed to sell life insurance as the two differ sharply in their fundamental concept," he said.

JOHN LABATT STEPS DOWN

LONDON, Ont. (CP)— John P. Labatt, a fourth generation member of the founding family of John Labatt Limited, has resigned as vice-president of Labatt Breweries of Canada Ltd., a subsidiary company.

Northern B.C. Gas Reserves Among Largest

PRINCE GEORGE, B.C. (CP) —Some of the largest new gas reserves in North America are in northern British Columbia, a pipeline executive said Monday.

Robert B. Stewart, president of Westcoast Transmission Co. Ltd., said the reserves are in an immense basin of oil and gas that includes parts of northern B.C., Alberta and the Yukon and Northwest Territories.

He said it covers 500,000 square miles—larger than Washington, Oregon, California and Texas put together.

"This is the basin which can be the supply base for the main fuel needs of the Pacific Northwest," he said in a speech to the general conference of the Pacific Northwest Trade Association here.

SUCCESS RATE

In slightly more than a decade 1,477 oil and gas wells had been drilled in northern B.C., of which 481 were productive of gas and 388 of oil. The success ratio of one in every two compared with the continental average of one in nine.

"Although work has been comparatively meagre, it has already established large reserves of natural gas—in my estimation some of the largest new reserves in North America."

The basis in the Northwest Territories and the Yukon was 465,000 square miles and "has everything it takes to entrap natural gas and oil and the potentialities consequently are very great."

Westcoast Transmission carries oil from Fort St. John, north of here, to the international border. It now is building an extension to Fort Nelson, 300 miles north of Fort St. John.

Mr. Stewart said the natural gas reserves in western Canada are in excess of 37 trillion cubic feet. Oil reserves were estimated at 6,000,000,000 barrels.

The reserves would continue to increase rapidly, especially in the north.

Diplomat Takes Over

MONTREAL (CP) — Knut Hammarskjold, nephew of the late Dag Hammarskjold, will become director-general of the International Air Transport Association in April, 1966.

The 42-year-old Swedish-born diplomat will take over the job from Sir William P. Hildred, director-general since 1946.

ELECTED president of the National Dairy Council is M. R. McCrea, managing director, Silverwood Dairies, Ltd., London. The council represents manufacturers, processors and distributors of approximately 90 per cent of all dairy products sold in this country. Born and educated in Winnipeg, Man., the council's spokesman has a background of over 40 years' experience in the dairy industry.

NUCLEAR POWER SOON AS CHEAP AS HYDRO

PRINCE GEORGE, B.C. (CP)—The Pacific Northwest is just 10 to 15 years away from nuclear power produced as cheaply as hydro power, an expert predicted Monday.

Nuclear power plants will be a desirable alternative in the "near future," said D. W. R. Morgan, Pittsburgh, power marketing manager of Westinghouse Electric.

He told the Pacific Northwest Trade Association conference on energy resources that the cost gap between hydro and nuclear facilities is closing quickly.

THE SCOREBOARD

PHILADELPHIA — The new manager of the San Francisco Giants, and there will be one shortly after the season ends, will be—hold onto your hats—Charles Francis Fox!

An intimate of Horace Stoneham tips me to the fact that Charley Fox, currently managing the Tacoma farm club of the Pacific Coast League, is the owner's choice to succeed Alvin Dark. The Giants' front office does not deny it. Neither does Fox.

So permit me to introduce Charley Fox, the Walter Alston of 1965. Fox is even less known to the general public than was Alston when the Darrtown woodworker was brought up from the minors to manage the Dodgers 10 years ago.

Alston, a first baseman, struck out in one time at bat for the St. Louis Cardinals. Fox, then a 19-year-old catcher, caught in three games for the wartime Giants of 1942.

"I forget how many times I was at bat, but the record book shows I hit .429," he laughed when I reached him on the telephone in Portland, Ore. "Then I went into the navy for three years."

Fox is a handsome, square-jawed, sandy-haired Irishman who will be 42 Oct. 7. I asked him how he would like to manage a big league club.

"What baseball man wouldn't?" he replied.

No Job Worries—He Can Sing, Too

Dissatified with Dark, Stoneham is turning to the man who knows the Giants best. Even if nobody knows him. Fox broke in as a minor league player-manager in 1946 at the age of 23. He has been in the chain for 19 years and the most active figure in Giant training camps. He has had a hand in the development of most of the Giants, and they like him. He is closer to Stoneham than any other practical baseball man in the organization.

After managing in the chain for 11 years, Fox scouted free agents and explored the National and American Leagues until this season.

"After I won a third successive pennant with Phoenix in the Arizona Instructional League last winter, Stoneham told me I should return to managing," said Fox. "He sent me to Tacoma."

And it wasn't because Charley Fox is a singer of sweet Irish songs, which he also happens to be.

Fox will realize a boyhood ambition when named the new head of the Giants.

Charley was born in the Bronx and raised in the Polo Grounds. He was Bill Terry's batting practice catcher. He played with the Eddie Grant American Legion team at the famous old park when it was unbeaten for two years. He was graduated from St. Agnes High School in Manhattan.

His 'Day' Just Around the Corner

Fox managed St. Cloud of the C Northern League for eight campaigns. There he set straight a number of budding stars, Orlando Cepeda among them.

- "Helped me a lot," recalled the thumping first baseman. "Lot of little things. Just would walk up and tell me quietly. "Nice man."
- "Helped straighten me out behind the plate and at bat," said Tom Haller, the big catcher.
- "Charlie worked on me for three winters in Phoenix," said Rookie-of-the-Year candidate Jim Hart. "I was turning my head on certain pitches. He kept after me until I held it in and still."
- "Charley taught me my changeup," testified Ron Herbel, the bespectacled right-hander. "Great teacher."
- "It was in the Instructional League in Tampa in 1959 that Charley showed me how to get more spin on the ball," said pitcher Bob Bolin.
- "You have to learn when you are exposed to Charley," said Cap Petersen, the utility man and pinch-hitter.

I asked Charles S. Feeney, vice-president in charge of practically everything, about the imminent appointment.

"Nothing will be done until the end of the season," said Chub Feeney. "Charley Fox is highly regarded in our organization as an appraiser of talent, instructor and manager. He's aggressive, bright and all baseball. Don't get oversold on him now, but he'll be a major league manager some day."

Like after this season.

SAZIO PUNS

CATS FACE WRATH OF TIGER-STAMPS

HAMILTON (CP) — Calgary Stampeders will be a shade weaker defensively but Hamilton Tiger-Cat coach Ralph Sazio says "they're going to be tough" when they meet Ticats in an interlocking Canadian Football League game here tonight.

"They'll be like tigers, if you'll pardon the pun," Sazio said Monday.

The Stampeders were defeated 52-12 by Ottawa Rough Riders Saturday and Sazio feels their wrath will be directed at the Hamilton squad.

"They have a fine team, too good to be beaten like that. They'll be trying to make up for it against us."

The Ticats are currently tied with Montreal Alouettes for second place in the Eastern Football Conference with six points. The Riders lead the league.

The Stampeders, tied for first place in the West with British Columbia Lions and Saskatchewan Roughriders, will play without Jerry Keeling, Eagle Day's back-up quarterback. Keeling sprained a foot during the Ottawa game.

His absence is not expected to be felt offensively but he's a key man in the defensive backfield and would have been useful against Hamilton quarterback Bernie Faloney.

Tonight's game will be televised nationally by CTV beginning at 5 p.m. PDT.

WHAT'S WITH THESE SCALES?

Defenceman Sandy Hucul (centre) takes a quick peek at the poundage after checking in at Memorial Arena Monday, and is not too sure about what he sees. Defenceman Barry Trapp (right) checks the reading just to make sure Hucul hasn't been taking it easy. Normally 180 pounds, Hucul weighed in at 245. Then he noticed forward Larry Keenan's toe.

PRE-OLYMPIC SWIM

Classy Irene To Dive Here

IRENE MacDONALD
. . . one of the world's best

By BOB BELL

Irene MacDonald, Olympic bronze medallist and former U.S. national diving champion, will appear at the pre-Olympic Open and age-group swim meet Saturday and Sunday at the Crystal Garden.

Miss MacDonald will be one of six divers staging an exhibition at the meet.

The Canadian Olympic swimming team will take part in the meet Saturday, the last Canadian appearance of the team before it travels to Tokyo and the 1964 Olympics.

YMCA Flying Y officials, organizers of the meet, announced the Olympic diving team, made up of three members, will not be able to appear in Victoria as they are training in Arizona, and will go direct to Tokyo.

Divers attending the meet along with Miss MacDonald have an impressive list of credentials. Nine - year - old Sheila Reid, mascot for the B.C. Lions football team, has been classed as a genius in diving, and has won in much higher age group competitions.

Hazel Black is the B.C. tower diving champion, and she finished fourth in the Olympic trials.

AFTER SWIM HEATS

Miss MacDonald and the diving contingent will perform Saturday after the swimming heats, between 6 p.m. and 8:30, and again before the finals on Sunday between 4 p.m. and 5.

Miss MacDonald is considered one of the best divers in the world. She was a member of Canada's British Empire Games team in 1954 and 1958, and she represented Canada on the Pan-American Games team in 1955 and 1959.

She performed in the Olympics in 1956, won a bronze medal for Canada in the 1960 games, and has won the U.S. national diving championship.

ESKS ADD BATTLE

Roughies Get McNaughton For $350

REGINA (CP) — Import end Jim McNaughton from British Columbia Lions was to have his first practise with Saskatchewan Roughriders of the Western Football Conference today.

McNaughton, six feet, two inches tall and weighing 225 pounds, was picked up by Roughriders from B.C. for the $350 waiver price. A product of Utah State University, he was expected to add some blocking power to the Roughriders' offensive line.

To make room for McNaughton on the roster, Roughriders cut veteran import end Jack Gotta at the weekend.

Guard Jim Battle has been signed by Edmonton Eskimos.

The 240-pound, six-footer was to arrive today after being cut by Minnesota Vikings of the National Football League. The 26-year-old import played his college football at Southern Illinois.

'REPORT OR—'

Dineen Angers Punch

PETERBOROUGH (CP) —Manager-coach George Punch Imlach of Toronto Maple Leafs said Monday that rookie Gary Dineen faces possible suspension from amateur and professional hockey if he leaves the Leafs' training camp here to continue his education.

"I have no argument with his decision to go to school," Imlach said. "But hockey's a different thing.

"I won't go into details publicly, but he has obligations to us. He agreed to turn pro when we decided he was ready. Now he won't do it and we need hockey players for Tulsa.

"I haven't suspended him and I can't say yet when or if I will."

'JOCKEY'S RIGHTS . . . . . . AREN'T PROTECTED'

Hartack Hollers 'Foul'

BILL HARTACK

CHICAGO (AP) — Jockey Bill Hartack announced at Arlington Park Monday that he had resigned as a member and as vice-president of the western division of the Jockey's Guild.

"The guild isn't protecting the jockey's rights," he said.

"The Ismael Valenzuela case was the straw that broke the camel's back."

Valenzuela filed suit Friday for $2,000,000 against owner Mrs. Mary B. Hecht and Canadian-born trainer Les Lear after claiming he was bumped off of the two-year-old colt Sadair in favor of Bill Shoemaker.

Sadair won Saturday's $349-925 Arlington-Washington Futurity.

The Jockey's Guild late Saturday issued a statement saying that "Valenzuela was right in sternly objecting to be taken off of Sadair."

The guild's statement also rapped owners and trainers for violating verbal riding contracts with jockeys.

Hartack said there were a number of other cases involving jockeys in which the Jockey's Guild has not protected their rights.

Ironman Ken Rowe Orioles' Lifesaver?

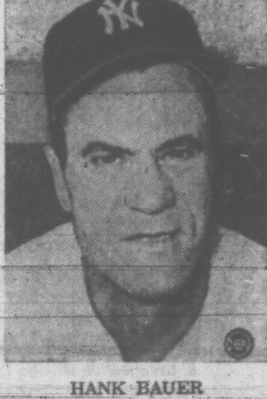
'He Knows What's Going On'—Baltimore's Bauer



HANK BAUER
. . . what the doc ordered

(UPI)

Iron man Ken Rowe may be just what the doctor ordered to breathe new life into the Baltimore Orioles' over-worked bullpen crew.

A 6-foot 2-inch, 205-pound right-hander, who set a record for organized baseball by appearing in 86 games for Spokane of the Pacific Coast League this year, Rowe reported to the Orioles Monday afternoon and six hours later found himself in the middle of the American League pennant race.

The Orioles and Minnesota Twins were tied at 3-3 going into the top of the ninth inning and manager Hank Bauer needed a relief pitcher. Harvey Haddix was unavailable because he worked Sunday, Stu Miller has been hit hard in recent outlings and word came back from the bullpen: "Dick Hall doesn't have it."

"Okay," said Bauer, "let's have Rowe."

Rowe, who pitched briefly for the Los Angeles Dodgers in 1963, retired the Twins in order and gained credit for his first American League victory when the Orioles pushed over a run in the bottom of the ninth.

BULLPEN TIRED

"He could be a lifesaver because our bullpen men are tired," said Bauer. "One reason I brought him in is that they never saw him before and he throws a good sinker. I wasn't worried about using him. After all, he's been in 86 games this season and knows what's going on."

Rowe was only 1-1 in 14 games with the Dodgers in 1963 but this year compiled an amazing record in the PCL. He worked a record 86 games, had a 16-10 won-lost mark and a 1.73 earned run average and struck out 100 batters in 135 innings.

Luis Aparicio's sacrifice fly delivered pinch runner Bob Saverine with the winning run after the bases were filled on Johnny Orsino's single, a sacrifice, an intentional walk and Johnny Goryl's error.

HAVE 1½ GAME LEAD

The victory moved the Orioles 1½ games ahead of the New York Yankees and two ahead of the Chicago White Sox.

Kansas City Athletics defeated the Boston Red Sox 7-6 in Monday's only other AL game while in the National League the Philadelphia Phillies downed the Houston Colts 4-1 and the Pittsburgh Pirates beat the Los Angeles Dodgers 7-2.

Johnny Wyatt equalled Dick Radatz' one-day old AL record of 73 appearances in one season and scored his ninth win when the Athletics rallied for two ninth-inning runs on triples by Dick Green and Bill Bryan and a double by Ed Charles. Green and Causey had three hits each for the Athletics while Tony Conigliaro, Dick Stuart and Bob Tillman had two each for the Red Sox.

The Phillies increased their NL lead to 6½ games behind the four-hit pitching of Chris Short, who struck out five in registering his 17th win.

VIC CAMP

HUCULS ARRIVE EARLY

Victoria Maple Leafs picked up a brother combination earlier than expected Monday.

The brothers Hucul, Sandy and Fred, reported in to trainer Gordie Marchant at Memorial Arena and put more lustre on an already bright Victoria hockey picture.

Both are considered among the best defencemen in minor professional hockey. They played with the Denver club last season.

Sandy was expected to travel west with the Toronto Maple Leafs, and Fred wasn't expected to show up until later because of business.

FRED TAKES OVER

Fred's arrival eased some of the pressure off Marchant. Fred supervised the Leaf's first workout at the Arena today.

Other former Denver players arrived in town Monday and took to the ice in today's session.

Goalie Al Millar, Milan Marcetta, Dick Lamoureax and Bill Shvetz worked out with rookies Harvey Larford, Ralph Winfield and Fred Purvis.

This crew joined the team members who arrived over the weekend.

TRIO MISSING

Up to now, only three players are missing, but manager Buck Houle said he has no idea as to their intentions.

Ted Hargreaves and Harvey Schmidt may have both decided to attend the University of Idaho. Hargreaves was an all-star centre and scoring champion of the Saskatchewan junior league last season.

George McAvoy, ex-Calgary Stampeder, was expected to report to the Leafs, but no word has been received from him.

745-Pound Tuna Boated In N.S.

HALIFAX (CP)—The second big tuna boated in the Halifax area in two days was taken Sunday by William Craig of neighboring Dartmouth.

Craig took the 745-pound bluefin on board the fishing boat Bay Queen II after a battle of 11 hours and 10 minutes.

Brooklin Suceeds On Lick

WHITBY, Ont. (CP) — Coach Ken Crawford of Brooklin Merchants decided he needed "speed rather than muscle" for the Mann Cup lacrosse series against Vancouver Carlings, and brought in outside reinforcements.

The move paid off Monday night when two of the newcomers scored three goals apiece as Brooklin beat the westerners 10-8 in the first game of their best-of-seven series for the Canadian senior lacrosse title.

The second game will be played here Wednesday night.

Bob Allan of Peterborough and Ron Roy of St. Catharines were the speedy forwards who paid off for Crawford.

REINFORCEMENTS

Other reinforcements figuring in the Brooklin scoring were Jack Madgett of Brampton and Larry Ferguson, also of Peterborough, who added one goal each. Grant Heffernan scored the other two.

The score was tied 1-1 after the first period but Vancouver opened a slim 6-5 lead at the end of the first half. Brooklin came back with four straight goals in the third period to overcome a 7-5 Vancouver lead.

Sid Warick and Fred Usselman fired two goals apiece for Vancouver. Gord Gimple, Gary Stevens, Bob Babcock and Bill Chisholm added one each.

CERVI BLANKED

Vancouver ace John Ceryi was kept off the scoring list but the star defenceman managed three assists.

Instrumental in the Brooklin win was goaltender Pat Baker, who turned away 31 Vancouver shots, including what seemed like four sure goals in the first five minutes before the Brooklin club came alive. Brooklin had 45 shots on Norm Nestman.

"Baker is the best goalie in Canada," Crawford said after the game. "He's responsible for us being this far and he'll take us to the Mann Cup."

In the third period, Roy cut the Vancouver margin to 7-6 and Heffernan tied the score on a brilliant rink-length dash with Brooklin a man short.

Allan, a veteran of several years of competition in Vancouver, scored two goals in six seconds to send Brooklin into the lead for the first time.

In the final period, a sturdy Brooklin defence checked the Vancouver offensive to a standstill.

LOSS OF TERRY SAWCHUK . . . . . . WILL WEAKEN DETROIT—PLANTE

'Leafs by 15 Points'—Tommy Ivan

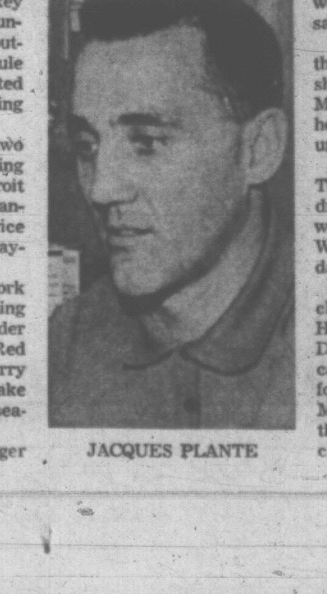
By The Canadian Press

Although the National Hockey League schedule doesn't get under way until Oct. 12, the outcome of the 70-game schedule was already being predicted from at least three training camps Monday.

Toronto Maple Leafs got two votes to finish first, including one of their own. But Detroit Red Wings, last season's Stanley Cup finalists, were twice picked to finish out of the playoffs.

At Winnipeg, where New York Rangers opened their training camp Monday, goaltender Jacques Plante said the Red Wings' loss of netminder Terry Sawchuk to Toronto will make Detroit much weaker this season.



JACQUES PLANTE

"No matter how well Roger Crozier plays for Detroit, he won't be another Sawchuk," said Plante.

"Crozier crouches a lot and those forwards are going to shoot for the top of the net. Many people I talked to think he's going to be in hot water unless he changes his style."

Sawchuk was picked up by Toronto in the annual NHL draft last spring, and Crozier, who played 15 games with the Wings last season, is top candidate to fill his pads.

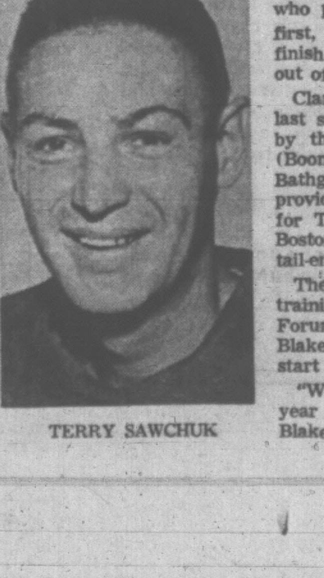
Plante said: "I think our club might be a big surprise." He singled out Bob Nevin, Dick Duff and Arnie Brown who came from Toronto in exchange for Andy Bathgate and Don McKenney last February, as the big factors in taking his club to the playoffs.

Tommy Ivan, manager of Chicago Black Hawks, said from the Hawks' training camp in St. Catharines that Toronto would win the league championship this season by 15 points.

"The Leafs won the Stanley Cup the last three years," said Ivan.

"They still have the same players in their lineup and have added good-looking rookies like (Ron) Ellis and (Andre) Champagne as well as a guy named Sawchuk."

Bobby Hull and Eric Nesterenko fired three goals each as the Hawks resumed training Monday with an intramural game, following their 6-3 rout of Toronto at St. Catharines Sunday.



TERRY SAWCHUK

The third prediction came from King Clancy, assistant manager-coach of the Leafs, who picked Toronto to finish first, Montreal Canadiens to finish fourth and Detroit to be out of the playoffs.

Clancy said Montreal, first last season, will be weakened by the retirement of Bernie (Boom Boom) Geoffrion while Bathgate and McKenney would provide extra scoring punch for Toronto. He also picked Boston Bruins, last season's tail-enders, to finish third.

The Canadiens open their training camp at the Montreal Forum today and coach Toe Blake doesn't expect the late start to handicap his team.

"We were last to start last year and we finished first," Blake said.

GAELS WIN

Ranjit Toiled In Vain

NEW WESTMINSTER, B.C. (CP) — Two young men attacked for goals five seconds apart Monday night and propelled Oshawa Green Gaels to a 15-13 victory over New Westminster Salmonbellies in the opening game of the Minto Cup lacrosse series.

The stunning plays by Bill Armour and Jim Higgs spelled doom to a rally by the westerners, whose strength surprised the defending champions of Canadian junior lacrosse.

Less than seven minutes remained in the game and the score was deadlocked 12-12 when Armour and Higgs struck.

First Armour scored from Higgs on a passing play around the net. From the faceoff, Armour caught Higgs racing to the goal with a perfect pass.

Ken Thompson, who scored a total of four goals for the winners, salted the game away a few minutes later to make it 15-12.

SURPRISED AT SIZE

Jim Bishop, Gaels coach, said he was surprised at the size of the Salmonbellies and at their rough style of play.

He will dress St. Catharines stars Bill Young and Doug Favell Wednesday night in the second game of the best-of-seven series.

Brilliant shooting and playmaking took the club to an 8-4 halftime lead and it was 9-4 in the third quarter before New Westminster started a comeback that tied the game by 5:37 of the final quarter.

DAVIS CAN SCORE

Davis, who scored 184 points in 24 league games this year in Ontario, picked up three goals and four assists on the night.

Don Stinson scored on all three of his shots on the net, Gaylord Powless added two, and Jim Hinkson, Higgs and Armour got the others.

Ranjit Dillon and Larry Henry topped New Westminster scoring with three goals apiece. Ken Henry and Mac Tyler with two each, Ian Bull, Bob McKean and Bob Parrent completed New Westminster scoring.

Coach Bishop said his team is adjusting to the springy floor at Queen's Park Arena and he was happy with the victory.

Keith Jackson, the Salmonbellies coach, said he was upset at refereeing that disallowed two New Westminster goals, but that the main cause of the loss was poor checking by his club.

Mar, Lee Dominate Riflemen

Victoria's Quinton Mar and Vancouver's J. Lee dominated the senior competition in the Pacific Command Rifle Association's annual pistol meet at the Victoria City Police revolver range Sunday.

Lee won the Esquimalt Meat Market Trophy for high aggregate score in the .22 calibre events with 570 points.

Mar was runnerup with 567.

Mar won the GTC Trophy for top aggregate standings in the centre fire competition with 549. Lee was one point back in second place.

The grand aggregate trophy went to Lee with 1,118 points, only two better than Mar.

HMCS Naden won the Navy team match.

JBAA Practice

The JBAA rugby team will practice on the top pitch at Beacon Hill Park Wednesday at 7:30.

A general meeting will be held at 625 Courtney Wednesday at 9.

'Amicable Liaison'

HATCHET BURIED BY CURLING FOES

KELOWNA (CP) — The B.C. Curling Association and the Pacific Coast Curling Association have buried the hatchet.

Officers of the two bodies, meeting here during the weekend, decided on a course of "full, amicable liaison" between the two bodies.

Walter Hobbs of Kelowna, secretary of the committee representatives from the two associations, termed it a step in the right direction.

Previously there had been little friendliness between the PCCA and the BCCA, mainly due to jurisdictional disputes.

Three championship playdowns now will come under association jurisdiction—the provincial men's finals are set for Kamloops Feb. 7 with the senior provincial championship to be held at the same site at the same time. Tentative plans call for the mixed championships to be held at a coast location Feb. 23 or 24.

Both groups agreed with the senior curlers association that the 1965 B.C. seniors championships the minimum age be 55 and the rink age must aggregate at least 240 years.

'Pay Hike' the Ticket As Ex Park Races End

VANCOUVER (CP) — Exhibition Park closed its doors on its most successful horse racing season Monday night. Appropriately, the conclusion was marked by a track record.

The final day of 86 days brought in 8,122 fans and $288,812 in wagering to run the season total to 560,107 fans and a total betting handle of $17,458,498.

This compares with the 1963 totals, both existing records, of 549,458 fans, and about $16,500,600.

Pay Hike, a 10-year-old black gelding, beat the track's mark of 4:07.1 for the 2¼-miles with a time of 4:00.4 in the Au Revoir feature.

Jockey Jim Broomfield rode the 3-to-1 favorite to a 1¼-length win over Ballymena and Mays Comet was third. Sprint star Harry Jerome decorated the winner.

Frank Inda was the season's top jockey with 70 wins, three of them on the final day. Jim Dailey was runner-up with 59 wins.

The stables now have four days for the move to Victoria, where Sandown Park opens its 16-day season Saturday and continues until Oct. 17 with cards on Mondays, Wednesdays, Fridays and Saturdays.

Toronto May Collect On Dick Moore

TORONTO (UPI) — The National Hockey League Toronto Maple Leafs may still win their $20,000 gamble made last summer when they drafted left winger Dickie Moore from Montreal.

Moore, bothered by bad knees, will report to the Maple Leafs at their training camp at Peterborough today or Wednesday in an effort to discover if he is able to stand up to the rigors of another NHL season.

Moore did not play any hockey last year because of his gimpy knees.

He had said that he would never play again when Montreal failed to protect him in last spring's draft.

Don Leo Jonathan earned an "A" for effort, but failed to beat Roy Heffernan and Al Costello in a two-on-one handicap match that featured Saturday's professional wrestling card at Memorial Arena.

In other bouts, Roy McClarty defeated Joe Tomasso while Bob Christy downed newcomer Terry Holmes. Jerry Christy and Paul Diamond fought to a draw in another preliminary.

Champion As Concerned As Elephant Bitten By Gnat

By BOB HOOBING

BOSTON (AP)—To the surprise of the onlookers, heavyweight champion Cassius Clay, pardon, Muhammad Ali, was subdued and challenger Sonny Liston actually smiled.

To the surprise of no one, Governor Endicott Peabody of Massachusetts announced the pair will meet in a title fight at the Boston Garden Nov. 16.

And to the consternation of none of those present, the World Boxing Association quickly announced that everybody concerned was under suspension and that Clay had lost his title.

Clay, preoccupied with the Black Muslims and the prospect of a $5,000,000 purse, looked as concerned as an elephant bitten by a gnat.

Liston said someone ought to investigate the WBA, which had threatened in advance to ban the rematch.

HOPES TO APPEASE

The Massachusetts Boxing Commission said it felt the safeguards it had undertaken would satisfy the WBA.

"This isn't really a return bout," said commissioner Ed Urbec. "We've arranged a fight between the champion and the top contender . . .

"I can't visualize the public not accepting Clay as the champion. Titles are won or lost in the ring. This is the fight the public wants."

The State Commission, in its statement, outlined stipulations for the 15-round bout. Chief among them is that the winner must post a $50,000 cash guarantee that he'll meet one of the WBA's top four rated contenders within six months after the fight.

Merv McKenzie, newly elected president of the WBA, said from Toronto the mass suspensions became automatic when the fight was signed.

McKENZIE STANDS FIRM

"Nothing can override the WBA resolution denouncing a rematch," said McKenzie.

Liston suggested the body stick to its resolutions.

At any rate, the fight is on at the Garden where 13,909 is the legal capacity and where tickets will be scaled from $50 to $10. Sam Silverman, partial promoter along with Intercontinental Promotions, Inc., estimated it would produce a $450,000 gate with the rest of the money coming from closed-circuit TV, radio, and foreign rights, including movies.

GET EQUAL SLICES

Each contestant will get 30 per cent of the pot.

Muhammad Ali was asked about the "new" man without the old brashness.

"I had to talk big at first to bring attention," he replied. "I was campaigning before. Now I'm in office and don't need to talk as much."

Liston said the shoulder ailment which caused him to throw in the towel at the last fight is fine now and that "it's going to be entirely different this time."

Each accused the other of using a foreign substance on his gloves the last time. Then Clay feigned sleep, at which Liston commented: "He's getting used to it now."

DON'T EXPECT GOLD MEDAL TEAM WARNS

VANCOUVER (UPI) — The Canadian Olympic field hockey team has picked itself to finish last next month in Tokyo, but officials aren't ashamed of this lowly seeding.

Considering the odds, they are elated merely to have qualified for one of the 16 Olympic berths and thus become the first Olympic field hockey entry from Canada. It also took a masterful selling job to convince the Canadian Olympic Association on sending a field hockey team.

The vice-president of the Canadian Field Hockey Association, A. D. (Tony) Boyd of Vancouver, says no team in Olympic history has faced such heavy odds.

"There are only 400 field hockey players in Canada compared with 300,000 in top-rated India," Boyd said.

FIGHT RESULTS

TOKYO—Rogilio Trongali, 126, the Philippines, knocked out Aldo Furaki, 124½, Japan, 3.

TROIS-RIVIERES, Que.—Joey Durelle, 146¾, Trois-Rivieres, outpointed Peter Schmidt, 146¼, Toronto, 12.

FINED $250 by the B.C. Lions for "personal conduct detrimental to the football team" was defensive end Dick Fouts. He is scheduled to appear in North Vancouver police court Thursday on a charge of impaired driving.

HE GIVES AWAY GRAND PRIZES

Is there something you want to know? Do you want to win a set of valuable books or other instructive prizes? Then ask Andy.

Andy will answer questions submitted by child readers and those who submit the questions he selects to answer will receive worthwhile prizes.

The youngster who asks the first question answered each day receives a 20-volume set of the World Book Encyclopedia and of the second question a Hammond Atlas or Globe.

Andy sends a complete, 20-volume set of the World Book Encyclopedia to Jane Keenan, 14, Asheville, N.C., for her question:

When Did Mankind Learn to Use Metals?

Step by patient step our remote ancestors learned to chip and then to polish objects of stone and wood. Later they carved bone and ivory and painted colorful cave murals. Progress was slow. Then, here and there, ancient artisans mastered the skills of metallurgy. Modern history began a few short centuries after mankind discovered the use of metals.

Mankind's success depends upon how well he can cope with the forces of nature and use the materials around him to make life safe and comfortable for himself and his family. In the modern world, some countries are more advanced in the skills than others. The skills of industry and the know-how in agriculture are much farther advanced in America than in certain South-American and African countries.

In the total human picture, this state of affairs always has existed. The New Stone Age began in prehistory, when groups of people settled in friendly regions around the globe. Even then some groups were more skillful, more advanced than others in painting and carving, building and farming, weaving and pottery making. Then trading routes opened between Europe and distant Asia, from the Norselands southward to Africa. And gradually the more backward tribes learned to improve themselves.

Some 6,000 years ago the Egyptians pounded soft, native copper into coverings for their shields and buckles. In the next 1,000 years this skill spread to Persia and Mesopotamia, Crete and Asia Minor, Cyprus and India. It took another 1,000 years to reach Spain and the distant steppes of Russia. The use of copper did little to improve man's way of life—but it started the age of metallurgy. Everywhere it was followed by the discovery of bronze and iron. And these alloy metals were a dramatic advance in man's history.

Bronze Weapons

An alloy is made by melting or smelting two or more metals together, and a good alloy is superior to either of its metal ingredients. Bronze is tougher and more durable than the tin and copper from which it is made, and its discovery ushered in the Bronze Age at the dawn of modern history.

The earliest bronze making began around the Danube River near the metal-rich mountains of Western Asia. Weapons and other objects of bronze were made some 5,000 years ago. A few hundred years later the skills of making tough alloy metals, such as bronze and iron, had spread throughout all the civilized world.

When bronze was discovered, the weapons that had served mankind since his ancient cave days suddenly became obsolete. Northern tribes with bronze and iron swords swept down upon the fertile valleys of the south. Ancient kingdoms were forced to fall or learn the new art of metallurgy. In prehistory, one of the great periods of unrest occurred around 2400 B.C. This is the time when settled communities first learned the uses of metal alloys.

Since Animals Don't Smoke, Do They Get Lung Cancer?

Yes. And because they don't smoke, industrial and automotive fumes and other types of air pollution are suspect.

* * *

K.T.K. Sr., Ensign, Kansas.

A.—No. This talent also is bred into the English setter, Irish setter and Scotch setter.

* * *

Clinic: Q.—I've been told that chaining a dog can make him ferocious. Is this true?

Miss E. M. D., Eugene, Oregon.

A.—Chaining a dog can frustrate him, especially if he is tied up for long periods of time. If he becomes frustrated, he becomes more edgy, short-tempered and quick to anger—just as frustrated humans do. If your dog must be confined, it should be in a fenced yard where he has freedom to roam.

* * *

Clinic: Q.—I though that Africa had the highest number of fatalities from snakebite. Am I right?

W.E.W., Jr., Lake Charles, La.

A.—No. The highest death rates are recorded in the rice-growing areas of Burma and Bengal. These areas abound with the Russell's viper, a particularly vicious and deadly snake.

* * *

Clinic: Q.—We have an infestation of mice in the home and are about to call an exterminator. My problem is my cat and dog. I'm fearful that they may find and eat some of the poison pellets. Would it harm them, or are these pellets fatal only to mice?

Mrs. L.G.A., Memphis, Tenn.

A.—They're just as fatal to dogs and cats. Before you let your exterminator proceed, I suggest that (1) He tell you what poison he plans to use and its antidote. (2) Gives you a diagram showing where he will place the pellets. (3) Tells you how long the pellets will be effective and fatal. If possible, your animals should be out of the house for as long as the pellets are lethal. If that can't be arranged, knowing where the pellets are and what they are can help you safeguard your pets.

* * *

Clinic: Q.—We just gave our new dog, Chippy, a year-old boxer, his first bath, and he developed a rash. We used a very mild castile soap, used no brush, and kept the water at body temperature. What could have caused the rash? It has cleared up, but I'm afraid to bathe him again.

Mrs. W.A.E., Detroit, Mich.

A.—There's a possibility that your water is heavily chlorinated. Chlorine in the water can irritate a dog's body. Next time you bathe Chippy, add a water softener or a neutralizer to the bath water.

Old Auditorium Due to Revive

CHICAGO (AP) — For more than two decades, a hall in which some of the world's most famous opera singers were heard has been a virtual tomb.

But signs of new life for the hall, Chicago's famed auditorium on Michigan Avenue, appeared this week as repairmen prepared to raise scaffolding toward the renewal of the 4,000-seat theatre.

The Auditorium, once a major centre of culture known throughout the world, once again will provide the setting for performing artists, if a citizens' committee's plans are realized—as it appears they will be.

The committee, called the Auditorium Theatre Council, has raised a third of the $2,750,000 required for the theatre's restoration.

The Auditorium was designed by Louis Sullivan and Dankmar Adler, renowned Chicago architects, and since its inaugural by President Benjamin Harrison in 1889 has been known for its perfect acoustics and exceptional sight lines.

But with the economic hardships of the depression of the early 1930s, the Auditorium fell into disuse and subsequent disrepair. The elegant gold traceries faded and the plaster crumbled. During the Second World War, it was used as a servicemen's centre.

Architect Frank Lloyd Wright termed the Auditorium "the greatest room for music and opera in the world—bar none." John McCormack, the Irish tenor, once said, "I would rather sing in the Auditorium than any other hall in the world." And Nellie Melba, the Australian soprano, said: "I wish I could fold it up and take it with me everywhere."

BANFF GROUP WANTS LAING TO RESIGN

BANFF, Alta. (CP) — The Banff Advisory Council, established to act as a liaison between residents and the provincial and federal governments, has asked Prime Minister Pearson to seek the resignation of Northern Affairs Minister Laing.

The request was made in a telegram to Mr. Pearson Monday night after the council reviewed a federal decision to allow construction of a motor hotel on Bow River shoreline in the mountain resort town, 85 miles west of Calgary.

A special report outlined land use within the townsite and recommended protection of Bow River shoreline from commercial development. The Banff Interim Land Development Committee opposed the motor hotel development because there was inadequate land.

Vitamins Hurt Unborn Babes?

TORONTO (CP)—A Halifax doctor told an international conference on nutrition Monday that pregnant women may be harming their unborn babies by improper use of vitamin pills.

Dr. W. A. Cochrane, professor of pediatrics at Dalhousie University, said some infants have shown a need for much larger doses than normal of Vitamin C after birth to prevent them from developing scurvy.

Apparently this resulted from an exceptionally large Vitamin C intake by their mothers before they were born, he said.

Dr. Cochrane said pregnant women who take several vitamin pills when one is prescribed may harm the child.

He also said human milk remains the best diet for babies.

Cow's milk has a high concentration of phosphorous, calcium and sodium and this may pose problems for infants, he told the Canadian-United States Conference on Nutrition. Experiments showed that young rats fed a diet with comparable amounts of sodium develop high blood pressure.

ARTERIES AFFECTED

Dr. W. S. Hartroft of the Toronto Hospital for Sick Children told the conference of studies revealing fatty deposits in the arteries of children from three days old to 15 years.

The arteries of 250 children up to the age of 15 years were studied by special post-mortem techniques, he said. It was found that fatty deposits were present beginning at three days old and increasing in severity up to 15 years, when almost all were affected.

He suggested that atheroma—the laying down of fat in the arteries leading to hardening of the arteries—is a pediatric disease having implications for the diet of nursing mothers.

Dr. L. J. Filer Jr., medical director of the Ross Laboratories in Columbus, Ohio, said many infants in the United States do not receive an amount of iron in their diets "recommended for good health and growth," although almost all other nutrients in the babies' daily diet were in amounts well above the recommended level.

Thomas R. C. Sisson of the Albert Einstein College of Medicine in New York said iron-deficiency anemia is a considerable problem.

Dr. Stanley M. Garn of the Fels Research Institute, Yellow Springs, Ohio, said nutrition studies around the world are hampered by lack of reliable standards. The height of Boston children or weight of Minnesota executives were not suitable norms by which to judge the nutrition of Africans or Asians.

HONG KONG VETS HOME FROM MEET

'Dying Soldiers' Push For Blanket Insurance

They call themselves the dying soldiers of Hong Kong.

They spent 45 months in the world's worst prison camps and many are dying prematurely because of the terrible conditions they endured.

"A great many are the victims of invisible injuries which cannot be diagnosed," said Frank Brakewell, Victoria president of the Hong Kong Veterans' Association of Canada and a Dominion vice-president.

Mr. Brakewell returned to Victoria Monday after representing British Columbia at a three-day conference of the Hong Kong veterans held in Winnipeg.

Of these about 30 live on Vancouver Island and 130 on the B.C. mainland.

He was accompanied by Col. George Trist of Victoria, who commanded the Winnipeg Grenadiers in Hong Kong in 1941, and David W. Groos, MP for Victoria.

"Mr. Groos is closely interested in our problem," Mr. Brakewell said. "He drew the attention of the House of Commons to the plight of Hong Kong veterans last June and he followed the Winnipeg conference closely.

BRAKEWELL

DIE EARLY

"Most Hong Kong veterans die early—around 45 or 46—and we have asked the federal government to provide some form of blanket insurance coverage to protect our wives and families."

The government has initiated a survey of 100 Hong Kong veterans which is being carried out by Dr. H. J. Richardson, medical adviser to the Canadian penston commission.

"Dr. Richardson is making a study of Hong Kong veterans in comparison with veterans who served in other theatres of war," Mr. Brakewell said.

"We believe it will show that the death date among our veterans is considerably higher."

DEATH AT 44

Statistics show that of the 1,400 Hong Kong veterans returning to Canada after the war, 103 died before the end of 1963 at an average age of 44.

Mr. Brakewell said about 90 per cent of former Hong Kong prisoners receive pensions varying from 10 to 100 per cent according to visible injuries.

"But there are many invisible ailments which cannot be diagnosed and Dr. Richardson's survey should throw light on these cases."

Ottawa to Control Killing of Seals

OTTAWA (CP) — Fisheries Minister Robichaud said Monday in the Commons that the fisheries regulations will be amended to control the killing of seals.

He was replying to Opposition Leader Diefenbaker who said "dastardly cruel" practices in seal killing are a "defacement of Canada's image."

2-Man Flight Off

CAPE KENNEDY (UPI) — The Federal Space Agency said Monday America's first two-man space flight won't be tried this year because of lightning damage and delays caused by two hurricane threats.

An official said the Gemini space flight has been rescheduled for sometime during the first three months of 1965.

Recreation Parley Set for Saturday

More than 100 recreation-conscious men and women from Vancouver Island points will take part Saturday in the first Island Recreation Commission conference held here.

A day of panel discussions and featured talks involving recreation experts, parks men, planners and experts from other fields relating to community recreation will be held in Oak Bay municipal hall.

The day ends at 6:30 with a dinner at Club Tango, at which B.C. Forest Service information director Seymour Park will speak.

GATHER DATA

General chairman Ernest Costain said, "The idea is to get information on recreation problems from people who have already met these problems."

Such people are Tom Ruben, recreation consultant of Abbotsford, an original member of Pro-Rec; Vancouver recreation director Marshall Smith; Dr. R. Ramsay, University of B.C. assistant professor in the school of physical education and recreation.

The afternoon will be taken up with discussion on getting the best use out of land available for recreation purposes. Featured here will be Victoria parks administartor Herb Warren; Capital Region Planning Board director Tony Roberts; Mrs. H. P. Oberlander, Vancouver landscape architect, and Coquitlam recreation director Don Cunnings.

PEARSON FILM SHOWING

TORONTO (CP) — The Toronto Film Society has announced it will show the television film, Mr. Pearson, here Nov. 9 during its annual exhibition of new and classic films.

The film society said the film, which the Canadian Broadcasting Corp. commissioned and then refused to show on the ground it was below corporation standards, will be shown as an example of the cinema verite technique.

NANAIMO — Month-long tests of a new insecticide in the Queen Charlotte Islands have had serious effects on small birds, federal biologist Don McCaughran of Vancouver said Monday.

The regional game biologist said phosphamidon sprayed on island forests July 22 "had a detrimental effect on the small bird population." However, no harmful effects on mammals had been noted.

The new insecticide was tested by forest industry officials in an attempt to destroy defoliating insects.

FOR YOUNG ADULTS

United Church Forms New Group

By DAVE BUTLER

ST. JOHN'S, Nfld. (CP)—The United Church general council scuttled its young people's organization and created a new young adults program Monday in one of its busiest days since the 21st biennial meeting began last week.

To be known as Kairos, the Greek word for "meaning-filled time," the new organization will have a new philosophy as well as a new name. A report to the council by the board of Christian education had recommended the change.

Kairos had been in existence only a few hours Monday when it announced to the council that it had come to agreement with the Anglican Young Peoples Association of Canada to hold their biennial conferences as a joint meeting in 1966.

The theme of the new organization is to be "new era, new order and new life."

In a hotly debated session Monday, the council approved a recommendation that ministerial candidates pass a stiff medical examination before being admitted for ordination.

Also approved was a recommendation that students asking to enter the United Church ministry from schools outside Canada be required to take additional training if their standards are not considered by the board of colleges to be on a par with Canadian accredited theological colleges.

A report on ecumenical council affairs that cautiously recognized the efforts of the United Church and other Christian churches toward world union was heard by the council. "Our ecumenical experience with other churches with whom we seem to have more in common than with the church of Rome, serves to sober our judgment about the possibilities of growth toward church union," the report said.

"However, we believe that we must interpret the readiness of large numbers in the Roman church to seek after unity through repentance and renewal as a sign of movement of God's spirit in the church."

'Purge All Corrupt Elements'

SAIGON (AP) — South Viet Nam's Premier Nguyen Khanh and the generals who remained loyal to him appeared in firm control of Saigon today after failure of the weekend coup attempt.

Khanh's political future appeared to depend, however, on his acceding to demands of leading generals, including both loyalists and some leaders of the brief, bloodless rebellion.

The official Viet Nam news agency disclosed that 10 military leaders sent Khanh an ultimatum two days before Sunday's uprising. They demanded that the premier purge all "corrupt elements from the armed forces and civil administration" in the next two months.

The group also called for severe punishment of profiteers rather than the usual government policy of sending such persons abroad and insisted that Khanh crack down on persons in the government with communist or neutralist leanings.

Among the signers was Maj.-Gen. Duong Van Duc, who took over the coup attempt in its latter stage and then made peace with generals who remained loyal to Khanh.

(Reuters news agency quoted government sources as saying Duc had been relieved of his command and would be "arrested immediately if he tries anything more.")

There appeared to be only a hairline distinction in the thinking of the loyal and rebel groups who wound up uniting in support of Khanh.

The main bond of the rebel generals was that they had been shifted — or expected to be— in the shakeup Khanh ordered under pressure from Buddhists, the chief religious faction in South Viet Nam.

Khanh appeared to be avoiding public announcements that did not have approval of the leading generals. Several of them, including Duc, sat with the premier Monday when he told a press conference his government's chief goal was to destroy communism, colonialism and neutralism while building through democracy.

About-Face Asked By Builder

A Saanich contractor should know within two weeks if his unusual rezoning application is granted.

J. R. Henson, who lives at 3750 Casey, wants rural zoning on a 9½-acre site in View Royal near Trans-Canada Highway and Burnett.

It is now zoned for residential use.

But there were no objections at a public hearing on Thursday, and the application is now before the municipal affairs department for approval.

His application runs flatly counter to current trends of rezoning rural areas for residential use in mass housing developments.

"It's a very nice spot for a farm," said Mrs. Henson this morning, "and we're looking forward to farming it because it's close to town."

She said the Hensons plan to run cattle and horses on the land.

West German Counter Spy Hit With Gas

BONN (Reuters) — A West German newspaper says that a West German embassy official alleged to have been sprayed with mustard gas near Moscow last week was almost certainly a counter-espionage agent.

The newspaper Bild Zeitung makes the statement following a formal note to the Soviet Union by the Bonn foreign office protesting against the attack on communications specialist Horst Schwirkmann.

Another newspaper, the independent Die Welt, reports from Moscow that Schwirkmann had installed devices in West Germany's Moscow embassy, which would give "painful electric shocks" to anyone trying to tap a communications line without authority.

Informed sources here reported earlier that Schwirkmann had detected Soviet listening devices in the embassy.

The official, whose life was said to be in danger during the weekend as a result of mustard gas burns, was described by a relative today as "improving" in a Bonn hospital.

A foreign office spokesman declined to comment on press reports about the case.

The foreign office announced it had lodged a "most sharp" protest with the Soviet government following the attack on Schwirkmann during a church service at Zagorsk.

While this light-minded corner normally welcomes any local distraction that doesn't leave blood on the streets, I hope Bishop Michael Coleman will abandon his plan to intrude a patriotic outburst into the Victoria performance of The Establishment.

For one thing, the rest of Canada won't understand. In Quebec, the Creditistes are liable to seize on the bishop's gesture as an Anglophile protest against the west's determination to wiggle out from under the iron heel of the monarchy. In worldly-wise Ontario, they'll see it as a publicity stunt plugging church union or the need to stomp harder on sin.

For another, the Queen is unlikely to thank Bishop Coleman for crashing in on the English troupe's witty-wicked spoofing of crown and state.

I doubt that Her Majesty is especially enchanted with the skit which depicts her doing a Christmas broadcast in curlers—what woman would be?—but royalty has become hardened to amiable fun-poking by its subjects.

Such can even be construed, in fact, as a healthy sign of loyalty to the raj.

It is for the gallant Anglican bishop of the Penders and Saturna, hero of the London blitz, respected churchman and eloquent public speaker, to recover the sense of humor he seems to have misplaced.

Acid-etched though its satires are, The Establishment offers no threat to realm or Empire. The Queen doesn't need Bishop Coleman's good right arm to defend her.

One of the American networks unveiled its fall offerings in a Sunday evening preview, thereby deepening this view's conviction that the best cure for an increasingly bad situation would be to gut our home set and replace its picture tube with autumn flowers.

They'd be pleasant to look at, which is more than can be said for the dreary mishmash of pie-in-the-face comedies, tired westerns, remakes of Jules Verne and monsters from the outer galaxies that are to be inflicted upon the home audience.

I can't get interested in the adventures of a guy who married a witch. I find the New Yorker's haunted house family nauseous when filtered through a picture tube. I'm fed to the teeth with Bonanza, and the Virginians sends me into a 90-minute nap.

True, something of good remains. There's Disney and Hitchcock still pulls off a worthy whodunnit, and some of the late movies could be worth staying up for.

And—though the words stick in my craw—there's the CBC.

I still think our national service consumes an inordinate share of the taxpayers' nickels, but in fairness, I must now revise views earlier expressed here.

While United States television has become so prevailingly dull, repetitious and trashy that a smart commercial is often the high point of an evening, the CBC improves steadily year by year.

Even so, I have a bone to pick with Radio Canada. Since English is still our first language, let's not go too far with the French kick. The fact that one of the newsmen taking part in the Pearson interview works for La Presse doesn't justify the use of French to a point where it dominated an all-province program.

There's a group of licensed and mechanized road-users who feel it's high time their right to a fair shake was recognized by those who travel on four wheels.

These are the riders, mostly young, who go to work and school on motorcycles.

The plaint—and from personal observation I think it's justified—is that motorists simply act as if they didn't exist.

"I don't know why this is," one boy told me, "but car drivers think nothing of pulling stunts on us they wouldn't dream of trying on each other.

"Twice this week, I've been crowded clean off the road. We get used to drivers refusing to give us passing room or cutting sharp in front of us. I think it's time the police woke up to this and did something about it."

Time indeed: and our town could also use more driver respect for crosswalks. Were it not for the charming and competent woman driver who gave me a break on Douglas Street, I'd still be on the wrong side, cussing.

UNIQUE in North America is this Eivissenc, a species of Spanish greyhound, imported from the Balearic Islands by Eric Clarke, 3811 Miramontes. "Balli" is just a pup, but Mr. Clarke plans to use him for hunting, and wants to get the breed recognized by the Canadian Kennel Club. (Times photo)

First You Learn How to Spell It

BY LESLIE MILLIN

Some men attain originality some ways, and some attain it through others—like dogs.

A local hunting enthusiast, Eric Clarke, of 3811 Miramontes, has acquired the distinction of owning the only Eivissenc in North America.

An Eivissenc is another name for a Charneque, a Mallorquin, or a Podenco Ibicenco . . . in other words, a Spanish relative of the greyhound.

Eric, who wants to use the dog for hunting, had the four-month-old pup shipped in from Europe.

Its ancestors may have been introduced to the Balearic island of Iviza by the Moors of Phoenicians, and the Eivissenc is recognized as a breed of great antiquity.

Spaniards use the lean animals for hunting rabbits and hare, which their great speed helps them run down.

They hunt by both eye and scent, and Eric says they are considered easier to train for pointing than an English pointer.

"I want to introduce the breed to the Kennel Club of Canada," says Eric.

"They are not recognized here or in the United States, but they are in England."

Eric plans to teach the Eivissenc to point and retrieve . . . after he teaches it English.

Police Grimace as Crooks Beat Rap

By FRANK RUTTER

A smuggler caught off Vancouver Island on Sunday got off free . . .

A bookie discovered using a telephone answering service to take bets on the ponies escaped the clutches of the law . . .

An habitual criminal guilty of dozens of minor offences walked the streets of Vancouver and the police couldn't touch him . . .

All these things have happened or could happen in B.C. because of loopholes in the law.

Deputy attorney-general Gilbert Kennedy is just back from a conference of top legal officials who are trying to plug the loopholes.

They exist in sections of the federal Criminal Code.

ASKED HELP

The conference of deputy provincial attorneys-general asked the federal justice department to help remedy the situation.

Some of the loopholes have been open to the ingenuity of criminals and courts for four years now.

That's how long ago the annual conference drew them to the attention of the federal government.

"With this backlog we are hopeful there will be a new criminal law bill in Parliament shortly," Dr. Kennedy said.

In the case of the Sunday smuggler the law actually handcuffs the RCMP—responsible for water policing B.C.'s territorial waters.

NEEDS OKAY

The Criminal Code says that an alien cannot be charged with a waterborne offence without approval of Canada's attorney-general—the justice minister.

"The RCMP is powerless to enforce small boat regulations in some cases," Dr. Kennedy said.

"Have you ever tried to get the justice minister on a Sunday? It just means that in the case, say of an American, we have to let him go."

This applies in any water offence—such as speeding or not carrying proper safety equipment.

Just in case any Canadian boater is thinking of running rum from Anacortes next Sunday—it won't work.

The legal loophole only applies to aliens, Dr. Kennedy pointed out.

MORE SERIOUS

The case of the gambler's telephone is a more serious one.

The Criminal Code forbids seizure of any telephone equipment owned by the telephone company.

"It was put in to prevent police making raids and tearing out all the phones and destroying them," Dr. Kennedy said. "All the evidence may be destroyed in a gambling conviction."

One B.C. bookie took advantage of this loophole.

He arranged to have his bets placed with an answering service.

There was no personal contact involved at all. The bets were simply recorded and played back by the bookie later.

However, the police caught up with him in the end, Dr. Kennedy said.

The case of the habitual criminal is potentially the most dangerous loophole of all.

TWO STEPS

At present the Criminal Code specifies that action against habituals must be taken in two steps:

First the criminal must be found to be habitual by the court; second another separate order must be issued by the court putting the criminal in custody for the safety of the public.

The result is that the court may find a man is a habitual criminal, but may not be able to ensure his immediate custody.

Clever lawyers could delay it indefinitely.

Dr. Kennedy said the provincial deputies have asked the justice department to review this procedure.

They asked for changes in the other cases.

Firebug Just Misses At Saanich School

FIRE-CHARRED DOOR of Mt. Newton Secondary School is examined by Central Saanich police officer John Gelling. (Times photo)

Police Suspect Juvenile

An apparent deliberate attempt to put the torch to Mount Newton Secondary School on Keating Cross Road early this morning, is being investigated by Central Saanich police, RCMP, and the provincial fire marshal.

The fire, believed to be the work of a juvenile, was discovered at 6:20 a.m. It was burning outside double doors of the grade eight classroom.

The classroom, also used as a library, is on the ground floor of the west wing of the $300,000 school.

It had burned through the door's panels when the Central Saanich fire department arrived.

'JUST IN TIME'

"It was put out just in time," said Fire Chief Larry Rowles. "In another 15 minutes the school would have been ablaze and 300 pupils would have been without accommodation."

Charred pieces of paper were found on the door sill.

An empty glass container, which apparently contained about a quart of gasoline, was found standing on the left side of the door. It was sent to the RCMP crime laboratory for possible fingerprints.

It appeared a bag containing paper and soaked in gas was packed against the door and ignited.

The fire was discovered by janitor Horace Goodwin. He was unaware of the blaze when he first entered the school through the furnace room door on the east side of the school. It was burning on the opposite side of the building.

ROOMS FILLED

He smelled smoke but it was only when he opened the door leading to a corridor that he realized there was serious trouble.

The halls and classrooms were filled with smoke.

Mr. Goodwin quickly located the fire and notified the fire department.

Within 20 minutes the fire burned through the thick panels and had started to lick the upper part of the door.

Damage caused by fire is negligible.

'Substantial' Pay Increase Teachers' Aim

Demands Formulated At Sept. 23 Parley

Greater Victoria teachers will go for a "substantial" increase when they formulate a 1965 salary proposal on Sept. 23, teacher spokesman Norman Preston predicted today.

Greater Victoria Teachers' Association will hold a general meeting then to prepare a submission for School District 61 trustees prior to opening annual negotiations.

They have until Sept. 30 to do this under terms of public school legislation.

Meanwhile, Vancouver Island school teachers have begun annual salary negotiations with 11 district school boards outside Greater Victoria metropolitan area.

In the third year of zonal negotiations, 22 teacher representatives, 11 trustees and three district secretary-treasurers met Saturday in Nanaimo.

SOUNDING BOARD

They used the occasion to sound one another out before specific salary proposals are made.

In Victoria negotiations are based on a metropolitan plan as in Vancouver.

In zonal negotiations, teachers and trustees representing districts all over the island negotiate together, bringing economy and uniformity to agreements.

TWO OUT

Only two districts have opted out this year, Nanaimo and Campbell River, but there is a chance Nanaimo will go in with the others later. At Lake Cowichan and Tofino, trustees are in favor of the plan but teachers are not.

Greater Victoria district chairman Mrs. A. B. Thompson said trustees this year will make a special effort to keep negotiations before the public in a way that can be followed easily.

'Color Code' Drawn For Parking Meters

Downtown streets will acquire extra dabs of bright colors soon if the parking meter color code is accepted by city council.

Next week's public works committee is expected to decide whether parking meters will be switched to the color system of identification. Approval is anticipated.

Under the color code system, the city's 1,750 parking meters will have their posts painted to identify the maximum time allowance—green for two hours, blue for one hour, yellow for half an hour and red for 12 minutes.

The idea, first suggested by the special traffic committee, has been under study for more than a month.

Signs using the same color code will be erected to identify the various parking time zones if the system is formally adopted.

LARGE FAMILY HIT BY FIRE ON RESERVE

A Duncan couple and their eight children will be homeless when they return soon from a berry-picking trip to Washington.

Monday night their four-room house on Quamichan Indian Reserve was destroyed by fire.

Owner of the eight-year-old house is Ray Goldsmith, 34. He, his wife and children, ranging from 4 to 13 years old, have been away for three months.

Estimated loss of the house and furniture is around $3,000.

Two trucks and 18 firemen attended the blaze but were unable to save anything.

Ask The Times

Q.—Did Eddie Matthews of the Milwaukee Braves baseball team hit a home run in the ninth inning of a world series game between 1955 and 1960?—D.L.

A.—No. The Braves met New York Yankees in 1957 and '58 but failed to score any runs in their half of the ninth in either of the seven-game series.

You could be thinking of Matthews' dramatic three-run homer which came in the 10th inning of the fourth game of the '57 series which gave the Braves a 7-5 victory.

HE'D LIKE TO BE AFLOAT, NOT ALOFT, AFTER WHEELS-UP LANDING

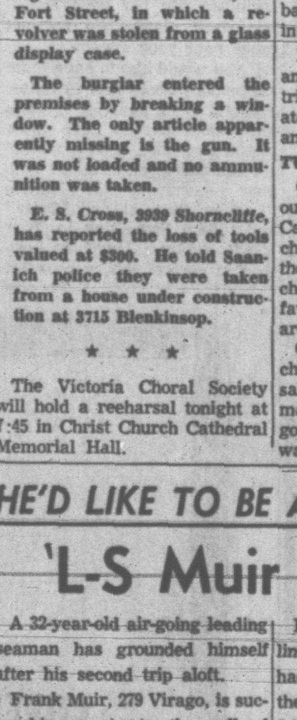
'L-S Muir Reporting for Sea Duty, Sir . . . Please?'

A 32-year-old air-going leading seaman has grounded himself after his second trip aloft.

Frank Muir, 279 Virago, is succumbing again to the call of the sea.

That call developed loud-hailer proportions Monday night when Muir and three others belly-landed a Tracker aircraft on a Patricia Bay airport runway.

"That's my last," said Muir minutes after scrambling from the Royal Canadian Navy's VU Utility Squadron two-engine, $2.5 million plane.



FRANK MUIR
. . . my shattered nerves

Pilot Lt.-Cmdr. A. A. Schellinck, 38, of 134 West Saanich, had brought the plane down on the concrete runway leaving a 3,000-foot plume of sparks in its wake.

He had been unable to lower the plane's landing gear because of a failure in the hydraulic system.

Others who survived the crash-landing were co-pilot Lieut.-Cmdr. Stan C. Wood, 41, of HMCS Discovery, Vancouver, and Petty Officer R. W. Higgins, 27, Wakefield, Que., who is based at HMCS Shearwater.

ON EXERCISE

They had been taking part in Exercise Hardshot, a joint U.S.-Canadian naval operation off the coast.

The drama started when they circled for landing at about 8:30 p.m. and went through pre-landing routine.

Lieut.-Cmdr. Schellinck, commanding officer of the squadron, said he selected the "undercarriage down" switch, but nothing happened.

They tried a hand-operated auxiliary system, which has an independent hydraulic fluid supply. After checking out with technical assistance radioed from the control tower, both systems were found to be empty.

"We tried everything," the pilot said.

He finally set the powerful plane down on its underbelly and propeller blades at 140 miles an hour.

The tenseness of its approach was heightened by the sudden silence when engines were cut, propellers feathered and all electrical switches tripped off just a few feet above the concrete runway.

A plume of orange sparks outlined the plane as it touched, rocked from port to starboard propellers and slewed onto a grassy verge with jet-like roar.

The crew popped plastic bubble canopies while in the air to ensure their easy escape in case the Tracker caught fire. All tumbled out and ran from the plane as ground crew sent up a cheer.

The plane still had an hour's gasoline supply in its tanks.

Naval firefighters, crash crew and ambulance that had stood by for the anxious moment drew up and spread foam chemical over the engines and belly to reduce fire hazard.

The drama had lasted nearly two hours.

DEAR ABBY . . .

Squeeze Play

By ABIGAIL VAN BUREN

DEAR ABBY: About two years ago my sister told me that my husband never missed a chance to hug and squeeze a certain woman we both know. I asked my husband about this and he denied it. My sister has a habit of making a lot of nothing, so I let the matter drop. I had really forgotten all about it until I saw this woman at our church picnic. My husband didn't know I was watching him and he came up behind this woman, placed both his hands on her bare arms and gave her a squeeze. She didn't seem surprised or angry, either. Since then I told my husband not to speak to me. I'd go to this woman's husband and tell him about it, but he's very jealous and might hurt my husband. Am I making something out of nothing, or do you think I have a problem? I've had men try stuff like that with me, but I've always given them such a dirty look they never tried it again. I'd appreciate your advice.

TROUBLED

DEAR TROUBLED: Start talking to your husband and ask him to forgive your childish behavior. Your sister is a troublemaker. Avoid her. The woman probably knew your husband's "squeeze" was nothing more than an affectionate, innocent gesture. Grow up and thaw out or you'll create more problems than can be solved in one letter.

DEAR ABBY: I am blonde, five feet three inches tall, weigh 110 pounds and have a fairly good shape. I live in a nice apartment which is beautifully furnished with my own things; in fact, I decorated it myself. I make a good living, do all kinds of art work as a hobby and have even sold some of my oil paintings. I can put on wallpaper as good as any professional, also paint, lay tile and even repair my own car. I am my own cook-housekeeper and I make my own clothes. When I go out there isn't a dance I can't do. Do you think I need a man?

MISS INDEPENDENT

DEAR MISS: Obviously you do, or the question would never have occurred to you.

DEAR ABBY: I still love this boy I went steady with. We broke up about two months ago. I have tried everything to forget him, but it is no use because I loved him too much from the start. I have called him up and all my girl friends have called him up, too, trying to get him to go back with me. They all say we are perfect for each other. He always says he has something important to do. How can I get him back?

STILL CARES

DEAR STILL: If you want to get this boy back, your technique could hardly be worse. You've probably wrecked your chances by now so you have nothing to lose by ignoring him entirely, which is what you should have done in the first place.

Take Time Now and Equip Youngsters for Rainy Days

By PENNY SAVER

Ah! This gorgeous Victoria weather. How many cities other than ours can enjoy such warm sunny days at this time of the year?

Not many, I'll warrant. And, I suppose it will be only a matter of days before ours is over, too.

Then, it's out with rain togs, galoshes and other befuddling, but necessary, wear as the winter rains set in.

Still, there's no call to "get down in the dumps" over it. One look at the new trends in rainwear and you'll find the sun shining again—if only through your own smile.

Styled for the petite miss (that is, those who can wear from size 4 to 6x and 7 to 12) are raincoats that sell at $5.98.

They are made of clear plastic over printed cottons and are highlighted with matching print covered buttons. Included in this price are the popular triangle scarves. These have a snap button under the chin.

Colors include blue, green and yellow and to make your youngsters even more fashionable, accent one of the colors in the print by having her wear matching or contrasting tights or knee socks.

Fashion news isn't all for the fairer sex so here's some news for the elementary school lad.

Selling at $8.98 are reversible rain jackets. Sizes range up to 7 and coats are made of lightweight waterproof fabric that is plain on one side and checked on the other.

Styling of these jackets is similar to that of a sports coat and makes an ideal mate for casual or dressy pants.

Prepare for what's to come and equip your youngsters with rainy day wear now. But, first call Penny at 382-3131 and find out where she shopped.

WHY GROW OLD?

By JOSEPHINE LOWMAN

Glasses Actually Can Enhance Your Beauty

Those who write about beauty have long been trying to sell women on the idea that glasses can be an asset instead of a handicap. This, along with the medical campaign for regular eye examinations and the early detection of serious eye disease, have improved the situation tremendously.

Lowman

Women no longer feel that glasses are a badge of middle age. This is due in part to the above efforts and also to the fact that more children, teenagers, and women who need glasses wear them. Also these aids have become so decorative and attractive that they really can be flattering! The right shape and the right color are available for every face.

There are definite things to remember if your lenses are to make you more attractive. You should consider the shape of your face. If you have a very long face do not buy glasses which dip at the bottom and zoom upward at the sides. Cut the length with glasses which do not have the upward curve.

Glasses which have no rims and those which are light in color have a tendency to make the face appear broader.

The turned up hat, the one with a rolled up brim which is so popular today, is not flattering to the woman who wears glasses. The currently fashionable draped hat which covers the hair or one which has an uneven brim is much better.

Blonde women look well when wearing glasses with blonde rims. White frames are stunning with a suntanned face, while gold or pink frames are flattering to the woman with grey hair. Remember that high necklines are not good and if you wear glasses do not put rouge near your eyes.

If you would like to have more suggestions about how to flatter yourself when wearing glasses and would like to have more restful exercises, send a stamped, self-addressed envelope with your request for the leaflets "Looking Straight and Pretty" and "Keep Something in Your Eye." Address Josephine Lowman in care of this newspaper.

Couple Exchange Vows at Ganges

A number of Victorians travelled to Ganges, Salt Spring Island, recently to hear marriage vows exchanged between Lavinia Precella Allard and Leslie Frederick Wagg.

They included Mr. and Mrs. G. W. Brookbank, grandparents of the bride; Mr. and Mrs. C. Cooper, her great-uncle and aunt; Mr. and Mrs. W. J. Brookbank, Mr. and Mrs. Douglas Wagg, Mr. and Mrs. G. Gandy, Mr. and Mrs. W. Gandy, Mr. and Mrs. Jack Jones, Mr. and Mrs. J. Brooks, Mr. and Mrs. Fergus Reid, Mr. and Mrs. Gordon Reid, Mrs. Tina Reynolds, Miss Maisie Willis, Stuart Reid and Marcel Bouchard.

Rev. W. Mudge officiated at the double-ring ceremony in Our Lady of Grace Catholic Church at Ganges that united the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Henry Allard, Churchill Road, and the son of Mr. and Mrs. Cyril Wagg, Ganges Hill. W. J. E. Brookbank, Squamish, uncle of the bride, was soloist.

Entering the church on the arm of her father, the bride wore a classic-style floor-length gown of white organza over taffeta. The fitted bodice was fashioned with lace neckline, lily point sleeves and large bow at back waistline. The full skirt, which extended into a train, was highlighted with a lace-centred front panel.

A pearl filigree headpiece held the chapel-length nylon net veil. Only jewelry was a gold watch, gift of the groom. She carried American Beauty roses and white carnations.

Mrs. Harold Leader, Shawnigan Lake, was matron of honor for her step-sister. She wore a turquoise silk brocade sheath with white whimsie and carried pink carnations.

Bridesmaids, the Misses Sally Barker and Roberta Akerman wore identical gowns of deep turquoise embroidered taffeta with white whimsies. Pink carnations were in their bouquets.

Five-year-old Kathleen Stewart, Cobble Hill, was flower girl for her aunt in a white nylon frock accented with a turquoise sash. A circlet of flowers was in her hair and she carried a pink posy.

Her seven-year-old brother Rodger was ring bearer.

Frank De Jong was best man and guests were ushered by Max Allard, Ocean Falls, and Douglas Wagg, Victoria, brothers of the principals.

A three-tier wedding cake topped with a bride and groom and flanked by vases of flowers centred the bride's table at a reception in Harbour House Hotel. Patrick Parker, Duncan, proposed the toast.

On return from a honeymoon motoring trip in the interior, the couple will make their home at Fernwood, Salt Spring Island.

The bride's going-away outfit was a rose pink linen suit with scarf neckline and large pearl buttons. Beige hat and accessories and toning corsage completed the ensemble.

Other off-island guests at the ceremony included Mr. and Mrs. V. A. Brookbank and Susan, Mr. James Allard, Mr. and Mrs. Patrick Parker with Glen and Gerry, Mr. and Mrs. Michael Marrs, Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Mayea, Mr. and Mrs. Albert Mayea, Mr. and Mrs. H. Stewart of Cobble Hill and Mr. and Mrs. Harold Leader of Shawnigan Lake.

How to Finish Facing Under the Buttonholes

Dear Eunice:

After you have made bound buttonholes in a coat, how do you finish the facing under the buttonholes? I have tried making bound buttonholes on both the garment fronts and on the facings and slip-stitching them together.

Mrs. T.M.

Dear Mrs. T.M.:

First, I wouldn't suggest you make bound buttonholes on both facing and garment and then try to slip-stitch them together. It is much too thick and bulky with those extra layers of fabric.

The secret to a successful finishing of the buttonholes on the facing is to begin by pinning through the entire coat fronts both above and below the buttonhole. Place a pin through each end of the buttonhole between the two welts, from the wrong side. Cut through the facing from one pin across to the other. Carefully turn a small edge of the facing under and slip stitch to the welt of your buttonhole. The pin you have placed above and below should keep you from turning under too much, which would cause a puffy look between the buttonholes on the right side. For my free leaflet on complete button-hole instructions, send your request to Sew Simple, in care of this newspaper. Be sure to enclose a self-addressed, stamped envelope with your request.

Fresh Peach Shortcake anyone? Then step right this way to scrumptious hot buttered biscuit layers, filled with fresh peach slices and whipped cream. Or—cut an angel cake into layers, then fill them with whipped cream or ice cream and sliced fresh peaches!
"Corn-y" Dishes
Probably like us, you find that nothing beats corn-on-the-cob "as is", with gobs of butter and salt. Or use in Corn Waffles, fresh Corn Chowder, or Corn Omelets.
Peaches, Alaska Style
In the glamor dessert department, Individual Fresh Peach Alaskas rank high among September favorites. Wrap a bread board with aluminum foil and put on it the number of Maryann or tart shells desired. In the centre of each shell place a fresh, peeled peach half, hollow side up, scooping ice cream generously in each peach half. Now cover the ice cream completely with meringue—the same kind you use for pies—making sure that all of the ice cream and fruit is covered. This insulates the ice cream . . . so that you can bake these Alaskas in a hot oven till the meringue is golden brown—about 5 minutes. Serve immediately, naturally!
Plum Good
How about a fresh-from-the-oven Plum Crisp for dessert tonight? Nice way to say "welcome home" to your family! Pit and slice about a dozen ripe blue plums into a buttered baking dish. Cover with this topping. Cream ⅓ cup butter; blend in ⅓ cup flour, 1 teaspoon cinnamon, ¾ cup brown sugar and ⅓ cup rolled oats. Bake at 375°F. until the fruit is tender and the topping crisp—about half an hour. Serve it warm, with chilled pouring cream.

Following a honeymoon trip that will take them to Toronto, Chicago, Buffalo, Cleveland and Montreal, Mr. and Mrs. Albert Paul Boden will make their home in Victoria.

Entering the church on the arm of her grandfather, Alexander S. Derman, the bride was lovely in a full-length gown of white nylon over taffeta enhanced with lace and seed pearl appliques.

The bodice was styled with scalloped neckline and the full skirt extended into a slight train. Her veil misted to shoulder-length from an exquisite tiara of lace flowers. Only jewelry was an heirloom necklace of gold, seed pearls and diamonds. She carried a crescent bouquet of red roses and stephanotis.

Bell-skirted gowns of turquoise peau de soie were choice of matron of honor, Mrs. Michael McGuire; bridesmatron, Mrs. Daryle Foster, and bridesmaids, the Misses Sheila Derman and Beverley Schwab.

Their headpieces were matching roses trimmed with illusion net and they carried bouquets of orchid gladioli with turquoise lace and ribbon.

Flower girl, Miss Cindy Scroggs, wore a full-skirted white silk frock with matching hat and carried a basket of turquoise and white blososms.

Ring bearers were Miss Suzanne Jones and Master Michael Ward. The little girl was gowned in white silk and carried tiny turquoise and white gladioli. The rings were carried on a turquoise silk cushion.

Thomas Armstrong was best man and guests were ushered by Brian Hornidge, James Sheaff and Barrie Neff.

Baskets of multi-toned flowers decorated the Club Soho for a reception that followed. A three-tier wedding cake decorated with pink roses centred the bride's table. Toast was proposed by Leo Derman.

The bride's going-away outfit was a turquoise raw silk sheath with matching coat, black accessories and rose corsage.

'Wishy-Washy' Religion Is 'Out'

EDMONTON (CP) — The Woman's Auxiliary of the Anglican Church of Canada was told Monday it must adapt to a changing world or suffer the consequences.

President Mrs. John Robertson and Rev. K. C. McMillan, general secretary of the Canadian Bible Society, told delegates they must look for new fields in which to serve and must adapt their thinking to the demands of 1964.

"The wishy-washy Christianity of yesterday, made up of little ethical idealism and a great deal of secular optimism, is totally inadequate today," Dr. McMillan, a Presbyterian, told the opening session of the auxiliary's four-day annual meeting.

"You women must prepare yourselves to be interested in people who do not think as you do and who are not interested in many of your ideas, if you are to be effective."

The WA must adapt itself to the "new woman" in Canada, who has a job and spends only part of her life as a housewife; to youngsters who have barely heard of the Second World War or the depression and to thousands of people who were suffering from the effects of automation, he said.

MUST GET HANDS DIRTY

"Don't just study social problems, but identify yourselves with the people who have them. Get your hands a little dirty."

Mrs. Robertson urged members to make a greater effort to be elected to church synods where they could help with questions of housing, immigration, and social problems and to study and pray more with those who were not WA members.

"We must not seek status, but must make it clear our aim is the wholeness of the church," she said.

The WA no longer should leave the question of providing suitable homes for the aged to the Roman Catholics, the Salvation Army and the Lutherans," but should be prepared to do their share as Anglicans.

The conference began intensive business sessions today with presentation of reports by the secretary and treasurer and a study on the trend of thinking in women's parish organizations.

Premier Manning was to address delegates at a banquet given by the Alberta government tonight.

Control of Air Pollution —A Government Problem

The provincial government should enact mandatory standards for control of air pollution on a province-wide basis. This was recommendation made by Mrs. A. H. Gunning, president of the Association of Women Electors at meeting of the Victoria Council of Women held in the Public Library music room, Monday afternoon.

Air pollution is damaging to a person's health, she stated, and advised that the government should institute a pollution control advisory council to look into the situation.

Mrs. H. Summers-Clark presided at the meeting and presented her report on the national convention held in Hamilton last May.

It was announced that the executive will appoint six delegates to attend semi-annual provincial meeting, to be held in Trail later in the year.

Plans were discussed for the council's participation in activities arranged for Canada-Mysore Week, September 19 to 26.

This is a co-operative effort by the Canadian and Indian people with the aim of establishing a training centre in Mysore, India, where men and women from Southeast Asian countries will be taught processing, packaging and storage methods by which essential foods can be preserved and distributed among hungry people in underprivileged Asian countries.

The council will be in charge of the "share a loaf" cards stand in the Hudson's Bay, September 21 and will hold a "bring and buy" sale and coffee and tea party in the Hudson's Bay Douglas Room on the 22nd.

BRIDGE LESSON

By OSWALD JACOBY

The book lead from the West hand is the three of clubs, his fourth best. West was well up in book learning, but he also believed in common sense. He felt certain that he wanted to hold the first trick.

Opening lead—♣K

He opened the king of clubs. East allowed him to hold the trick, whereupon West shifted to a heart and East cashed two heart tricks to defeat the contract.

South promptly took out after his partner. "Where did you get that three diamond raise?" he asked. "Twelve high card points is a minimum of minimums."

"My hand is a lot more than a minimum in support of diamonds," retorted North. "And where did you dig up your jump to five? Don't you think four diamonds would have been enough? If you had bid only four diamonds, I would have had a chance to bid four spades which cannot be defeated."

North was entirely correct. His hand was worth a raise to three diamonds and the South hand was not worth a jump to five diamonds. Four diamonds would have been sufficient. In fact, some players might have bid three spades instead of any diamond rebid. Either of these calls would have allowed North to place the contract in the winning spot.

FRONTIERS OF SCIENCE

WHEN THE EARTH STANDS STILL - Part 2

THE SLOWING DOWN OF THE EARTH'S SPIN IS CAUSED BY THE TIDES. THE GRAVITY OF THE MOON AND SUN CAUSE BULGES IN THE OCEANS...
EARTH IN ORBIT
EXCESS GRAVITY
EXCESS CENTRIFUGAL FORCE
...AND AS THE SOLID EARTH ROTATES LAND MASSES CAN "RUN INTO" A BULGE GIVING HIGH TIDE OR "OUT OF" A BULGE GIVING LOW TIDE.
9-15
THIS TIDAL FRICTION IS SLOWING DOWN THE EARTH'S SPIN. IF AN ACCURATE CLOCK COULD HAVE BEEN SET GOING 2000 YEARS AGO, THE EARTH WOULD NOW BE LAGGING BEHIND IT BY ALMOST TWO HOURS.

Andy Stephen Looks at TV

The Voyage to the Bottom of the Sea is also a voyage through one hour of frenzied adventure.

The action-packed series launched on Channel 8 Saturday, Channel 6 Sunday and Channel 4 Monday. If you like your adventure triple-header style then it's yours on those days.

Stephen

It's about a submarine in the year 1973 assigned to government missions. Richard Basehart stars as the scientist. In the premiere, the mission was to head off a tidal wave with a nuclear explosion in the frozen expanse of the Arctic.

Some foreign power was trying to ward off the U.S. attempt, hoping to create havoc and destruction throughout world coastal regions.

The action started furiously with a gun battle between a helicopter carrying the bad guys, or the forces of evil, and a car carrying the blue-eyed, square-jawed champion good guys, James Bond style.

The good guys had all their hair and wore U.S. naval uniforms, while the bad guys were slant-eyed, bald-headed, claw-handed and wore turtleneck sweaters. Sound like someone you know, Mao?

Then there was a fight with an octopus, Walt Disney style. Whew, I was glad no one got hurt.

The Seaview is the real star, for it's a glass-nosed, atomic-powered submarine which is capable of diving to incredible depths and carry out unbelievable feats. It even has a secret hideaway, just like the Green Hornet's car.

Voyage is the modern-day version of Jules Verne's 20,000 Leagues Under the Sea, except Seaview is being used for champion purposes and Captain Nemo (Basehart) has no ambition except to fight evil.

ABC-TV has a winner in this series. It's juvenile enough to capture the imagination of young and old alike. It was very reminiscent of the adventures in the Boy's Own Annual.

Oh, yeah, the good guys came out on top. In fact, a warm feeling of security welled over me when Basehart, through clenched teeth, pledged: "As long as there are evil forces in the world the Seaview's job will never be done."

Aren't you happy you can continue to plan your vacation for next year?

* * *

Each afternoon at 5 p.m, a personable young man with a ready smile and an accordion appears on Channel 5 with a pleasant program for children.

Stan Boreson has for years sung his way in and out of the program with a song whose words, until today, defied solution.

From his Klubhouse song, here are the words:

"Zero Dacus Moocho Cracus,
Halabalooza bub . . .

That's the secret password that we use down at the club.

Zero Dacus Moocho Cracus,
Halabaloza fan . . .

Means now you are a member of KING TV's club with Stan."

The annual Kinsmen Club fall fair won't be held this year because the group doesn't have enough members, says president Harry Coote.

"It's a major job and we simply don't have enough members to handle it properly," he said.

The 24-member club has put on a fair for the last two years.

"If there were enough people to handle the job properly an annual fair would easily make money," said Mr. Coote.

ARAB REFUGEES LOSING INITIATIVE

VANCOUVER (CP) — A University of British Columbia student just returned from the Middle East says that United Nations generosity is killing the initiative of Palestinian refugees in the Arab countries.

Neil Griggs, 25, told interviewers that the UN is doing such a good job feeding and clothing the more than 1,000,000 refugees who fled Israel in 1948 that they are losing all will to do anything for themselves.

He said that after 16 years they seem content to remain living in hovels in refugee camps, never doing a bit of work, with a vague hope that some day they will be restored to their homes in Israel.

Griggs was a member of YMCA leadership training program group which were working in camps in Jordan, Lebanon, Gaza and Syria for four months.

"You look around there and you see thousands of young boys (spiritually) dying around you," he said. "They don't know why they should work, or even play. "They just ask what use is it."

The purpose of the program in which he took part was to seek out potential leaders from the young people in the camps and teach them sports and leadership techniques in the hope of stimulating interests in other young people.

Sweeping Changes In New Railway Bill

OTTAWA (CP) — Sweeping changes in railway legislation have been proposed by the government in line with the recommendations of the MacPherson royal commission on transportation.

A massive, highly - complex bill relating to freight rates, subsidies and abandonment of money-losing branch lines and passenger services was given first reading in the Commons Monday night.

Transport Minister Pickersgill described the proposed changes as "revolutionary." They include the following:

1. Railways would be freed to set most freight rates at a "compensatory" or pay-as-you-go level.

2. All rates relating to grain and flour would be frozen at their present levels; resulting losses to railways would be covered by annual subsidies.

3. Railways would be permitted to abandon money-losing branch lines over a period of 15 years, receiving subsidies of up to $13,000,000 annually during the transition period.

COULD CANCEL SERVICES

4. Railways would be allowed to cancel uneconomic passenger train services over the next five years, receiving an aggregate subsidy of up to $186,000,000 to cover their losses in the meantime. These subsidies would diminish gradually from $62,000,000 this year to $12,400,000 in 1968.

5. The "bridge subsidy" to the CNR and CPR for freight moving across Northern Ontario would be cancelled effective July 1, 1964. Started in 1952, this subsidy amounts to about $7,000,000 each year.

6. Freight rates on "captive" traffic would still be regulated by the board of transport commissioners.

The changes would result in railway subsidies totalling slightly more than $100,000,000 in the first year. These subsidies would diminish steadily over 15 years.

The Maritime Freight Rates Act would not be affected by the 34-page bill introduced Monday. Mr. Pickersgill said further amendments flowing from the 1961-62 reports of the royal commission headed by Regina lawyer M. A. MacPherson are under consideration.

WOULD RELAX CONTROLS

The minister said the changes would greatly relax government controls over railways, giving the companies more flexibility to compete against truckers, airlines, ships and pipelines.

He assured the Commons, however, that public interest will be placed ahead of balance sheets. He denied charges that the big railway subsidies will undermine the trucking industry and other competing carriers.

Debate on second reading will be put off for at least a week to give MPs and all interested parties time to study the details of the legislation.

Mr. Pickersgill said the bill will be sent to the transport committee for public hearings after it receives second reading—approval in principle.

Today, the Commons resumes debate on a bill lifting the ceiling on farm improvement loans to $15,000 from $7,500. The measure has all-party support and is expected to be passed swiftly.

In the brief debate on a vaguely-worded resolution preceding the railway amendments, opposition MPs indicated they will take a tough line.

Douglas Fisher (NDP—Port Arthur) said his group likely will vote against the measure because it would make wholesale and dangerous changes in the freight rate structure.

SAYS RATES COULD GO UP

The changes would benefit the CNR and CPR, but at the expense of shippers, train passengers and truckers. Rates could go up sharply on the Prairies and in Northern Ontario, said Mr. Fisher.

Branch Lines Due for Axe

OTTAWA (CP)—Most or all of the money-losing railway branch lines in Canada, the majority located on the Prairies, would be ripped up gradually during the next 15 years under a bill introduced in the Commons Monday night.

A three-man "rationalization authority" responsible to the agriculture minister would be set up to plan an orderly abandonment of the uneconomic lines.

A fund of $13,000,000 would be created to subsidize the red-ink lines before they are abandoned. The fund would be replenished each year by Parliament to keep it at the $13,000,000 level.

The authority would hold public hearings and hear sworn testimony from community leaders and railway representatives before setting a date for the abandonment of a particular branch line.

Lines that are duplicated by good highways or another railway would be eliminated first. Lines that are still needed in the public interest would be retained for an adjustment period ranging up to 15 years.

MUST COMPENSATE MEN

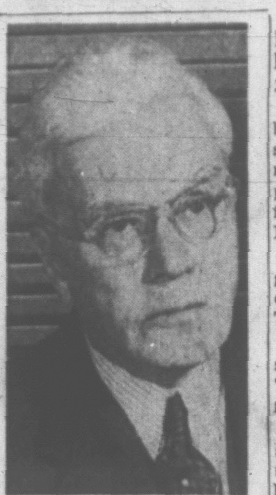
The bill also provides that the railways must compensate any employee for financial loss resulting from displacement after a line is abandoned.

The board of transport commissioners would still be charged with determining whether a branch line is self-supporting or not.

The board would report its findings to the rationalization authority, which would hold hearings and announce a decision.

The authority's orders to the railways could be appealed to the federal cabinet within 30 days. The cabinet would be empowered to compel railways to continue operating money-losing branch lines after the 15-year period if the public interest warranted it.



SEN. FARRIS
. . . law invalid?

Judges at 75 Not Too Old Says Senator

VANCOUVER (CP) — The dean of British Columbia lawyers suggested Monday that federal legislation making it mandatory for judges to retire at 75 may be unconstitutional.

Senator J. W. deB. Farris said in welcoming Chief Justice H. I. Bird of British Columbia to his new post:

"It is regrettable that judges who have stood up to every test over the years, who have proved their ability and value and are capable of carrying on should be required to retire at 75. I feel this law is unconstitutional."

Chief Justice Bird, 72, appointed chief of B.C.'s judiciary last month, said he would be happy to retire at 75. But he added that some of his brother judges had been required to retire "at a time when they still had many more years of service to offer."

STARTED AS LARK

He Sells Canned Coast Air

VANCOUVER (CP) — Fred Morrish is gambling on the belief that people will buy anything—and so far it seems to be working.

Mr. Morrish is in the canned air business. Not just any canned air, but "genuine Pacific Ocean air" from Vancouver.

"I don't really know how I got into the business, but people seem to buy anything these days," says the 36-year-old promoter.

"One of the main selling points is that it just costs five cents to mail anywhere in the U.S. and Canada.

"It was just a lark to begin with, but now I'm thinking of canning and selling Rocky Mountain and Prairie air.

And how do you can air?

"Why we just open the cannery windows and let the air blow into the cans."

Foster Child Badly Beaten By 'Mother'

WINNIPEG (CP) — A 14-months-old girl suffered brain damage which has left her mentally retarded in a beating by a foster mother, a Crown prosecutor told provincial police court Monday.

Prosecutor Lawrie Mitchell said the baby required three operations after being admitted to hospital here April 8. He said doctors felt the girl's chances of returning to a normal level of mental development were not good.

Mrs. Katherine Wall, 39, of the nearby municipality of Brooklands, pleaded guilty to a charge of assault occasioning actual bodily harm. Magistrate G. L. Cousley suspended sentence pending a psychiatric report.

The magistrate said it was almost unbelievable that a mother of four could have acted in such a cruel manner towards a child she was supposed to be caring for.

Mrs. Wall, in a statement of admission, said she had taken in foster children for the St. Boniface Indian Welfare Department since May, 1963. She said the child she beat was "a cranky baby . . . she got on my nerves."

Mrs. Wall said the baby would not stop crying and "I could not stand her any longer." She said she beat the child and banged her head on the floor.

Rioting Costly

PHILADELPHIA (AP) — Mayor James H. J. Tate said Monday the North Philadelphia rioting the weekend of Aug. 28 will cost the city $4,195,000. Biggest item is $2,500,000 to satisfy claims of shopkeepers and others whose property was looted and damaged during the riots involving mainly Negroes.

Yank Yacht Leads

NEWPORT, R.I. (AP)—Constellation, the United States' defender in the America's Cup competition, got off to a thrilling start today in the first race against the British challenger Sovereign, and by the end of the fourth leg had built up an advantage of 2 minutes 57 seconds.

Robert Bavier Jr. of Darien, Conn., helmsman of the Constellation, outpointed his rivals at the start and drove the defender between the Sovereign and the committee boat for what one veteran said was the "most exciting start in the modern history of the cup."

The two 12-metre yachts crossed the starting line at the America's Cup buoy in Rhode Island Sound off Newport at about 12:34 p.m. EDT. Constellation edged into a favorable position to the windward of her rival as they manoeuvred in gentle swells coming up to the line and took a slight lead at the start.

Weather conditions were excellent, with a southwest breeze of about 10 knots and a gentle swell on the water.

Helmsman Robert Bavier got the Constellation off in a far superior windward position over the blue-hulled Sovereign with Peter Scott at the helm.

BEHIND GUN

The two craft were about 20 seconds behind the opening gun in getting over the starting line.

The spectator fleet was only around 200 compared to more than 2,000 here two years ago when the U.S. won the Cup for the 19th time as America's Weatherly beat Australia's Gretel.

Bavier slid his boat a full length ahead and four lengths to the favorable windward position within five minutes of the start of the six-leg, 24-mile course.

They race a triangular course first, then three parallel courses with the last heading into the wind which was blowing from the west southwest.

Result of the first race was considered a good indication whether Britain has a good chance of winning the cup for the first time in 113 years. The series is the best four-out-of-seven races.

EXCITING MANOEUVRE by helmsman Bob Bavier sent Constellation (top), U.S. defender of the America's Cup, into the lead over British rival, Sovereign, at the start of today's opening race off Newport, R.I.

Pr. George To Get PGE Headquarters

WHITE HORSE, Y.T. (CP)—Premier Bennett said Monday operational headquarters for the British Columbia government-owned Pacific Great Eastern Railway will be moved to Prince George from Vancouver.

The premier told reporters the move is part of a program to streamline the operation of the railway.

Mr. Bennett also said that the railway is conducting economic studies into possible extension of the line 300 miles to Fort Nelson from Fort St. John.

Mr. Bennett said the moving of the operational headquarters, scheduled for next fall, is at the recommendation of J. S. Broadbent, general manager of the PGE.

He said Prince George, where a new station is to be built at the railway's industrial park, is the centre of the PGE's operation. By moving operation control there the railway's efficiency would be improved.

Executive offices would remain in Vancouver.

Flag 'Truce' Broken By Skirmishes on TV

By KEN KELLY

OTTAWA (CP) — Broadcasts by Prime Minister Pearson and Opposition Leader Diefenbaker appear to have brought the flag issue to a new boiling point.

On the eve of appointment of a Commons committee to find a compromise flag design, Opposition Leader Diefenbaker implied in a CBC broadcast that the maple leaf symbol—the chief feature of the government's proposed flag design—has no place on a distinctive flag.

At the same time, he sharply criticized Prime Minister Pearson for saying on a CBC broadcast Sunday that Canada will have a flag by Christmas based on the maple leaf symbol.

T. C. Douglas, New Democratic leader, in the House today urged a moratorium on predictions as to what the flag committee will recommend on the design for a new flag.

The flag committee, which may be named today, was agreed upon among party leaders to end the long Commons wrangle over the government's proposed design of three red maple leaves on a white ground with a vertical blue bar at each edge.

Mr. Diefenbaker reiterated the position he has stated for the Progressive Conservatives—the 15-member flag committee must reach virtual unanimity, at least 13 members, on the design.

He also renewed earlier appeals for a plebiscite but added the suggestion that all Canadians 18 years and over be permitted to vote in it.

'FLAG BY CHRISTMAS'

Mr. Diefenbaker said that Mr. Pearson, after promising a free and unfettered Commons committee, told his Sunday audience he wanted "a flag on which there will be a maple leaf, and I am going to get that flag by Christmas."

"Now I have no objection to a maple leaf," Mr. Diefenbaker said. "I don't criticize it as a symbol of the country—but can you tell me any country in the world that ever put a symbol on its flag. Do we have a British lion on the Union Jack? Do

Overpasses Cleared For VIP Cavalcade

VANCOUVER (CP) — Prime Minister Pearson and President Johnson will whisk at 60 miles an hour between here and Blaine, Wash., Wednesday.

Officials said today that during that time all traffic will be cleared from the Deas Island throughway between here and the border.

At the same time about 20 overpasses and pedestrian walks across the throughway will be kept clear by some of the 200 RCMP on duty with undisclosed numbers of other security agents during the brief stop of the president in Canada.

Prime Minister Pearson will spend about 24 hours in the Vancouver area following the international ceremonies marking completion of the Columbia River Treaty.

Liberal party headquarters said that following the airport and Peace Arch ceremonies, Mr. Pearson will bid goodbye to President Johnson at Vancouver International Airport, possibly about 4 p.m.

After that, he will take part in a ceremony in which a federal government cheque for $273,000,000 will be turned over to Premier Bennett of B.C.

The following day he will hold a 10 a.m. press conference in Hotel Vancouver, then will be free until 12:15 p.m. when he will speak to the Men's Canadian Club in the hotel.

New Bill Will Allow Cuts In Passenger Rail Service

OTTAWA (CP) — Passenger train service across Canada could be curtailed drastically during the next five years under a bill introduced in the Commons Monday night.

Far-reaching amendments to the Railway Act would empower the railways to drop all their money-losing passenger runs in a gradual five-year process.

The federal treasury would compensate the CNR and CPR in the meantime with subsidies totalling a maximum of $186,000,000 to cover deficits incurred in passenger operations.

Smaller subsidies would be extended to other railways under federal jurisdiction.

The only exception to the abandonment rule would apply to commuter trains in the large cities. These would have to be continued whether they make money or not.

Where adequate highway systems exist, the board of transport commissioners would be empowered to approve the immediate cancellation of passenger trains that consistently lose money.

Passenger services for isolated communities would be continued for a maximum of five years, depending on the requirements of the local residents. The transport board would hold public hearings to determine the earliest possible cut-off date.

Railways would be given greater freedom in setting passenger fares on remaining runs. The board would be authorized to disallow or suspend any fare if considered "unjust and unreasonable."

Close Vote Expected In Britain

LONDON (Reuters) — The British general election will take place Oct. 15, it was announced today.

The announcement was made shortly after Prime Minister Sir Alec Douglas-Home flew back to London from Scotland where he had an audience with Queen Elizabeth and asked her to dissolve the present Parliament.

The Conservative prime minister, who made the announcement, picked the date observers had been forecasting for several months.

The present Parliament—first in peace-time to run its full life since a five-year limit was imposed in 1911—will be dissolved by Queen Elizabeth Sept. 25 in preparation for the election.

The long-waited official announcement of election day came amid wide expectation of a close verdict with possibly only a small majority for either the ruling Conservatives or the Opposition Labor party.

The announcement from 10 Downing Street, the prime minister's residence, said the new Parliament will be opened Nov. 3.

Members of the new Parliament will be sworn in Oct. 27.

Conservatives, who have ruled Britain continuously for 13 years, are aiming for an all-time parliamentary record by winning a fourth consecutive five-year term of power.

CRITICAL FOR LABOR

The outcome will be critical for the Labor party, whose political future could be in jeopardy if it is again decisively beaten.

The Labor party, led by Harold Wilson, has to wipe out a present Conservative majority of 84 in the 630-seat House of Commons. The Conservative majority has been built up in each of the three elections since the 1951 Churchill government ousted the second post-war Labor government.

If Labor is beaten next month, it will mean the party will have been out of power for possibly 18 years before its next chance of forming a government.

Such a further long spell in opposition could produce grave internal strains in the Labor party and even threaten its survival in its present form.

At present three separate nation-wide polls show an un-

Meanwhile, the Philippine navy reported heavy damage on the northeastern tip of Luzon Island from Typhoon Sally, which hit the area Sept. 9.

Damage to the San Vicente naval station and the neighboring village was estimated at $500,000. A sailor drowned while trying to secure a landing craft, and 2,000 villagers were reported in need of food and clothing.

'Power Without Limit'

MOSCOW (UPI)—Premier Khrushchev today announced the Soviet Union has developed a "monstrous new terrible weapon."

Khrushchev made the announcement while addressing visiting Japanese lawmakers.

He also said any Peking attempt to change the Sino-Soviet border would lead to war.

Khrushchev told the Japanese Soviet scientists showed him the new weapon Monday.

The permier did not describe the "monstrous" weapon in the two-hour Kremlin meeting: "We do not want to use such terrible weapons and we shall continue to press for peaceful coexistence and economic development which are the sole hope for mankind," he said.

Khrushchev said the new weapon was unveiled at a secret military research station.

"I have never seen anything like it," he said. "It is a means of the destruction and extermination of humanity."

"It is the most powerful, strongest of existing weapons. It is power without limit," the Soviet premier said.

Khrushchev looked at the 15 Japanese whose nation has known nuclear attack and said, "this terrible means of extermination, I don't want to use it."

And then he swept into a rare personal denunciation of Peking leader Mao Tze-Tung.

"WAR-MONGERING"

He called Mao's claim of chunks of Soviet Asia "provocative, anti-Soviet, anti-Communist and war-mongering."

He compared Mao's territorial demands to Adolf Hitler's call for "lebensraum" (living space).

Khrushchev referred to Mao's "regrettable" statement to a group of Japanese socialists recently in which Mao reportedly accused the Russians of holding more than a million and a half square kilometres of lands once conquered by the Chinese emperors.

"Our borders are sacred and inviolable and any attempt to change them by force means war," Khrushchev said.

Court Asked To Legalize Birth Control

WASHINGTON (AP)—The U.S. Supreme Court was asked today to declare unconstitutional Connecticut's 85-year-old birth control law, which prohibits use of contraceptives and makes it illegal to give advice about their use.

The statute was attacked in an appeal by Dr. C. Lee Buxton, medical director of the Planned Parenthood League of Connecticut, and Mrs. Richard W. Griswold, executive director of the league, from their conviction on charges of giving advice on the use of contraceptives. The league has fought for repeal of the state law for more than 40 years.

Vatican Signs New Accord With Hungary

VATICAN CITY (AP) — The Vatican and Communist Hungary signed an accord today giving the Vatican at least partial administrative authority over the church in that country for the first time in 15 years.

It paved the way also for the eventual transfer of Joseph Cardinal Mindszenty to Rome.

Within minutes after the announcement, the Vatican press office said Pope Paul VI had named five new bishops and confirmed one bishop selected by Pope John XXIII but never approved by Hungary.

Vatican officials said the timing indicated the appointment of the new bishops was part of the accord, and that Budapest had approved their nomination.

The vatican has had no administrative direction over the church in Hungary since the convention of Cardinal Mindszenty on charges of treason 15 years ago.

STILL A REFUGEE

But the status of the Cardinal was left unsettled in the new accord, and Vatican sources stressed that he remained in refuge in the U.S. legation in Budapest. He took refuge there during the abortive Hungarian revolt in 1956.

The partial accord was regarded as a major step forward in relations between the church and Hungary, and could affect relations between the church and other communist countries, as well as between Washington and Budapest.

The fate of the 72-year-old cardinal has figured in negotiations between the church and the communist regime, and also in talks between Washington and Budapest.

The trial of the Cardinal in 1949 was a sensational one. He made a confession, but during his few days of freedom in 1956 he told an interviewer he had been tortured before the trial.

A fiercely proud man, the cardinal has shown no intention of obtaining freedom at the expense of either his dignity, or that of the Roman Catholic Church.

Roman Catholic officials have long been anxious to resume appointments of bishops in vacant Hungarian sees and win more direct control over Catholic affairs there.

CITY HOUSEWIFE READY TO FIGHT

'Hypocritical Law' Must Go

A Belmont Park housewife said today she is thinking of borrowing money to visit Ottawa to protest the illegality of birth control in Canada.

Mrs. Sheila Barone, 197 Eggerton, said Section 150 of the Criminal Code is "kind of stupid."

She also thought it a good idea "for an ordinary, everyday person to get elected who will stand up and fight" the law.

But she wasn't sure what success she might have after a private member's bill to legalize birth control was "talked out" of the House of Commons last Friday.

HALTED AT BORDER

Mrs. Barone, a mother of three, said a doctor had told her of a Nanaimo man who imported inter-uterine devices from the United States but the last two shipments were halted at the border.

The doctor told her, she said, that he couldn't get such devices in Canada, that they are illegal and "the next one of us to go down (to the U.S.) will have to pick up a shipment."

She said these devices, which require medical supervision, are readily available in U.S. drug stores.

The Criminal Code makes it illegal to sell, give or advertise any instruction, medicine, drug or article intended for use in birth control.

As an indictable offence, the penalty is two years in prison. For a summary conviction, the penalty is a fine of not more than $500 or six months in jail, or both.

Dr. C. J. M. Willoughby, an MP, medical doctor and seconder of last Friday's motion to legalize birth control, said "if the law involved was enforced, most medical men and druggists . . . would be in jail."

Six housewives in Vancouver, protesting the "hypocritical" law, have requested city prosecutor Stewart McMorran to prosecute drug stores there.

Spokesman Mrs. Helen Jorgensen said "it is a foolish law, it should be abolished."

The prosecutor said he is considering the request.

A high legal source thought the move was "primarily a test to show how nonsensical it is" to prohibit birth control.

He could not recall a prosecusion for "years."

Asked why there have been so few prosecutions, he said it was because of "a general development of understanding."

Gerald Waring ...REPORTING

OTTAWA — With the suspension of the flag filibuster another act in the political drama of Mike and Dief has been played out.

To whom should go the plaudits?

NDP leader Tommy Douglas suggests, "to Parliament."

"I hope it (the compromise) will not be spoiled by anyone trying to take credit for it, because this proposal (to refer the flag question to a committee) came from many members of the House at different times, and that it will not be damaged by accusations that any party has made a retreat," Mr. Douglas said.

"In any public issue a measure of compromise is necessary. Some have to make more concessions than others, and I think the greater the concession the greater the credit . . . There (should) be no suggestion that any party has caved in or that anyone has beaten a retreat. Rather . . . a measure of statesmanship has been shown in reaching this agreement," he said.

Minutes later radio reporters with their ubiquitous tape recorders caught up with Tory leader Diefenbaker.

"Another Liberal retreat!" he bubbled happily into their microphones.

* * *

It's axiomatic that society as confined and controlled within the framework of the modern nation-state needs strong leadership. The term has become a shibboleth — what does it mean?

But first, perhaps, what does it not mean? It does not mean the vacillating, procrastinating, timorous and uncertain leadership that Mr. Diefenbaker gave the country in the last two or three years of his administration. Nor, at the other extreme, does it mean adherence to a policy or course of action with stubborn and inflexible rigidity, no matter what the consequences.

Rather, I believe strong leadership means firm adherence to sound principles, and the orienting of policies and tactics to conform with those principles.

* * *

At times — and I suggest we have just witnessed an example of this — it is advisable and desirable for a leader to abandon one course of action in favor of another to meet changed situations. But all without abandoning principles.

Mr. Pearson's policy is to give Canada a distinctive national flag. The principle on which the policy is based is that the country needs a national symbol acceptable to all major elements of the population as a unifying force to counteract the forces of division. His tactical objective is to bring such a flag into being this year.

* * *

His own design choice was, with cabinet concurrence, put before the House and evoked sharply-divided reaction. The Tory filibuster showed that any substantial agreement was impossible, so Mr. Pearson abandoned this course of action. He agreed to let a Commons committee have a six weeks' try at designing a more acceptable flag. In so doing he did not abandon principle or policy or objective.

All that seems to have been abandoned is Mr. Pearson's personal preference for the three maple leaf flag—and over this I shed no tear. As I wrote May 23:

"While I believe Canada should have a distinctively Canadian flag, my reaction to the Pearson design is that we should be able to do better if we put a little more time into it."

Now we — or our representatives, the 15 MPs on the committee — have the time and the challenge.

HOME GARDEN

By HILDA BEASTALL

Making Bulbs Produce Roots

The making of roots is more important to success in the flowering of bulbs indoors than the type of soil used in the pots.

Hilda

If you start with healthy, full-size bulbs any soil containing some humus and sand will do.

See that the bulbs are just covered with the soil mixture which should be damped but not too wet.

The rooting of the bulbs is accomplished by keeping the pots in a cold, perfectly dark place for just about eight weeks.

One method is to bury the pots under damp soil, sand, sawdust or ashes in a coldframe, or in a trench out in the garden if the soil is not of a heavy clay type.

The covering material should be from six to 12 inches deep, according to its density.

After about seven weeks, it is fun to haul out a pot and discover roots emerging from the drainage hole and growth tips probably up an inch or so above soil.

Should the soil appear dry (this would only be if the coldframe has been covered with glass too frequently), water thoroughly and cover with the smothering material for another couple of weeks.

The pots with the most roots showing through the hole may be brought out first. They will need a cool, dark room or basement to encourage top growth.

Allow tops to color slowly with additional light, and gradually bring into a warm, sunny window to aid bud development. Moisture should never be lacking in the soil during this growing period.

Once the flowers commence opening, they will last longer if removed to a cooler, less sunny spot.

Some folks who have no outdoor facilities for rooting their bulbs try storing them in a dark cupboard, but if this method is used, be sure to choose the coldest cupboard you have. One which is on an outside wall will be cooler than an inside, and the bottom will be cooler than an upper shelf.

'Liberation Army' Plan

ALEXANDRIA, U.A.R. (UPI)—The 13-nation Arab bloc, in a major move against Israel, last week approved formation of a Palestinian "liberation army."

Informed sources said $30,800,000 was pledged to the army by the United Arab Republic, Saudi Arabia, Iraq and Kuwait.

U.A.R. President Gamal Abdel Nasser told the Arab heads of states meeting here at their second summit conference that he would place the Sinai Peninsula and the Gaza Strip at the disposal of the Palestinian Liberation Front, which will command the army.

'Ample' Opportunity Good Enough

FREDERICTON (CP)—Senator M. Wallace McCutcheon took a stab at defining what a Conservative should be during a panel discussion at the National Conference on Canadian Goals.

The place for the Conservative is with those who reject "mechanistic philosophy"—those who say man is man, Senator McCutcheon told the conference, sponsored by the Progressive Conservative Association of Canada. Morality is morality and "we can still control machines," he added during his speech Friday.

A Conservative member accepted man's fallibility and acted to see that each individual had "ample—I do not say equal—opportunity" to develop his talents. He supported the contention of George Hogan, Toronto auto dealer and secretary of the Ontario Progressive Conservative Association that the state should not do for people what they can do equally well for themselves.

He expressed surprise that during the conference none of the economists and other experts advocated getting rid of the Combines Investigation Act.

He rejected the idea of equality of opportunity in favor of ensuring "ample" opportunity. Equality had importance only in terms of equality before the law.

'Planning Cure for Most Social Ills'

WINDSOR, Ont. (CP)—The leader of one of Canada's largest unions Monday demanded a planned economy on behalf of "hundreds of thousands of Canadians mired in poverty."

William J. Smith, national president of the Canadian Brotherhood of Railway, Transport and General Workers, CLC, told the triennial convention here:

"Poverty, unemployment, inadequate education, and most of the other ills of our society, have one basic cause. They are all the direct and inevitable result of our unplanned economy . . . of a society that glorifies rugged individualism, enshrines the profit motive and discourages vitally needed cooperative action."

Mr. Smith said statistics showed there were nearly 4,000,000 Canadians living in families with annual incomes of less than $3,000, the figure selected by economists as the absolute minimum needed for a tolerably decent living standard.

"The trouble is that our federal and—with the exception of Saskatchewan under the CCF-NDP—our provincial governments do not have the desire, the will, to adopt the methods that have proved so successful on the other side of the Atlantic. Our governments are committed to the kind of unplanned, laissez-faire, individualist society which leads to waste, profiteering and mass unemployment—which creates millionaires at one end of the social scale and paupers at the other."

There was a striking difference in Scandinavia and other Western European countries with planned economies, he said. They had little or no poverty and unemployment. They had equal opportunity in education, public medicare programs, generous old age pensions and few slums.

B.C. Waters To Feed East?

PRINCE GEORGE (CP)—A grandoise plan for a giant Canadian waterway diversion to produce power, irrigation and inland water transportation all the way from B.C. to the Great Lakes was presented Monday to the Pacific Northwest Trade Association meeting here.

The plan was outlined in detail by Capilano MP Jack Davis, executive assistant to Prime Minister Pearson and a power expert for the federal government. It was a reiteration in detail of previous outlines he had given.

Mr. Davis envisaged rivers hoisting themselves over the Rockies by their own bootstraps. Power generated by the Laird River in northern B.C., for instance, could pump Laird, Alaskan and Yukon surplus waters into the Peace River power project's giant reservoir.

Peace power, in turn, he said, could add surplus Peace water to this and pump the whole volume into the North Saskatchewan. The latter river could be diverted into the South Saskatchewan and a canal, which he predicted would be navigable for as much as eight months of the year, could carry the water to the Great Lakes.

SALES TO U.S.

And it could be financed, Mr. Davis said, through massive lump sum payments from the U.S., as was done in the case of the Columbia River project.

By offering cheap transportation, he said, the proposed trans-prairie canal would overcome the most serious obstable now in the way of industrial development of Alaska, the Yukon and the northern regions of B.C. and the prairies.

Mr. Davis' proposal embodied many of the concepts of a U.S. water diversion plan, known as the Parsons plan which it is estimated would cost 100 billion dollars.

But Mr. Davis' plan put Canadian considerations first. Where the Pearson plan envisaged a diversion canal from the Pacific to the Great Lakes, Mr. Davis' plan would see it start in the northern Rockies and traverse the water-short prairies with some diverted to the U.S. middle west.

He predicted that nuclear power would be used to pump the northern B.C. surplus water over the Rockies and that it would be recovered by means of hydro installations at Niagara Falls, Ont., and the Lachine rapids near Montreal.

Brutality Probe Promised

OTTAWA (UPI) — New Democrat leader T. C. Douglas called Monday for a civil inquiry into charges of brutality during "ban-the-bomb" demonstrations at the RCAF Bomarc base at Lamacaza, Que.

Mr. Douglas told the Commons that demonstrators claimed that 100 RCAF guards charged 27 passive demonstrators outside the gates at the anti-aircraft missile base over Labor Day weekend.

They kicked a girl, dragged demonstrators by the hair and neck, and treated the demonstrators in a way that was "inexcusably brutal," he said.

Associate Defence Minister Lucien Cardin said that a report from the commanding officer of the RCAF base had denied the charges.

Prime Minister Pearson promised to look into the matter.

Decline in Toronto

The market continued to decline in Toronto today with speculative action improving.

Motors were strong in a mixed market at New York. Stocks were firm to narrowly lower at Montreal.

AT TORONTO industrials were paced by utilities, oils and papers. In the last category, Consolidated dropped ⅝ and Great Lakes ½ while Domtar slipped ¼.

In oils, Husky and Imperial both fell ⅛ while among utilities Bell Telephone and Calgary Power both lost ¼ and B.C. Telephone ½.

Greater Winnipeg Gas, however, established a new 1964 high of 18⅜ with a rise of ⅛.

AT NEW YORK Chrysler paced the list on volume and held a gain exceeding a point. Ford was a point higher. General Motors was up a fraction.

GM and Chrysler touched new highs as did the top four steelmakers but the latter stumbled into irregularity as the session wore on. Bethlehem, heavily traded, held a gain of nearly a point. U.S. Steel erased a gain and was about unchanged.

Phelps Dodge dropped 2 points and Kennecott about a point while 9naconda cancelled most of an early gain.

AT MONTREAL CPR lost ⅝, Domtar and Bell ¼ each and Dofasco and Stelco ⅛ each.

Rothmans added a point, Industrial Acceptance and Husky Oil ¼ each and Dosco and Hudson's Bay Co. ⅛ each.

In speculative mines Glen Lake Silver lost five cents, Black Hawk four cents and Mistango River one cent.

Chemalloy added seven cents, McAdam two cents, White Star Copper one cent and Quebec Mining and Smelting, Monpre, Equity Explorations ½ cent each.

AT LONDON dull conditions developed in stock markets today ahead of the official election date announcement. Business was small and prices drifted lower in the absence of support.

Industrials recorded fairly widespread but usually small losses. Many leading issues were a few pence easier.

Stores shares were particularly dull while building, electrical motor and steel shares were often lower.

Hudson's Bay continued to improve. Small losses predominated in dollar stocks but Hollinger, Steep Rock and West Coast Transmission were firm spots in mixed Canadians. Canadian Pacific reacted after Monday's advance.

AT VANCOUVER trading was moderate. Bethlehem Copper was up at $7.45 and Copper Ridge at .76. Earlcrest climbed to .80 and Torwest to .74. Western Mines was down at $5.10 and Silver Standard at .68.

EMPLOYEES TAKE OVER VANCOUVER COMPANY

VANCOUVER (CP) — Changes under which company employees will take over ownership and management of Parsons Brown Ltd. were announced Monday by the Vancouver insurance firm.

A new company to be known as Parsons Brown & Co. Ltd. is to be incorporated to take over the retail insurance business of the old firm.

Alex D. Macauley will become president of the new company.

Closure of Britannia Studied by Company

VANCOUVER (CP) — Anaconda Co. (Canada) Ltd. says it is considering disbanding operations at its strike-bound Britannia copper mine, 40 miles northwest of Vancouver.

The company has recessed until Sept. 22 talks with the Mine, Mill and Smelter Workers Union, representing 350 workers.

Ken Smith, national president of Mine-Mill, said he is not treating the threat seriously but William Sands, deputy minister of labor for British Columbia, said he does not consider it an idle suggestion.

The men struck 34 days ago when negotiations on a new contract broke down.

The men want a 40-hour work week defined as Monday to Friday with overtime payments for weekend work. The present hours are 44 per week, although a minimum wage order recently cut the hours down to 40 before overtime is paid.

The company says most workers are already on a 40-hour week, but some on continuous operations must work longer.

The two sides are also apart on wages. The union has turned down a conciliation board report recommending 23½ cents more in two years on present rates of $1.82½ to $2.15½ cents an hour. The company has accepted the report.

While this light-minded corner normally welcomes any local distraction that doesn't leave blood on the streets, I hope Bishop Michael Coleman will abandon his plan to intrude a patriotic outburst into the Victoria performance of The Establishment.

For one thing, the rest of Canada won't understand. In Quebec, the Creditistes are liable to seize on the bishop's gesture as an Anglophile protest against the west's determination to wiggle out from under the iron heel of the monarchy. In worldly-wise Ontario, they'll see it as a publicity stunt plugging church union or the need to stomp harder on sin.

For another, the Queen is unlikely to thank Bishop Coleman for crashing in on the English troupe's witty-wicked spoofing of crown and state.

I doubt that Her Majesty is especially enchanted with the skit which depicts her doing a Christmas broadcast in curlers—what woman would be?—but royalty has become hardened to amiable fun-poking by its subjects.

Such can even be construed, in fact, as a healthy sign of loyalty to the raj.

It is for the gallant Anglican bishop of the Penders and Saturna, hero of the London blitz, respected churchman and eloquent public speaker, to recover the sense of humor he seems to have misplaced.

Acid-etched though its satires are, The Establishment offers no threat to realm or Empire. The Queen doesn't need Bishop Coleman's good right arm to defend her.

One of the American networks unveiled its fall offerings in a Sunday evening preview, thereby deepening this view's conviction that the best cure for an increasingly bad situation would be to gut our home set and replace its picture tube with autumn flowers.

They'd be pleasant to look at, which is more than can be said for the dreary mishmash of pie-in-the-face comedies, tired westerns, remarks of Jules Verne and monsters from the outer galaxies that are to be inflicted upon the home audience.

I can't get interested in the adventures of a guy who married a witch. I find the New Yorker's haunted house family nauseous when filtered through a picture tube. I'm fed to the teeth with Bonanza, and the Virginians sends me into a 90-minute nap.

True, something of good remains. There's Disney and Hitchcock still pulls off a worthy whodunnit, and some of the late movies could be worth staying up for.

And—though the words stick in my craw—there's the CBC.

I still think our national service consumes an inordinate share of the taxpayers' nickels, but in fairness, I must now revise views earlier expressed here.

While United States television has become so prevailingly dull, repetitious and trashy that a smart commercial is often the high point of an evening, the CBC improves steadily year by year.

Even so, I have a bone to pick with Radio Canada. Since English is still our first language, let's not go too far with the French kick. The fact that one of the newsmen taking part in the Pearson interview works for La Presse doesn't justify the use of French to a point where it dominated an all-province program.

There's a group of licensed and mechanized road-users who feel it's high time their right to a fair shake was recognized by those who travel on four wheels.

These are the riders, mostly young, who go to work and school on motorcycles.

The plaint—and from personal observation I think it's justified—is that motorists simply act as if they didn't exist.

"I don't know why this is," one boy told me, "but car drivers think nothing of pulling stunts on us they wouldn't dream of trying on each other.

"Twice this week, I've been crowded clean off the road. We get used to drivers refusing to give us passing room or cutting sharp in front of us. I think it's time the police woke up to this and did something about it."

Time indeed: and our town could also use more driver respect for crosswalks. Were it not for the charming and competent woman driver who gave me a break on Douglas Street, I'd still be on the

UNIQUE in North America is this Eivissenc, a species of Spanish greyhound, imported from the Balearic Islands by Eric Clarke, 3811 Miramontes. "Balli" is just a pup, but Mr. Clarke plans to use him for hunting, and wants to get the breed recognized by the Canadian Kennel Club. (Times photo)

First You Learn How to Spell It

BY LESLIE MILLIN

Some men attain originality some ways, and some attain it through others—like dogs.

A local hunting enthusiast, Eric Clarke, of 3811 Miramontes, has acquired the distinction of owning the only Eivissenc in North America.

An Eivisesnc is another name for a Charneque, a Mallorquin, or a Podenco Ibicenco . . . in other words, a Spanish relative of the greyhound.

Eric, who wants to use the dog for hunting, had the four-month-old pup shipped in from Europe.

Its ancestors may have been introduced to the Balearic island of Iviza by the Moors of Phoenicians, and the Eivissenc is recognized as a breed of great antiquity.

Spaniards use the lean animals for hunting rabbits and hare, which their great speed helps them run down.

They hunt by both eye and scent, and Eric says they are considered easier to train for pointing than an English pointer.

"I want to introduce the breed to the Kennel Club of Canada," says Eric.

"They are not recognized here or in the United States, but they are in England."

Eric plans to teach the Eivissenc to point and retrieve . . . after he teaches it English.

Police Grimace as Crooks Beat Rap

By FRANK RUTTER

A smuggler caught off Vancouver Island on Sunday got off free . . .

A bookie discovered using a telephone answering service to take bets on the ponies escaped the clutches of the law . . .

An habitual criminal guilty of dozens of minor offences walked the streets of Vancouver and the police couldn't touch him . . .

All these things have happened or could happen in B.C. because of loopholes in the law.

Deputy attorney-general Gilbert Kennedy is just back from a conference of top legal officials who are trying to plug the loopholes.

They exist in sections of the federal Criminal Code.

ASKED HELP

The conference of deputy provincial attorneys-general asked the federal justice department to help remedy the situation.

Some of the loopholes have been open to the ingenuity of criminals and courts for four years now.

That's how long ago the annual conference drew them to the attention of the federal government.

"With this backlog we are hopeful there will be a new criminal law bill in Parliament shortly," Dr. Kennedy said.

In the case of the Sunday smuggler the law actually handcuffs the RCMP—responsible for water policing B.C.'s territorial waters.

NEEDS OKAY

The Criminal Code says that an alien cannot be charged with a waterborne offence without approval of Canada's attorney-general — the justice minister.

"The RCMP is powerless to enforce small boat regulations in some cases," Dr. Kennedy said.

"Have you ever tried to get the justice minister on a Sunday? It just means that in the case, say of an American, we have to let him go."

This applies in any water offence—such as speeding or not carrying proper safety equipment.

Just in case any Canadian boater is thinking of running rum from Anacortes next Sunday—it won't work.

The legal loophole only applies to aliens, Dr. Kennedy pointed out.

MORE SERIOUS

The case of the gambler's telephone is a more serious one.

The Criminal Code forbids seizure of any telephone equipment owned by the telephone company.

"It was put in to prevent police making raids and tearing out all the phones and destroying them," Dr. Kennedy said. "All the evidence may be destroyed in a gambling conviction."

One B.C. bookie took advantage of this loophole.

He arranged to have his bets placed with an answering service.

There was no personal contact involved at all. The bets were simply recorded and played back by the bookie later.

However, the police caught up with him in the end, Dr. Kennedy said.

The case of the habitual criminal is potentially the most dangerous loophole of all.

TWO STEPS

At present the Criminal Code specifies that action against habituals must be taken in two steps:

First the criminal must be found to be habitual by the court; second another separate order must be issued by the court putting the criminal in custody for the safety of the public.

The result is that the court may find a man is a habitual criminal, but may not be able to ensure his immediate custody.

Clever lawyers could delay it indefinitely.

Dr. Kennedy said the provincial deputies have asked the justice department to review this procedure.

They asked for changes in the other cases.

Firebug Just Misses At Saanich School

FIRE-CHARRED DOOR of Mt. Newton Secondary School is examined by Central Saanich police officer John Gelling. (Times photo)

Police Suspect Juvenile

An apparent deliberate attempt to put the torch to Mount Newton Secondary School on Keating Cross Road early this morning, is being investigated by Central Saanich police, RCMP, and the provincial fire marshal.

The fire, believed to be the work of a juvenile, was discovered at 6:20 a.m. It was burning outside double doors of the grade eight classroom.

The classroom, also used as a library, is on the ground floor of the west wing of the $300,000 school.

It had burned through the door's panels when the Central Saanich fire department arrived.

'JUST IN TIME'

"It was put out just in time," said Fire Chief Larry Rowles. "In another 15 minutes the school would have been ablaze and 300 pupils would have been without accomodation."

Charred pieces of paper were found on the door sill.

An empty glass container, which apparently contained about a quart of gasoline, was found standing on the left side of the door. It was sent to the RCMP crime laboratory for possible fingerprints.

It appeared a bag containing paper and soaked in gas was packed against the door and ignited.

The fire was discovered by janitor Horace Goodwin. He was unaware of the blaze when he first entered the school through the furnace room door on the east side of the school. It was burning on the opposite side of the building.

ROOMS FILLED

He smelled smoke but it was only when he opened the door leading to a corridor that he realized there was serious trouble.

The halls and classrooms were filled with smoke.

Mr. Goodwin quickly located the fire and notified the fire department.

Within 20 minutes the fire burned through the thick panels and had started to lick the upper part of the door.

Damage caused by fire is negligible.

'Substantial' Pay Increase Teachers' Aim

Demands Formulated At Sept. 23 Parley

Greater Victoria teachers will go for a "substantial" increase when they formulate a 1965 salary proposal on Sept. 23, teacher spokesman Norman Preston predicted today.

Greater Victoria Teachers' Association will hold a general meeting then to prepare a submission for School District 61 trustees prior to opening annual negotiations.

They have until Sept. 30 to do this under terms of public school legislation.

Meanwhile, Vancouver Island school teachers have begun annual salary negotiations with 11 district school boards outside Greater Victoria metropolitan area.

In the third year of zonal negotiations, 22 teacher representatives, 11 trustees and three district secretary-treasurers met Saturday in Nanaimo.

SOUNDING BOARD

They used the occasion to sound one another out before specific salary proposals are made.

In Victoria negotiations are based on a metropolitan plan as in Vancouver.

In zonal negotiations, teachers and trustees representing districts all over the island negotiate together, bringing economy and uniformity to agreements.

TWO OUT

Only two districts have opted out this year, Nanaimo and Campbell River, but there is a chance Nanaimo will go in with the others later. At Lake Cowichan and Tofino, trustees are in favor of the plan but teachers are not.

Greater Victoria district chairman Mrs. A. B. Thompson said trustees this year will make a special effort to keep negotiations before the public in a way that can be followed easily.

'Color Code' Drawn For Parking Meters

Downtown streets will acquire extra dabs of bright colors soon if the parking meter color code is accepted by city council.

Next week's public works committee is expected to decide whether parking meters will be switched to the color system of identification. Approval is anticipated.

Under the color code system, the city's 1,750 parking meters will have their posts painted to identify the maximum time allowance—green for two hours, blue for one hour, yellow for half an hour and red for 12 minutes.

The idea, first suggested by the special traffic committe, has been under study for more than a month.

Signs using the same color code will be erected to identify the various parking time zones if the system is formally adopted.

LARGE FAMILY HIT BY FIRE ON RESERVE

A Duncan couple and their eight children will be homeless when they return soon from a berry-picking trip to Washington.

Monday night their four-room house on Quamichan Indian Reserve was destroyed by fire.

Owner of the eight-year-old house is Ray Goldsmith, 34. He, his wife and children, ranging from 4 to 13 years old, have been away for three months.

Estimated loss of the house and furniture is around $3,000.

Two trucks and 18 firemen attended the blaze but were unable to save anything.

Only three weeks ago a barn full of hay was destroyed by fire about 200 feet from the Goldsmith home.

$8,000 In Month From Car Parks

City comptroller - treasurer James Bramley today reported that the two civic parking garages earned $8,060 during August, the highest revenue total so far this year.

TOPICS of the DAY

A 17-year-old youth pleaded guilty in city court this morning to hit-and-run driving and driving while impaired.

Groffe G. Braithwaite, 1680 Derby Road, was first arraigned on the charges in juvenile court. He was transferred today to magistrate's court.

The offences occurred early Sunday morning. Braithwaite hit a car parked in the 1200 block Pandora, according to Crown Prosecutor Peter Birkett.

Mr. Birkett said the youth drove off but was caught by police on Oak Bay Avenue. He registered a blood alcohol count of .21 per cent when tested on a breathalyzer.

Ask The Times

Q.—Did Eddie Matthews of the Milwaukee Braves baseball team hit a home run in the ninth inning of a world series game between 1955 and 1960?—D.L.

A.—No. The Braves met New York Yankees in 1957 and '58 but failed to score any runs in their half of the ninth in either of the seven-game series.

You could be thinking of Matthews' dramatic three-run homer which came in the 10th inning of the fourth game of the '57 series which gave the Braves a 7-5 victory.

Q. How do you address a judge? R.W.

A. Judges, like doctors and bishops, are addressed and introduced by their titles.

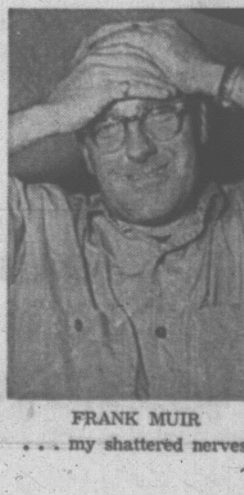
'L-S Muir Reporting for Sea Duty, Sir . . . Please?'

A 32-year-old air-going leading seaman has grounded himself after his second trip aloft.

Frank Muir, 279 Virago, is succumbing again to the call of the sea.

That call developed loud-hailer proportions Monday night when Muir and three others belly-landed a Tracker aircraft on a Patricia Bay airport runway.

"That's my last," said Muir minutes after scrambling from the Royal Canadian Navy's VU Utility Squadron two-engine, $2.5 million plane.



FRANK MUIR
. . . my shattered nerves

Pilot Lt.-Cmdr. A. A. Schellinck, 38, of 134 West Saanich, had brought the plane down on the concrete runway leaving a 3,000-foot plume of sparks in its wake.

He had been unable to lower the plane's landing gear because of a failure in the hydraulic system.

Others who survived the crash-landing were co-pilot Lieut.-Cmdr. Stan C. Wood, 41, of HMCS Discovery, Vancouver, and Petty Officer R. W. Higgins, 27, Wakefield, Que., who is based at HMCS Shearwater.

ON EXERCISE

They had been taking part in Exercise Hardshot, a joint U.S.-Canadian naval operation off the coast.

The drama started when they circled for landing at about 8:30 p.m. and went through pre-landing routine.

Lieut.-Cmdr. Schellinck, commanding officer of the squadron, said he selected the "undercarriage down" switch, but nothing happened.

They tried a hand-operated auxiliary system, which has an independent hydraulic fluid supply. After checking out with technical assistance radioed from the control tower, both systems were found to be empty.

"We tried everything," the pilot said.

He finally set the powerful plane down on its underbelly and propeller blades at 140 miles an hour.

The tenseness of its approach was heightened by the sudden silence when engines were cut, propellers feathered and all electrical switches tripped off just a few feet above the concrete runway.

A plume of orange sparks outlined the plane as it touched, rocked from port to starboard propellers and slewed onto a grassy verge with jet-like roar.

The crew popped plastic bubble canopies while in the air to ensure their easy escape in case the Tracker caught fire. All tumbled out and ran from the plane as ground crew sent up a cheer.

The plane still had an hour's gasoline supply in its tanks.

Naval firefighters, crash crew and ambulance that had stood by for the anxious moment drew up and spread foam chemical over the engines and belly to reduce fire hazard.

The drama had lasted nearly two hours.

MARKET SUMMARIES

Decline in Toronto

The market continued to decline in Toronto today with speculative action improving.

Motors were strong in a mixed market at New York. Stocks were firm to narrowly lower at Montreal.

AT TORONTO industrials were paced by utilities, oils and papers. In the last category, Consolidated dropped ⅝ and Great Lakes ½ while Domtar slipped ¼.

In oils, Husky and Imperial both fell ⅛ while among utilities Bell Telephone and Calgary Power both lost ¼ and B.C. Telephone ½.

Greater Winnipeg Gas, however, established a new 1964 high of 18⅝ with a rise of ⅛.

AT NEW YORK Chrysler paced the list on volume and held a gain exceeding a point. Ford was a point higher. General Motors was up a fraction.

GM and Chrysler touched new highs as did the top four steelmakers but the latter stumbled into irregularity as the session wore on. Bethlehem, heavily traded, held a gain of nearly a point. U.S. Steel erased a gain and was about unchanged.

Phelps Dodge dropped 2 points and Kennecott about a point while 9naconda cancelled most of an early gain.

AT MONTREAL CPR lost ⅜. Domtar and Bell ¼ each and Dofasco and Stelco ⅛ each.

Rothmans added a point, Industrial Acceptance and Husky Oil ¼ each and Dosco and Hudson's Bay Co. ⅛ each.

In speculative mines Glen Lake Silver lost five cents, Black Hawk four cents and Mistango River one cent.

Chemalloy added seven cents, McAdam two cents, White Star Copper one cent and Quebec Mining and Smelting, Monpre, Equity Explorations ½ cent each.

AT LONDON dull conditions developed in stock markets today ahead of the official election date announcement. Business was small and prices drifted lower in the absence of support.

Industrials recorded fairly widespread but usually small losses. Many leading issues were a few pence easier.

Stores shares were particularly dull while building, electrical motor and steel shares were often lower.

Hudson's Bay continued to improve. Small losses predominated in dollar stocks but Hollinger, Steep Rock and West Coast Transmission were firm spots in mixed Canadians. Canadian Pacific reacted after Monday's advance.

AT VANCOUVER trading was moderate. Bethlehem Copper was up at $7.45 and Copper Ridge at .76. Earlcrest climbed to .80 and Torwest to .74. Western Mines was down at $5.10 and Silver Standard at .68.

EMPLOYEES TAKE OVER VANCOUVER COMPANY

VANCOUVER (CP) — Changes under which company employees will take over ownership and management of Parsons Brown Ltd. were announced Monday by the Vancouver insurance firm.

A new company to be known as Parsons Brown & Co. Ltd. is to be incorporated to take over the retail insurance business of the old firm.

Alex D. Macauley will become president of the new company.

Closure of Britannia Studied by Company

VANCOUVER (CP) — Anaconda Co. (Canada) Ltd. says it is considering disbanding operations at its strike-bound Britannia copper mine, 40 miles northwest of Vancouver.

The company has recessed until Sept. 22 talks with the Mine, Mill and Smelter Workers Union, representing 350 workers.

Ken Smith, national president of Mine-Mill, said he is not treating the threat seriously but William Sands, deputy minister of labor for British Columbia, said he does not consider it an idle suggestion.

The men struck 34 days ago when negotiations on a new contract broke down.

The men want a 40-hour work week defined as Monday to Friday with overtime payments for weekend work. The present hours are 44 per week, although a minimum wage order recently cut the hours down to 40 before overtime is paid.

The company says most workers are already on a 40-hour week, but some on continuous operations must work longer.

The two sides are also apart on wages. The union has turned down a conciliation board report recommending 23½ cents more in two years on present rates of $1.82½ to $2.15½ cents an hour. The company has accepted the report.

U.S. YACHT WINS FIRST RACE

Wide Margin Of Victory

NEWPORT, R.I. (AP) — Constellation, the U.S. defender in the America's Cup yacht competition, defeated Sovereign, the British challenger, by an overwhelming margin today in the first race of the current competition.

The unofficial victory margin was 6 minutes, 40 seconds.

The British 12-metre yacht, making a race of it in the early stages of the Olympic-course test, apparently was troubled some by the wash of the spectator fleet during the fifth leg and fell hopelessly back.

As the two craft, under almost ideal weather conditions, started the sixth and final leg the British boat trailed by 4:51.

Both yachts hoisted an affirmative pennant as they drew near the judges' boat, indicating that they were willing to race again Tuesday.

Under the rules, either crew can ask for a layover of a day after each race.

Robert Bavier Jr. of Darien, Conn., helmsman of the Constellation, outpointed his rivals at the start and drove the defender between the Sovereign and the committee boat for what one veteran said was the "most exciting start in the modern history of the cup."

The two 12-metre yachts crossed the starting line at the America's Cup buoy in Rhode Island Sound off Newport at about 12:34 p.m. EDT. Constellation edged into a favorable position to the windward of her rival as they manoeuvred in gentle swells coming up to the line and took a slight lead at the start.

Weather conditions were excellent, with a southwest breeze of about 10 knots and a gentle swell on the water.

Bavier got the Constellation off in a far superior windward position over the blue-hulled Sovereign with Peter Scott at the helm.

BEHIND GUN

The two craft were about 20 seconds behind the opening gun in getting over the starting line.

The spectator fleet was only around 200 compared to more than 2,000 here two years ago when the U.S. won the Cup for the 19th time as America's Weatherly beat Australia's Gretel.

Bavier slid his boat a full length ahead and four lengths to the favorable windward position within five minutes of the start of the six-leg, 24-mile course.

They race a triangular course first, then three parallel courses with the last heading into the wind which was blowing from the west southwest.

Result of the first race was considered a good indication whether Britain has a chance of winning the cup for the first time in 113 years. The series is the best four-out-of-seven races.

'Terrible Weapon'— Reds Claim

MOSCOW (UPI)—Premier Khrushchev today announced the Soviet Union has developed a "monstrous new terrible weapon."

Khrushchev made the announcement while addressing visiting Japanese lawmakers.

He also said any Peking attempt to change the Sino-Soviet border would lead to war.

Khrushchev told the Japanese Soviet scientists showed him the new weapon Monday.

The permier did not describe the "monstrous" weapon in the two-hour Kremlin meeting. "We do not want to use such terrible weapons and we shall continue to press for peaceful coexistence and economic development which are the sole hope for mankind," he said.

Khrushchev said the new weapon was unveiled at a secret military research station.

"I have never seen anything like it," he said. "It is a means of the destruction and extermination of humanity."

"It is the most powerful, strongest of existing weapons. It is power without limit," the Soviet premier said.

Khrushchev looked at the 15 Japanese whose nation has known nuclear attack and said, "this terrible means of extermination, I don't want to use it."

And then he swept into a rare personal denunciation of Peking leader Mao Tze-Tung.

"WAR-MONGERING"

He called Mao's claim of chunks of Soviet Asia "provocative, anti-Soviet, anti-Communist and war-mongering."

He compared Mao's territorial demands to Adolf Hitler's call for "lebensraum" (living space).

Khrushchev referred to Mao's "regrettable" statement to a group of Japanese socialists recently in which Mao reportedly accused the Russians of holding more than a million and a half square kilometres of lands once conquered by the Chinese emperors.

"Our borders are sacred and inviolable and any attempt to change them by force means war," Khrushchev said.

Close Vote Expected In Britain

LONDON (Reuters) — The British general election will take place Oct. 15, it was announced today.

The announcement was made shortly after Prime Minister Sir Alec Douglas-Home flew back to London from Scotland where he had an audience with Queen Elizabeth and asked her to dissolve the present Parliament.

The Conservative prime minister, who made the announcement, picked the date observers had been forecasting for several months.

The present Parliament—first in peace-time to run its full life since a five-year limit was imposed in 1911—will be dissolved by Queen Elizabeth Sept. 25 in preparation for the election.

The long-waited official announcement of election day came amid wide expectation of a close verdict with possibly only a small majority for either the ruling Conservatives or the Opposition Labor party.

The announcement from 10 Downing Street, the prime minister's residence, said the new Parliament will be opened Nov. 3.

Members of the new Parliament will be sworn in Oct. 27.

Conservatives, who have ruled Britain continuously for 13 years, are aiming for an all-time parliamentary record by winning a fourth consecutive five-year term of power.

CRITICAL FOR LABOR

The outcome will be critical for the Labor party, whose political future could be in jeopardy if it is again decisively beaten.

The Labor party, led by Harold Wilson, has to wipe out a present Conservative majority of 84 in the 630-seat House of Commons. The Conservative majority has been built up in each of the three elections since the 1951 Churchill government ousted the second post-war Labor government.

If Labor is beaten next month, it will mean the party will have been out of power for possibly 18 years before its next chance of forming a government.

At present three separate nation-wide polls show an un-

New Accord Signed By Vatican, Hungary

VATICAN CITY (AP) — The Vatican and Communist Hungary signed an accord today giving the Vatican at least partial administrative authority over the church in that country for the first time in 15 years.

It paved the way also for the eventual transfer of Joseph Cardinal Mindszenty to Rome.

Within minutes after the announcement, the Vatican press office said Pope Paul VI had named five new bishops and confirmed one bishop selected by Pope John XXIII but never approved by Hungary.

Vatican officials said the timing indicated the appointment of the new bishops was part of the accord, and that Budapest had approved their nomination.

The Vatican has had no administrative direction over the church in Hungary since the conviction of Cardinal Mindszenty on charges of treason 15 years ago.

STILL A REFUGEE

But the status of the cardinal was left unsettled in the new accord, and Vatican sources stressed that he remained in refuge in the U.S. legation in Budapest. He took refuge there during the abortive Hungarian revolt in 1956.

The partial accord was regarded as a major step forward in relations between the church and Hungary, and could affect relations between the church and other communist countries, as well as between Washington and Budapest.

The fate of the 72-year-old cardinal has figured in negotiations between the church and the communist regime, and also in talks between Washington and Budapest.

The trial of the cardinal in 1949 was a sensational one. He made a confession, but during his few days of freedom in 1956 he told an interviewer he had been tortured before the trial.

A fiercely proud man, the cardinal has shown no intention of obtaining freedom at the expense of either his dignity, or that of the Roman Catholic Church.

Roman Catholic officials have long been anxious to resume appointments of bishops in vacant Hungarian sees and win more direct control over Catholic affairs there.

Pr. George To Get PGE Headquarters

WHITE HORSE, Y.T. (CP)—Premier Bennett said Monday operational headquarters for the British Columbia government-owned Pacific Great Eastern Railway will be moved to Prince George from Vancouver.

The premier told reporters the move is part of a program to streamline the operation of the railway.

Mr. Bennett also said that the railway is conducting economic studies into possible extension of the line 300 miles to Fort Nelson from Fort St. John.

Mr. Bennett said the moving of the operational headquarters, scheduled for next fall, is at the recommendation of J. S. Broadbent, general manager of the PGE.

He said Prince George, where a new station is to be built at the railway's industrial park, is the centre of the PGE's operation. By moving operation control there the railway's efficiency would be improved.

Executive offices would remain in Vancouver.

Mr. Bennett also said the PGE is planning to expand its facilities at Squamish. There was going to be great industrial development at Squamish "but I won't say what."

It has already been announced that FMC Chemicals will build a plant there.

Flag 'Truce' Broken By Skirmishes on TV

By KEN KELLY

OTTAWA (CP) — Broadcasts by Prime Minister Pearson and Opposition Leader Diefenbaker appear to have brought the flag issue to a new boiling point.

On the eve of appointment of a Commons committee to find a compromise flag design, Opposition Leader Diefenbaker implied in a CBC broadcast that the maple leaf symbol—the chief feature of the government's proposed flag design—has no place on a distinctive flag.

At the same time, he sharply criticized Prime Minister Pearson for saying on a CBC broadcast Sunday that Canada will have a flag by Christmas based on the maple leaf symbol.

T. C. Douglas, New Democratic leader, in the House today urged a moratorium on predictions as to what the flag committee will recommend on the design for a new flag.

The flag committee, which may be named today, was agreed upon among party leaders to end the long Commons wrangle over the government's proposed design of three red maple leaves on a white ground with a vertical blue bar at each edge.

Mr. Diefenbaker reiterated the position he has stated for the Progressive Conservatives—the 15-member flag committee must reach virtual unanimity, at least 13 members, on the design.

He also renewed earlier appeals for a plebiscite but added the suggestion that all Canadians 18 years and over be permitted to vote in it.

'FLAG BY CHRISTMAS'

Mr. Diefenbaker said that Mr. Pearson, after promising a free and unfettered Commons committee, told his Sunday audience he wanted "a flag on which there will be a maple leaf, and I am going to get that flag by Christmas."

"Now I have no objection to a maple leaf," Mr. Diefenbaker said. "I don't criticize it as a symbol of the country—but can you tell me any country in the world that ever put a symbol on its flag. Do we have a British lion on the Union Jack? Do

Overpasses Cleared For VIP Cavalcade

VANCOUVER (CP) — Prime Minister Pearson and President Johnson will whisk at 60 miles an hour between here and Blaine, Wash., Wednesday.

Officials said today that during that time all traffic will be cleared from the Deas Island throughway between here and the border.

At the same time about 20 overpasses and pedestrian walks across the throughway will be kept clear by some of the 200 RCMP on duty with undisclosed numbers of other security agents during the brief stop of the president in Canada.

Prime Minister Pearson will spend about 24 hours in the Vancouver area following the international ceremonies marking completion of the Columbia River Treaty.

Liberal party headquarters said that following the airport and Peace Arch ceremonies, Mr. Pearson will bid goodbye to President Johnson at Vancouver International Airport, possibly about 4 p.m.

After that, he will take part in a ceremony in which a federal government cheque for $273,000,000 will be turned over to Premier Bennett of B.C.

The following day he will hold a 10 a.m. press conference in Hotel Vancouver, then will be free until 12:15 p.m. when he will speak to the Men's Canadian Club in the hotel.

NEW BILL WILL ALLOW CUTS IN PASSENGER RAIL SERVICE

(See stories Page 24)

OTTAWA (CP) — Passenger train service across Canada could be curtailed drastically during the next five years under a bill introduced in the Commons Monday night.

Far-reaching amendments to the Railway Act would empower the railways to drop all their money-losing passenger runs in a gradual five-year process.

The federal treasury would compensate the CNR and CPR in the meantime with subsidies totalling a maximum of $186,000,000 to cover deficits incurred in passenger operations.

Smaller subsidies would be extended to other railways under federal jurisdiction.

The only exception to the abandonment rule would apply to commuter trains in the large cities. These would have to be continued whether they make money or not.

Where adequate highway systems exist, the board of transport commissioners would be empowered to approve the immediate cancellation of passenger trains that consistently lose money.

Passenger services for isolated communities would be continued for a maximum of five years, depending on the requirements of the local residents. The transport board would hold public hearings to determine the earliest possible cut-off date.

Railways would be given greater freedom in setting passenger fares on remaining runs. The board would be authorized to disallow or suspend any fare if considered "unjust and unreasonable."

Hong Kong Braces Again

MANILA (AP) — Typhoon Tilda headed across the South China Sea toward Hong Kong today after lashing sparsely populated islands in the northern Philippines with winds of 96 miles an hour.

Meanwhile, the Philippine navy reported heavy damage on the northeastern tip of Luzon Island from Typhoon Sally, which hit the area Sept. 9.

Damage to the San Vicente naval station and the neighboring village was estimated at $500,000. A sailor drowned while trying to secure a landing craft, and 2,000 villagers were reported in need of food and clothing.

CODE 'STUPID'

Housewife Fights 'Hypocritical Law'

A Belmont Park housewife said today she is thinking of borrowing money to visit Ottawa to protest the illegality of birth control in Canada.

Mrs. Sheila Barone, 197 Eggerton, said Section 150 of the Criminal Code is "kind of stupid."

She also thought it a good idea "for an ordinary, everyday person to get elected who will stand up and fight" the law.

But she wasn't sure what success she might have after a private member's bill to legalize birth control was "talked out" of the House of Commons last Friday.

HALTED AT BORDER

Mrs. Barone, a mother of three, said a doctor had told her of a Nanaimo man who imported inter-uterine devices from the United States but the last two shipments were halted at the border.

The doctor told her, she said, that he couldn't get such devices in Canada, that they are illegal and "the next one of us to go down (to the U.S.) will have to pick up a shipment."

She said these devices, which require medical supervision, are readily available in U.S. drug stores.

The Criminal Code makes it illegal to sell, give or advertise any instruction, medicine, drug or article intended for use in birth control.

As an indictable offence, the penalty is two years in prison. For a summary conviction, the penalty is a fine of not more than $500 or six months in jail, or both.

Dr. C. J. M. Willoughby, an MP, medical doctor and seconder of last Friday's motion to legalize birth control, said "if the law involved was enforced, most medical men and druggists . . . would be in jail."

Six housewives in Vancouver, protesting the "hypocritical" law, have requested city prosecutor Stewart McMorran to prosecute drug stores there.

Spokesman Mrs. Helen Jorgensen said "it is a foolish law, it should be abolished."

The prosecutor said he is considering the request.

A high legal source thought the move was "primarily a test to show how nonsensical it is" to prohibit birth control.

He could not recall a prosecution for "years."

Asked why there have been so few prosecutions, he said it was because of "a general development of understanding."

Court Asked To Legalize Birth Control

WASHINGTON (AP)—The U.S. Supreme Court was asked today to declare unconstitutional Connecticut's 85-year-old birth control law, which prohibits use of contraceptives and makes it illegal to give advice about their use.

The statute was attacked in an appeal by Dr. C. Lee Buxton, medical director of the Planned Parenthood League of Connecticut, and Mrs. Richard W. Griswold, executive director of the league, from their conviction on charges of giving advice on the use of contraceptives. The league has fought for repeal of the state law for more than 40 years.

The appeal said the case raised fundamental questions of personal liberty and property rights. The state law, the appeal papers said, regulates the practice of medicine in an arbitrary, unreasonable and unscientific manner so that it "seriously restricts physicians in the practice of their profession and jeopardizes the life and health of their patients."

TAKE IT NEAT OR TAKE LESS IN INVERNESS

INVERNESS (Reuters) — The water supply of Inverness, main city of the Scottish Highlands, is so bad it "contaminates the whisky," town clerk James Cameron told the local health committee Monday night.

The water tasted like the chlorinated water in swimming pools, he said.

Dr. W. D. Wilson, the town's medical officer of health, explained the odd taste was due to work being carried out in the reservoir and that the water was "bacteriologically correct." The situation was "temporary."

FOR YOUNG ADULTS

United Church Forms New Group

By DAVE BUTLER

ST. JOHN'S, Nfld. (CP)—The United Church general council scuttled its young people's organization and created a new young adults program Monday in one of its busiest days since the 21st biennial meeting began last week.

To be known as Kairos, the Greek word for "meaning-filled time," the new organization will have a new philosophy as well as a new name. A report to the council by the board of Christian education had recommended the change.

Kairos had been in existence only a few hours Monday when it announced to the council that it had come to agreement with the Anglican Young Peoples Association of Canada to hold their biennial conferences as a joint meeting in 1966.

The theme of the new organization is to be "new era, new order and new life."

In a hotly debated session Monday, the council approved a recommendation that ministerial candidates pass a stiff medical examination before being admitted for ordination.

Also approved was a recommendation that students asking to enter the United Church ministry from schools outside Canada be required to take additional training if their standards are not considered by the board of colleges to be on a par with Canadian accredited theological colleges.

A report on ecumenical council affairs that cautiously recognized the efforts of the United Church and other Christian churches toward world union was heard by the council. "Our ecumenical experience with other churches with whom we seem to have more in common than with the church of Rome, serves to sober our judgment about the possibilities of growth toward church union," the report said.

"However, we believe that we must interpret the readiness of large numbers in the Roman church to seek after unity through repentance and renewal as a sign of movement of God's spirit in the church."

'Purge All Corrupt Elements'

SAIGON (AP) — South Viet Nam's Premier Nguyen Khanh and the generals who remained loyal to him appeared in firm control of Saigon today after failure of the weekend coup attempt.

Khanh's political future appeared to depend, however, on his acceding to demands of leading generals, including both loyalists and some leaders of the brief, bloodless rebellion.

The official Viet Nam news agency disclosed that 10 military leaders sent Khanh an ultimatum two days before Sunday's uprising. They demanded that the premier purge all "corrupt elements from the armed forces and civil administration" in the next two months.

The group also called for severe punishment of profiteers rather than the usual government policy of sending such persons abroad and insisted that Khanh crack down on persons in the government with communist or neutralist leanings.

Among the signers was Maj.-Gen. Duong Van Duc, who took over the coup attempt in its latter stage and then made peace with generals who remained loyal to Khanh.

(Reuters news agency quoted government sources as saying Duc had been relieved of his command and would be "arrested immediately if he tries anything more")

There appeared to be only a hairline distinction in the thinking of the loyal and rebel groups who wound up uniting in support of Khanh.

The main bond of the rebel generals was that they had been shifted — or expected to be— in the shakeup Khanh ordered under pressure from Buddhists, the chief religious faction in South Viet Nam.

Khanh appeared to be avoiding public announcements that did not have approval of the leading generals. Several of them, including Duc, sat with the premier Monday when he told a press conference his government's chief goal was to destroy communism, colonialism and neutralism while building through democracy.

About-Face Asked By Builder

A Saanich contractor should know within two weeks if his unusual rezoning application is granted.

J. R. Henson, who lives at 3750 Casey, wants rural zoning on a 9½-acre site in View Royal near Trans-Canada Highway and Burnett.

It is now zoned for residential use.

But there were no objections at a public hearing on Thursday, and the application is now before the municipal affairs department for approval.

His application runs flatly counter to current trends of rezoning rural areas for residential use in mass housing developments.

"It's a very nice spot for a farm," said Mrs. Henson this morning, "and we're looking forward to farming it because it's close to town."

She said the Hensons plan to run cattle and horses on the land.

West German Counter Spy Hit With Gas

BONN (Reuters) — A West German newspaper says that a West German embassy official alleged to have been sprayed with mustard gas near Moscow last week was almost certainly a counter-espionage agent.

The newspaper Bild Zeitung makes the statement following a formal note to the Soviet Union by the Bonn foreign office protesting against the attack on communications specialist Horst Schwirkmann.

Another newspaper, the independent Die Welt, reports from Moscow that Schwirkmann had installed devices in West Germany's Moscow embassy, which would give "painful electric shocks" to anyone trying to tap a communications line without authority.

Informed sources here reported earlier that Schwirkmann had detected Soviet listening devices in the embassy.

The official, whose life was said to be in danger during the weekend as a result of mustard gas burns, was described by a relative today as "improving" in a Bonn hospital.

A foreign office spokesman declined to comment on press reports about the case.

The foreign office announced it had lodged a "most sharp" protest with the Soviet government following the attack on Schwirkmann during a church service at Zagorsk.
